'Williams' Royal Crown Remedy Saved John Weir's Life,"

May be seen in large letters on the covers of the horses that precede the handsome Royal Crown Remedy wagon at Toronto and Western Fairs. To a Globe reporter, Mr. Weir said: "This is a most marvelous cure. I became pale as a corpse: my blood seemed to be turned to water. I had dizziness and a ringing noise in my head; my hands and feet were cold all the time, and my limbs were completely swoolen up to the body. Some doctors called it consumption of the blood. I got so weak that I could not walk, and finally took to my bed." Mrs. Weir says: "All M. Weir has told you is true, At times he lay for days unconscious and unable to take nourishment of any kind, and was reduced to a mere skeleton of 84 pounds; and I fully believe that if we had been one day later in getting Williams' Royal Crown Remedy he would be in his grave to day. So it may well be said 'Williams' Royal Crown Remedy saved John Weir's life. The best druggists keep Royal Crown Remedy, but if your druggist does not, remit direct to Isaac Williams Company. The disagreeable condition of the weather, however, prevented many from attending, but those who were present enjoyed the lecture immensely. Mr. Talling confined himself entirely to the first portion of his subject. The feelings of the passengers on the steamers as the Isle of Saints and the Island of Rathlin (where Bruce was exiled and first saw the spider), voted entirely to educational purposes in the world, and Mr. Talling felt certain that next to Glasgow was that of Toronto, Ont. The birthplace of Burns was visited, and so were Alloway Kirk (where TamO'Shanter declared he saw the de'el playing the horn-Joseph Amor and others, met the body of Bro. James Smith, which arrived in the city on the C. P. R. last night. Mr. Smith died in Preston after a long illness. He was a painter by trade, and was formerly in pipes), also the cenotaph, erected to the memory of the Scottish poet on the Doon. Tam O'Shanter's inn at Ayr was also pictured. The Auld Brig o' Ayr, which fulfilled Burn's poetic prophesy in outlining a bridge afterwards erected was, Mr. Talling said, over 300 Mrs. Summers, No. 24 Horton street, who years old, and was annually repaired from were among the other sights visited by the lecturer. It is a well-known fact to the leading physicians of Great Britain that much of the dyspepsia and nervous trouble now so prevalent is the result of drinking Indian and Ceylon teas so extensively. The medical faculty has warned the public through the medium of the press, the result of analyses, which shows in many samples analyzed fully 5 per cent of oil of tannin, an oil quite as deadly in its effects as oil of tobacco, or nicotine, one drop of which will produce death in five seconds. Both Indian and Ceylon teas are good in their places. but never should be drunk unless in the form of a blend with Northern China tea. On account, possibly, of cheapness the Ceylon and Indian teas are being introduced into Canada. Consumers should be careful to insist upon having it blended with a fine quality of China tea.
