It points out the road clearer than anything else can. There is more money to be made in Real Estate in London, Ont., today than in any other business where the element of risk is entirely eliminated. In a newspaper ad, we could give you but a faint idea of the numerous eligible properties we have to offer, but we will be pleased to have you call, the one who will give you full particulars regarding any property we may have for sale. Two points to remember. First: We have the properties and are so lected with great care for buyers' requirements. Second: We take great pleasure in showing properties and giving information, whether you buy or not. If you get better value elsewhere nothing on our part could induce you to purchase from us anyway. # Boers Retiring Everywhere

Except at Mafeking and on the Natal Frontier.

Nothing Formidable but Distance Between Warrenton and Mafeking—Boers Driven Out of Fourteen Streams—Capture of Winburg and Smaldeel Part of a Great General Movement—Gens. Hunter and Paget Unite Forces—More Praise for the Canadians.

London, Tuesday, May 8—4:20 a.m.—

The Boers are everywhere retiring before the British, except on the Natal frontier and at Mafeking, to the inner circle of their defense. They appear determined not to fight until the Koonstad hills are reached. Lord Roberts is expected to do another forty or fifty miles, and then to wait for a time in order to bring up supplies and to repair the railway. There are one or two hints in the dispatches from the front that he may rest for a few days at Smaldeel.

Fifteen thousand British are now operating on the western frontier of the Free State. As the deadlock at Warrenton has been broken and the Boers are retreating, there is nothing formidable except distance between Warrenton and Mafeking. The most hopeful advices from Mafeking on April 22 were that the garrison would be barely able to hold out for a month. At that time the fever was spreading. ENEMY GATHER AT LADYBRAND.

According to advices from Maseru, Basutoland, several thousand Free Staters are north of Ladybrand, where they have collected great herds. The district is rich in food for men, horses, and the Boers seem resolved not to move northward, but to be preparing to resist where they are. If they are let alone they will menace the line of communications after the main British army has passed into the Transvaal. Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener personally directed the artillery in the Vet River engagement.

Queen Victoria will send a signed photograph to Col. Kekewich, the hero of Kimberley.

Six thousand four hundred and fifty-eight troops are now at sea on the way to South Africa. No others are under order to go except as recruits to fill up the losses of regiments at the front.

DELAKEY COMMANDED THE BOERS.

A Smaldeel dispatch, dated yesterday, says: Smaldeel, midway between Bloemfontein and Koonstad, was occupied by the British today, without opposition. Several Boer railway officers remained to surrender. The director of the Boer commissariat pointed to two great sheds, which he said contained stores for Transvaal and Free State burghers. The two republics maintain separate stores and use different trains. Four trains with guns went north yesterday. A train from the north brought a Creusot gun, but it arrived too late to be of any use, and was taken back again to Zand River. Gen. Delarey commanded the Boers here.

A GREAT MOVEMENT.

Smaldeel, Sunday, May 6.—The movement that culminated in the capture of Winburg and Smaldeel was part of a great general movement, extending from Gen. Hunter on the west to Gen. Rundle on the east. Lord Roberts' central strategy resulted in placing everywhere five British to one Boer. Out of what appeared the inextricable confusion of divisions and brigades order was quickly evolved, and the Boers were compelled to meet Lord Roberts under unfavorable conditions. What is more important is that the British are now able to wait. Their front and strong positions are safe in the knowledge that their flanking columns will advance and outflank the Boers. Yet the Boers held a really strong position, from which earlier in the campaign they could only have been forced by hard fighting. Gen. Hamilton's arrival at Winburg, although not directly outflanking the Boers, made their position extremely uncomfortable.

Gen. Hutton's movement on the left was even more successful than at first imagined. Forty Boers were killed. The march today was short, but Gen. Pole-Carew's division marched fifty-eight miles in four days. Gen. Tucker's division is marching on our left today and Gen. Maxwell's brigade is to cross the river before night. Lord Roberts has been very strict in his examination of the farms, with the result of disclosing the fact that nearly every house is munition being found. If these had not been discovered the army would be leaving in its rear the material, in men and arms, for a dangerous movement among the inhabitants. All along the railways, the culverts, wherever of any size, have been utterly destroyed, but the engineers hope to make a detour in some cases, and in others they will fill up the gaps. Three of the four spans of the Vet River bridge have been utterly destroyed and it will be necessary to make a temporary line down the river bed, as at the Modder. Reports have been heard this afternoon, showing that more culverts and bridges are being destroyed northward.

AUCTION SALE

Sale at 10:30. NEIL COOPER, Auctioneer. 50c

London, May 7—7:20 p.m.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Smaldeel, May 7, 10:55 a.m.:

"Gen. Hunter, after defeating the enemy, May 4, joined hands with Paget near Warrenton. The enemy left thirteen killed and wounded on the ground, and we captured several prisoners. Our losses were slight."

"Hunter speaks in high terms of the gallantry of the geomanry under Col. Delarey."

"The enemy have retired from the front of Thabanchu, and the exceedingly strong position they held is now occupied by Rundle's division."

BOERS DRIVEN OUT.

Warrenton, Cape Colony, May 7.—The Boers have been driven out of Fourteen Streams, and the British are now encamped on the north bank of the Vaal River.
