DIED AT A DANCE.

The Grim Reaper Stalks Into a Ball Room and Claims a Young Man.

New York, Feb. 12.—The annual reception and ball given by the Kingston Club, a Twenty-fourth ward social organization, was in progress at an early hour Saturday morning, and the floor of Harmony Hall, at 145 Marion street, was filled with merry dancers, when an unusual event occurred which put a sudden stop to the festivities.

It was in the middle of a waltz, when the music was the liveliest and hundreds of merrymakers were gliding over the floor keeping step to the popular air played by the orchestra, when Death stalked into their midst and laid his hand upom Wm. Agnew, a popular young man of highly respectable family. The young man suddenly placed his hand to his forehead. A handsome new Y. M. C. He did not rally, and his friends, becoming alarmed, sent a policeman to call in a doctor.

The policeman sent to St. Mary's Hospital for an ambulance, but the surgeon who answered the call had just alighted at the door of Harmony Hall as Agnew breathed his last. It is supposed that death was due to either heart failure or apoplexy. The dancers quickly disappeared.

Died While at Prayer.

Englewood, N. Y., Feb. 12.—Mrs. Ellen Barlow died in the Englewood hospital Saturday evening from the effects of burns. Mrs. Barlow kept a fashionable boarding-house. She went to her room shortly before 9 o'clock Wednesday night to retire. She disrobed and was about to get into bed, when in rising from her knees after praying, her arm struck a lighted lamp standing on a small table beside her. The flame ignited a screen and Mrs. Barlow's night dress. She fell in a faint on the floor. One of the boarders heard the noise, rushed into the room, and extinguished the flames, but it was too late burns. Mrs. Barlow kept a fashionable to save Mrs. Barlow's life.

THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT'S TURN.

(Montreal Witness.) The organs of the Dominion Government are far from satisfied with Sir Oliver in our large east window a Mowat's reply to the Ontario prohibition-ist convention's delegates. They say that the Premier of Ontario does not fully commit himself or his Government, that when pushed by the delegation he retreated to another ditch. As most of these organs have shown antagonism toward prohibition, their solicitude lest the prohibition cause be betrayed is extremely touching and magnanimous. They will, however, be glad to hear that Conservatives will have an opportunity of showing the people of Canada what a fair and square pledge, free from suspicion of evasion, or mental reservation, or any other kind of political trickery, should be. The Ontario convention at the very meeting, and, indeed, in the same set of resolutions. determined to seek a pledge from the Dominion Government as well as from the Ontario Government in respect to prohibition. The clauses of the resolution upon which the delegation sought and obtained the pledge of the Ontario Government, and is yet to urge upon the Dominion Government the enactment of prohibition legisla. tion, reads as follows:

3. That a deputation be appointed to wait forthwith upon the Ontario Government, and respectfully request them to declare in favor of the total prohibition of the traffic in intoxicating liquor to the full extent of the power vested in the Legisla-

4. That a deputation be appointed to wait upon the Dominion Government and urge the duty of the immediate enactment by the Dominion Parliament of legislation giving effect to the strongly expressed desire of so large a proportion of the electors of the country, and making effective provision for the carrying of such legislation into practical operation. And that prohibitionists of other Provinces be invited to co-operate.

Sir Oliver Mowat's pledge was perfectly satisfactory to the prohibitionists, even the advanced ones, and even to the Conservatives among them, but we have no doubt that they will be glad to get from the Dominion Government a pledge as much more complete as the Conservative organs can desire. Sir John Thompson, with the assistance of that old prohibition war horse, Mr. Foster, ought to be able to "dish the Whigs" in this matter. No one would be gladder than the prohibitionists, Conservative, Liberal and Independent, to
