MEDS WAITING DECISION FROM O.R.F.U. EXECUTIVE

Matter Has Been Laid Before That Official Body and a Reply Is Expected Soon-Sarnia Will Likely Play One of the Games With Petrolea.

BY JINX. The local Rugby situation hinges on the decision to be handed down by the O. R. F. U. in regard to the Petrolea The local officials have stated the case to the O. R. F. U. executive, and a reply is expected some time today or tomorrow. Of course, a great deal rests on Sarnia's action in the matter. If Sarnia defaults a play-off will assuredly result. If the games are played, the best that Petrolea can do is to tie the Meds for the district honors. In that case it is up to the O. R. F. U. to decide who the winner of the district is. It might be that the O. R. F. U. will wait until Sarnia is heard from before handing down a decision. In that case a decision will not be made until next week. If Sarnia loses to Petrolea on Saturday, and it is likely that Sarnia will play at least one of the games, they are liable to default the next one. In any case, the district the case to the O. R. F. U. executive, will not be decided until near the end of the month.

OTTAWA WILL CHANGE LINE-UP FOR GAME WITH ARGONAUTS

A Clean Sweep of Scrimmage
May Be Made—The Ottawa
College Men May Play.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—The Ottawa Football
Club, with the Interprovincial championship at stake, has decided on several changes for Saturday's big match against the Argonauts at Toronto. They believe that they played far below their form in last Saturday's game against the Oarsmen, that they were outlucked and that they would have won had they used their heads at critical moments. Dr. Galvin heads at critical moments. Dr. Galvin claims, however, that the line showed unexpected weakness, and has planned to make a clean sweep of the scrimmage, Eddie Phillips, Con Kuhn and Eddie Emmerson, being replaced by Jim Kennedy, of Ottawa College, and Gordon Willis and Jack McElligott, of the intermediate team. They played together at today's practice, and did good work. The regular scrimmage played satisfactorily in the matches against Hamilton and Montreal, but they appeared unable to pushed through and made their yards at will Kennedy is a head player, and both Mc-Elligott and Willis should add strength and speed to the attack. Martin Kilt and speed to the attack will not be able to play again this sea will not be able to play again this sea. Son. Ottawa intends to make a desperate effort to win from the Oarsmen, and will be accompanied by two or three hundred rooters as well as a brass band.

C.O. FAIRBANK ON LONDON GAME

Petrolea Club's President Congratulates Western University on Their Fine Team.

To the Sporting Editor of the Advertiser: My attention has again been called to your sporting columns. The report of Saturday's Rugby game between London and Petrolea by Mr. Jinx, and the other comment beside it, are very far from the standard of accurate and fair reporting. It does not approach my conception of sportsmanship. With many others who favor athletics for boys and young men, and endeaver to encourage it, I admire clean and fair sport, also accurate and fair reporting of the contents.

I look upon clubs coming to our town somewhat in the nature of guests, and desire that they should be so treated, both by the players and the citizens and the press. I am not personally desirous of any controversy with any inaccurate newspaper reporter. I prefer to exert myself in putting the boys in the finest physical condition possible, and teach them to "strike the line hard, but strike it fair." The press can aid much in achieving this, but not by inaccurate and unfair reporting. our sporting columns. The report of

In Saturday's game two Petrolea men were penalized and two London men, and no man on game two Petrolea men were penalized and two London men, and no man on either side had to be substituted. Rather a remarkable showing on so slippery a field, so in this line honors are equal. Your statement that Petrolea had "everything its own way on the drawing up of the schedule," is not true. Representatives of London, Sarnia and Petrolea met in Petrolea and mutually agreed upon the schedule. They first drew lots for the Thanksgiving game. Sarnia won. Then

F. U. executive may jeopardize London's chances." Sarnia is not in the habit of defaulting, nor at all likely to, nor does Petrolea desire them to. They are our neighbors, and we want a friendly game for the love of it. Petrolea is not looking for defaults to win.

Last year, when all clubs were eliminated, and only Petrolea and R. M. C. remained, and a default would have given us the championship, we used our best endeavors to have the game, preferring to win the championship on the field, which we did, and it was a magnificent exhibition of fine sportsmanship on the part of the Cadets and our people.

The bare suggestion that London's chances might be jeopardized by my being a member of the executive is not in harmony with the facts, or with the ideas of any well-informed true sport.

LONDON HOCKEY TEAM WILL PLAY DETROIT ARENA SEVEN IN PRE-SEASON CUP SERIES

Negotiations Are Now Under Way Between Two Managements to Arrange Dates for Games-Will Be Played Before the Opening of O. H. A. Season.

Negotiations are now under way beween the management of the London Hockey Club and the management of the Hockey Club and the management of the Detroit Arena seven for a series this winter, the same as that of last season. It will be remembered a cup was donated by Manager Brown, of the Detroit Arena, last winter for a two-game series between these two clubs. London lost both games, one at home and the other in Detroit. The Detroit man is again willing to donate a cup for a series played under the same conditions, and the local management are more than anxious to even up for the defeat.

fore the O. H. A. season opens. The Detroit Arena seven have already started practice, and they have had a couple of workouts on the ice. They have arranged with the Cleveland team for a series of five games about the middle of this month. The games with London will in all probability be played around Christmastime. It is the intention to play the first game in Detroit a couple of days before Christmas, and the return game will probably be played in the Princess rink on Christmas night. It will be the opening game of the hockey season in London.

Weather Figures deal depends upon the weather. If it is impossible to get ice beweather. If it is possible to get ice fore Christmas, then the games will have to be played later on. However, it is to be played later on. However, it is probable that there will be enough cold weather before Christmas to enable the playing of the game in London. Geers May Handle McKenzie's Horses During 1913 Campaign

[By J. L. Hervey, in the Chicago Record-] of the all-conquering career [By J. L. Hervey, in the Chicago Record-Record-Herald.]

One of the most interesting pieces of news that has come to hand recently—and thus far It has not received much publicity—is that R. J. McKenzie is contemplating sending some of his trotters and pacers to Geers. It is said that the racing magnate from Manitoba at Lexington offered the "grand old man of the sulky" his pick of the entire aggregation in his stable, and that, while Geers did not do any picking, it is not improbable that he may be seen behind some of the McKenzie stars in 1913.

The one particular claim London made was to have their last game with Petrolea played in London. This was granted them, and the bealance of the schedule filled in as best it could be.

It was also arranged that points should count as deciding between any two clubs. This was necessary, owing to shortness of season. These schedules were accepted and signed by the various representatives. One other statement you make: "If Sarnia defaults, then the matter will like fact that Dr. Fairbank is on the O. R. F. U. Bad Management, Maybe. Why such a thing should be so is apparently inexplicable. A large share of it can, of course, be attributed to sheet it can, of course, be attributed to she bad luck. Many critics also attribute a lot more of it to bad management—whether rightly or not is a debatable question. Perhaps Mr. McKenzie has himself come to think that a change in that respect would be productive of good results, and therefore is looking Geers-

Geers Will Remain in Memphis. Geers Will Remain in Mempins.

It is doubtful, however, if Geers takes on any of the McKenzie horses, unless it is merely to do so on the eve of the racing season of 1913. For Mr. McKenzie spends his winters in California and has purchased the famous trotting track at Pleasanton, that state where his stable is Pleasanton, that state where his stable is wintered and prepared, not being sent east until a comparatively short time be Ilmited.

A Hoodoo On the Job.

A "hoodoo" of the most pertinacious and unshakable variety seemed to fasten itself to his fortunes from the very outset, and to this writing it is still "on the job." The tale of the misfortunes which have happened his horses would fill a volume, and amid them all there has been here and there only a glint of success to relieve the gloom. The brightest one has come this season in the shape of the campaign opens. It is certain that Geers will not go to Pieasanton to train, for he is a fixture at Memphis. Tenn., where F. G. Jones, who has long been his chief patron, owns the track, and conditioned his stable. The tie between Geers and Mr. Jones is a very close one and not apt soon to be severed. On the other hand it is very unlikely that one has come this season in the shape of his horses to Tennessee. fore the campaign opens.

The Best Advertiser in the World

A wise man said the other day that the best ad-writer in the world is "Friend Bill"—the man who buys the goods-the man on the purchasing side of the counter —the man who boosts or boots an article to his friends according to his own frank experience with it.

And His Name Is Legion

"I wonder if the Live Oak Hall is all right?" you ask yourself, and then the bright thought occurs to you, "I'll ask 'Bill,' maybe he knows."

And Bill does know and pronounces a verdict that all the King's English and all the fancy pictures in any other advertising cannot set aside.

The word of a friend to a friend—the straight opinion of one man on the street to another-that's real advertising.

And every great advertising success owes its spread to the influence of "Bill," in all his tens of thousands. For "Bill's" support had to be won first-and it was his word-of-mouth recommendation that did the trick. We've told you often and truly that this Live Store is a good one—a square one—It's also well advertised not in mere space advertisements alone-not simply in newspaper publicity-but in the host upon host of "Bills" all over Western Ontario that are ceaselessly boosting it.

It is because the Live Oak Hall has won "Friend Bill" -it is because it has "Bill" with it in every town and hamlet in this section, that its business has doubled in one year.

"Friend Bill" can tell you about that famous Square Deal Guarantee: "If they're not good we'll make them good, for nothing."
