Cathartic Pills,
 the purposes of a Laxative.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, not was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among every class of people. It is a mild and efficient purgative. The obvious reason is, that it is so easily taken, and its effects are so rapid and safe. It is a remedy that has cured thousands of others. Those who have been cured by it, will assure their neighbors and friends, what it does once it does always. It is a remedy that is given in the wrapper on following complaints, which these pills will cure:

- Headache, Indigestion, Stomach and Loss of Appetite, they will cure.
- Constipation, Biliousness, Fevers, they should be given in each case, to correct the disease and remove the obstructions which cause it.
- Gravel, Rheumatism, Pain in the Side, they should be continued to the relief of the obstructions which cause it.
- Such change those complaints, and restore the system. Hence it is often administered to children, and is a safe and reliable remedy.

Breakers Ahead!

The situation of this country is alarming enough to attract the attention of every man who pretends to a concern for the public welfare. Appearances justify suspicion; and when the welfare of a whole people is at stake, suspicion becomes a just ground for enquiry, if not for action. The publication of Lord Granville's dispatch has effected what months of reiterated warning and earnest appeal on our part failed to accomplish. The most obstinate sceptical are now convinced that Confederation is the immediate and inevitable destiny of this Colony; and the most candid and pugnacious are aroused to the danger of drifting into that political state without having secured to us those conditions by which alone the change can be rendered beneficial or desirable. The phraseology employed in the dispatch, taken in conjunction with certain facts which have come to our knowledge, justifies the opinion that an attempt is about to be made to withhold full representation from this Colony under Confederation—at least, with a form of government under which the people will be as thoroughly excluded from all participation in the management of their own affairs as they are under the existing system. This proposition is as alarming as it is important. It would indeed be a public calamity to have a representative institution appointed upon the revenues of the country; but that calamity would derive infinite aggravation from the circumstance of the people being still deprived of the right to participate in the government of the country. Let us submit into the consideration of this subject with candor and decency. This is not the cause of faction, or of party, or of any individual, but the common interest of every colonist. In the whole course of the Confederation controversy it has been taken for granted that this Colony would at once have conferred upon it full representative institutions, and consequently, little or nothing has been said upon this point. In truth the procedural of such institutions has ever constituted the rat and weightiest argument in favor of the change. The mere desire for change has been attributed to the colonists. Without pretending to speak for all, we fearlessly assert that the great bulk of the colonists are in favor of Confederation, not for the sake of mere change, but because they believe it will be a change for the better. But, deprived of this one feature of representative institutions, and the great bulk of the colonists will be at once arrayed against it. It is not a mere transformation of the supreme power from Downing-street to Ottawa that is sought; that were all, we would merely be exchanging King Log for King Stork. But it is that the people may be endowed with the power to manage their own local affairs that Confederation is desired. If, indeed, be a strange fate to give affairs in the officials, after opposing Confederation so long, "go in" for it now, and succeed in serving up such a dish to the colonists as will cause them to turn away in utter disgust. We remember when at school, the dominion, punished friends and dances by sharp strokes of leather thong, is sort of cat-o'-nine-tails, upon the palm of the hand. The hardest part of the punishment was his pitching the "saws," as the instrument of torture was called, to the culprit, as a Sultan throws the handkerchief to the chosen lady; the difference being that, while she carried it back to be kissed, the unlucky school-boy thus distinguished by his master's regard had to bear back to him the instrument of his own torture! It will, indeed, be singular if the colonists should find that the political change which they have been seeking and which they have brought to the brink of fulfillment, should be transformed into an instrument of political torture in the hands of the officials. To some, perhaps to many, these suspicions may appear ill-founded. We would gladly be convinced that there is no occasion for alarm on this point. It will be remembered how, upon visiting these Colonies, the representative institutions enjoyed by us, were withdrawn, thus taking a retrograde step. It is well known that a strong and persistent effort has been made to convince the Imperial authorities that the Colony is not yet ripe for representative institutions, and the ill-success of Vancouver Island under such institutions was not only made the pretext for their withdrawal, but has been constantly employed as an argument against their subsequent bestowal upon the United Colony. If such things have been done in the green tree, what may not be done in the dry? In arranging the basis of a larger union, the same arguments may be put forward now; and the proposition will all the more readily commend itself to the Colonial Office in that it presents peculiar facilities for the Governor to define the future position of Government Servants. It must be borne in mind, however, that the ill-success of representative institutions in the former separate Colony of Vancouver Island was largely attributable to the very imperfect character of those institutions. There was no sympathy, no connecting link between the two branches, and the consequence was a continual game of "sich" carried on between them. It should also be remembered that under Confederation the local Government will be relieved from all those large and more complex questions of legislation which would naturally devolve upon it as a separate Colony. The questions for provincial legislation will be of a local, simple, almost municipal character, and to assume that the Colony is not fit to assume the responsibility of legislation upon such matters is to insult and label the whole body of the people. As we have already stated, it is "just possible that the effort will not be made; but the subject is so serious, it involves such large interests and consequences that the people would not be justified in allowing themselves to be lulled into a false security. Immediate and decided action on their part will effectually prevent the consummation of any such outrage. There is, indeed, little to be hoped for from the Colonial Office, but an energetic appeal to Ottawa would most effectually prevent the political obnoxious of this Colony being turned over for another term of years."

THE REASON WHY—Many have been puzzled to understand why the Hon. John Ross should give up his position in the Dominion Cabinet to acceptance in a banking house. It will, perhaps, be a sufficient explanation to state that in taking that step Mr. Ross exchanged a salary of £1,200 a year for one of £10,000, and at the same time escaped the criticism and worry incident to political life. Alluding to this subject a Montreal paper says:—"It may be asked, however, what bank can afford such a salary as that above indicated? And the only solution of this question 'guessed' at is, that the house he is joining is in some way connected with Jay Cooke, who successfully negotiated the heaviest loans of the United States, and who will, doubtless, take a leading part in funding them. The conversion of some two thousand millions of debt from short-dated bonds to long dated consols, and from a high to a low rate of interest, will be a task requiring the services of the best financiers, on both sides of the Atlantic, and it is probably, with a view to it that Mr. Ross has been selected."

PROFESSOR MORRIS'S ESTABLISHMENT.—Last evening, after the Professor had concluded his admirable performance, the distribution of prizes commenced, and was provocative of much mirth. The plan adopted in awarding the prizes is this: Every holder of a ticket of admission is presented with a small envelope, every third envelope contains a number and every number draws a prize. Some of these prizes are valuable, others of a character that partake of the humorous. A young limb of the law drew a 50-pound sack of flour; a well known financier, a pair of lady's hose; a little lady of twelve a pair of castors to commence housekeeping; with a green grocer a pound of coffee; a West street man, a can of lobster; a local equisite, a Balmoral skirt; the Colonial office got a sauce-dish. Peter Fraser held No. 100 and drew a $20 piece. The drawing appeared to give great satisfaction, and when the Professor announced that he would play again tonight at 50 cents there was a tremendous round of applause. "Rain or shine" there will be a full house at the Theatre to-night.

DISTRICT NO. 2.—Mr. James Lowe is first in the field as a candidate for the representation of District No. 2, in the Convent District No. 2, comprising Victoria, Reginald, Metochio, Sooke, Lake, Saanich, Salt Spring and Chemaino districts. Mr. Lowe's address which appears to-day, does not treat Confederation as inevitable, which can only be accounted for on the supposition that it was written before the dispatch from the Colonial Office made its appearance. However, Mr. Lowe expresses a willingness to treat with the Dominion for terms, which is encouraging as marking the progress the good cause is making. But it makes very little difference, now, who among the popular members votes for or against Confederation. The officials hold up both hands in favor of it. No honest law would do so.

THE DISPATCH.—A writer in the Evening News deprecates the proposed memorial to the City Council respecting the postponement of the date of the dredger until after Confederation. We agree with the writer. The Canadian Government will never want the dredger; besides, under the Union Act, the regulation of harbors is left to Municipalities. How would the city of Victoria like to do away the expense of requiring the dredger, an expense that broke the purse of the old island Government? Let it remain as it is.

LOTS OF WATER.—The cisterns, wells, butts, and Harris Pond are overflowing with water, and the quality is of the best. The humidity which commenced with an Oregon mist on Saturday ran into a fitful shower on Sunday and into a regular drencher on Monday, has filled all the receptacles. The dry season may be said to have been completed.

MISCELLANEOUS.—A report upon the position of the Institute will be given this evening; when also, a Committee of Management for the ensuing year will be elected. After the election the members will partake of a supper in the room, tickets for which at $1 each are fast being secured. The meeting, which commences at 8 o'clock, promises to be highly interesting.

THE MAYORALTY.—A meeting of Mr. McDonald's supporters was held last evening, Mr. J. R. McMillan in the chair, and Mr. Craig acting as Secretary. The requisition to Mr. McDonald and his reply were read and ordered to be published. The names of several gentlemen were suggested as candidates for the Council and the meeting adjourned till Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

WISCONSIN'S GREAT WOODS.—The Wisconsin Great Woods Office will perform here on Thursday evening, at the lot on Johnson street, it having been secured for the purpose. The citizens comprise many talented performers, among whom are two African lions and their trainer. The troupe is far ahead of any that has visited Victoria.
