the methodist body on their union and expressed the warmest christian sympathy with them in their christian work.

Mr. Morris in moving the adoption of the report supplemented it with a few flattering remarks to the methodist body, and asked that a committee be formed to present the report to the methodist conference, which meets to-day.

The report was adopted and the moderator, Dr. Reid, Dr. Laing and Hon. Mr. Morris were appointed a committee to present it.

At the evening sederunt the overtures from the presbyteries of Brockville and Toronto in favor a publishing house were taken into comparation. Rev. Mr. Bruce did not altogether approve of the scheme, but moved that a committee be appointed to consider the question and report at the next general assembly.

Mr. McGregor, son of Dr. McGregor, followed with the advice that in this matter the assembly should hasten slowly. True the Methodist book room was a great success, but it took sixty years to make it

At this point Rev. Dr. Carry, church of England minister at Port Perry, who had entered the room, was invited by the moderator to a seat on the platform amid great applause.

Rev. T. Sedgewick of Nova Scotia con-Rev. T. Sedgewick of Nova Scotia continued the debate opposing the establishment of a church paper or a publishing house. He contended that a paper to be interesting and profitable would have to enter into all the public questions of the day on which there would be a wide diversity of opinion, while a publishing house would be in rivalry to the established booksellers already doing so great and good a work by private enter. so great and good a work by private enter-

The motion to appoint a committee to consider the matter was carried unanito the church, who had married his deceased wife's sister. The question was brought before the assembly and laid on the table, where it has lain ever since. He held that the church was bound to take cognizance of the deceased wife's sister case. He sketched the rules of marriage in the Roman catholic, the church of England, and other churches. He then stated that he felt that marriage with a deceased wife's sister was notoriously against the law. He held that all persons contracting such marriages should be excommunicated, or else the supreme court should make such marriages lawful.

The rest of the evening was taken up in discussing this subject without any point being reached.
