THE EUECTION LAW.—We are happy to observe by the Woodstock Telegraph, that the inhabitants of Carleton have taken up the important subject, and draughted a petition to be laid before the Assembly this Session, complaining of the many evils attendant upon this law as it now exists. Large bodies of people generally assemble at the Polls, who invariably differ in opinion—excitements are created-party feelings are engendered-and the elections very often end in disturbances and rows. The recent election in this county however is an exception, much to the credit of the people; but no one will deny the necessity of a new law. The following is an extract from the Petition, which we regret
