Racing postumes in France are very much behind our country, but they will gradually improve with the times.

Several costumes I noticed at the different meetings were very "old-maidish," and con-sisted of long pantaloons and stockings, very loose, and likewise a jacket to match, with no end of "scarf" wrapped round and round their waists, which must have been decidedly unpleasant for taking active exercise, such as bicycle riding.

The majority of the Parisian "cracks' wear worsted tights and jockey caps, and the jerseys with the monogram of their club worked upon the breast of the latter, which I should think was a tip from their champion, who introduces all improvements in the way of dress from our side of the channel.

I shall not be surprised to see one or two more of the English division taking part over there next season.

But I should advise them to be fairly good hands at trick riding, for the tracks are anything but pleasant, and also to beware of.— Bicycling Times.

Dedicated by the author to the "Noble Six Riders," who accompanied the tour from Aylmer to Buffalo. With apologies to Messrs. Gilbert and Sullivan.

If you want a receipt for that popular mystery Known to the world as a Buffalo tour, Take all the remarkable people in history,

Rattle them off to a popular cure.

The pluck of young Newsy a-tackling the trip
Genius of Latmuch discussing the hash,

The humor of Hep-ing (in giving them lip,)
Coolness of Morrison trying to mash,
The science of Westbrook in winning no fear, Wit of O'Little who wrote with a will;

The pathos of Harry (can I have some beer, Styles of the kid on "Clifton House Hill," The dash of Jumbo, as he cried suicide, Narrative power of a Reenlyspide.

Statue of Brock, Welland Canal, City of Brantford, St. Thomas and London,

Village of Aylmer and Mr. O'Litele,
Take of these elements all that is fusible, Melt 'em all down in a pippen or crucible, Set 'em to simmer and take off the scum, And a Bustalo tour is the residuum,

Yes, yes, yes, yes, A Buffalo tour is the residuum.

The New York Races.

FROM the Spirit of the Times, which never allows wrong doing in sporting matters to be winked at through erroneous idea of charity, we reprint the account of the late bicycling events in New York. We showed it to Prince, and he cordially endorsed the Spirit's com-ments on the character of the event in which he participated, and said frankly that he was heartily ashamed of the whole affair and regretted having entered.—World.

floor, nine laps to the mile, with tolerably easy corners. Referce, F. Jenkins; timekeep-scorers, H. Plummer, S. Austin, P. J. Donohue and W. Harrison, under the supervision of E.

With the exception of a few unimportant exhibitions at 6 hours or 12 hours per day for a series of days, professional long-distance bicycling in America has found its limit at 50 miles, and we have, therefore, a chain of new records from 51 miles to 257 miles, inclusive, also of hourly performances from 4 hours to 23 hours. These times and distances are however far behind the records in England, where 262 miles 938 yards has been ridden in 18 hours.

Our new bests-on-record are now as follows. Four hours, T. Harrison, 54 7-9 miles; 5 hours, W. C. Young, 67½ miles; 6 hours, 79 7-9 miles; 7 hours, 93 2-9 miles; 8 hours, 105 miles; 9 hours, 116 miles; 10 hours, 127 5-9 miles; 11 hours, 1391/2 miles; 12 hours, 148 miles; 13 hours, 161 2-9 miles; 14 hours, 171 5-9 miles; 15 hours, 182 5-9 miles; 16 hours, 191 hours: 17 hours, 2021/3 miles; 18 hours, 210 miles; 19 hours, 209 5-9 miles; 20 hours, 210 miles; 21 hours, 244 1-9 miles; 22 hours, 253 5-9 miles; 23 hours, 257 miles 100 yards.

26 January, professional match, 25 miles-J. S. Prince, Boston, Ih. 32m. 20 4-5s.; W. Woodside, Ireland, Ih. 34m. 423/s. The affair was for an advertised stake of $400, but this money was all imaginary, and themen received a stipulated sum for their services. They had agreed to a mear and compete, and were forced to do so or fo. it their salary, but each was willing to make he job as easy as possible. Woodside was en red in the 26-hour race, starting a few minutes after the end of 25 mile race, and, of course, would not tire himself more than was avoidable. So both strolled more than was avoidable. So both strolled around at their leisure, passing and repassing each other occasionally to animse the fools, until the last mile, when Prince went on and won by 100 yards. A gang of half witted striplings, who had known Woodside last year when he was an amateur, amused themselves and annoyed every one else by perpetually cheering and howling at the Irish-American, just as if it had been a galaxie and amore received. as if it had been a real race; and seven reporters of seven daily newspapers, each of whom knew facts, was home and deliberately reported the processsion as a genuine contest.

Amateur Wheelmen everywhere are cordially in vited to join the Canadian Wheelmen's Association. The admission fee is $2.00 or $2.00 for every five members, or traction thereof of a club whose entire active membership joins. Provided such club has a rule it its by-laws that overy member must be and remain a member of the Association as tong as he is a member of said club. Make checks, drafts or postal member of said club. Make checks, drafts or postal member of said club. Make checks, drafts or postal membery of said club. Make checks, drafts or postal member of said club. Make checks, drafts or postal member of said club. Make checks, drafts or regard to applications for membership to him. Write names of applications for membership to him. Write names of applications for membership to him. Write names of applications for membership to him. Write names a published in Tink Bicyclac, and notify the Secretary-Treasurer (confidentially) if any processional or otherwise object onable person applies. Information regarding the association will be sent to any address on application to the Secretary-Treasurer. Everymenther should endeavor to extend the influence and benefits of the Association by inviting desirable wheelmen to join.

The rules of the Association are given in full in the first number of Tine Bicyclac, and may be obtained post free by sending ten cents to the office. It is important that every member should be taminar with these rules.

All clubs and unattached wheelmen should subscribe to Tine Bicyclac, which, as the official organ of the Association, will contain all important notices to members.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 1st, 1883. No applications for membership in the C. W. A. have been received since last publication of THE BICYCLE. This is due to the general apathy in wheel circles throughout Canada. Most Canadian Clubs have signified their intention of joining the Association at their next meeting.

The Meditative Crank.

"In 'excling meditation fancy free."

"All quiet along the Potomac" otherwise Kettle Creek, not a very cuphonious name for our serpentine stretch of glistening is it? But, its the best we've got. Everything in the wheel line issodead, you could imagine the last trump could not resurrect it. But bide a wee, in the spring the young men's fancy will lightly turn to thoughts of wheel, and in the spring the young man's wheel will lightly turn him topsey-turvey.

I think the editor of THE BICYCLE should be reprimanded for allowing a correspondent in the last issue to cast reflections on the St. Thomas Club, through its representa-tive in the Buffalo trip last year. Our Club can't help it if one of its members wears big feet, they didn't make them. It's too late in the day to begin a "big feet" crusade, and kill off all bicyclers with pedal appendages over eighteen inches long. The editor of THE Bicyci.e must live.

However, the aforesaid editor is to be complimented on the Christmas edition of his publication. The Cover is an improvement, publication. The Cover is an improvement, it gives that finished appearance which every good machine should possess. The interior of his paper is well written, always excepting some alteged meditations, and I trust the publishers are meeting with their deserts, in the shape of necessaryshekels to keep the machine oiled and good running order. Adieu, more
