NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.
1873.

Now, as heretofore, THE TRIBUNE strives a first of all and preeminently a newspaper.

France a Republic—England and Germany gradually penetrated with Republican ideas—Spain swaying in the nervous grasp of a ruler too good for a King and too weak for a Republic, who is unable to govern the great island that blocks the entrance to our Gulf of Mexico, and equally unable to give it up—the German-speaking peoples agitated by a new Protestantism, separating from the See of Rome on the dogma of Papal Infallibility and assuming to recognize the "Old Catholics"—the whole Continent pervaded by the intellectual ferment that comes of the conflict between old ideas, philosophical, theological, material, and the advance of physical Science—Russia and Great Britain running a race for the final gains that shall determine Asiatic supremacy—China seeming ready to abandon her advances and reclose her half-open gates—Japan abolishing feudalism and inviting Western civilization to brood its Western commerce to enrich her long-hidden empire—such are phases of the news from abroad which the mails ever daily bearing to us. With able and trusted correspondents in the leading capitals, and wherever great changes are in progress, THE TRIBUNE aims, at whatever cost, to set forth the results of the most prompt, complete, and popular presentation of these diverse and conflicting movements, through all of which, as it fondly trusts, the tolling masses are everywhere struggling up toward larger recognition and a brighter future.

At home the struggle for freedom seems over. The last slave has long been a citizen, the last opposition to emancipation, enfranchisement, equal civil rights, has formally been abandoned. No party, North or South, longer disputes the result of the War or the Union; all declare that these results must never be undone; and with a whole people thus united on the grand platform of All Rights for All, whereof our bloody struggle, and the prolonged civil contests that followed, have led us, the public close the records of the bitter, late War. Past, and turn its eyes to the most alarming, and the most urgent, and the most vital problems of the Future. To what- ever may elucidate the general discussion or action on these, THE TRIBUNE gives amplest space and most impartial record. Whatever parties may propose, whatever political leaders may say, whatever officers may do, is fairly set down in its columns, with the news tips or hints of the day. Its readers have the right to an honest statement of the facts, and this they always get.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE, now more than thirty years old, has endeavored to keep up with the progress of the age in improvement and enterprise. It devotes the chief part of its columns to Agriculture as the most essential and general of human pursuits. It employs the ablest and most successful cultivators to set forth in brief, clear essays their practical views of the Farmer's work. It reports public discussions which elucidate that work; gathers from every source agricultural news, the reports of the latest experiments, the stories of the latest successes and failures, and whatever may tend at once to better Agriculture, and to commend it as the first and most important of progressive Art, based on natural science.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE appeals also to Teachers, Students, and persons of inquiring minds, by the character of its literary contents, which include reviews of all the works proceeding from the master pens of the old or of the New World, with liberal extracts from those of special interest. Imaginative literature also claims attention; but in a subordinate degree. "Home Interests" are discussed weekly by a lady specially qualified to instruct and interest her own sex, and the younger portion of the other. No column is more eagerly sought or read with greater avidity than that which, under the title of the Day, is elucidated by brief comments, in so condensed that no reader can deem it diffuse, while given sufficiently in detail to satisfy the wants of the average reader. Selections are regularly made from the extensive correspondence of THE DAILY TRIBUNE from every country, and its editorial staff of more permanent position to supply local news, the reports of the latest experiments, the stories of the latest successes and failures, and whatever may tend at once to better Agriculture, and to commend it as the first and most important of progressive Art, based on natural science.

For the family circle of the educated farmer or artisan, THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has no superior, as it proved the hundred of thousands who have, from it, found their best, most cheerful and enjoy it in the prime and on the down hill of life. We respectfully urge those who know its worth to command THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE to their friends and neighbors, and to paper it to clubs at prices which barely pay the cost of paper and press work.

HASTY CONSUMPTION CURED BY FELLOWS HYPOPHOSPHITES.
CARBONATE, NEWFOUNDLAND, Jan. 3, 1871.
MR. JAMES I. FELLOWS,
DEAR SIR: I came to this country in May, 1869. I found a countryman of mine laboring under some affection of the lungs. I recommended your Syrup, tried at the Druggists in Harbor Grace, but they thought I was inventing the name at their expense. However, in April, 1870, Mr. Edgar Joyce rapidly wasted away with every symptom of quick consumption, so that he was unable to walk across the room, having no appetite, pains in the left side, nervous system unstrung, dry, hacking cough, &c. Fortunately I learned that your Syrup could be obtained at Mr. Dearby's, in St. John's, and immediately procured some (showed one to W. H. Thompson, who ordered a supply from you at once). This was Tuesday afternoon; at night he took the prescribed dose, and in the morning he described the very results noted on the wrapper. His appetite soon began to return, and in a week or two it was, too; the dry, hacking cough changed into loose but violent attacks, finally disappearing altogether; pains left his side, his hand assumed its usual steadiness, and before he finished ten bottles his health was quite restored, and to-day not a more healthy person is to be found on our shores; and it is the opinion of all, had he not been fortunate in getting your valuable Syrup of Hypophosphites, he would now be in his grave.

It happened to be in W. H. Thompson's the day your first shipment arrived, and look at these four bottles to the Laborer, which he was very anxious to do, but had no occasion to use them himself. No other medicine will he ever prescribe, recommend, or give, but yours.

GOOD THINGS

GOOD THINGS will address itself to the young of all ages, from the little beginner, who can just read a picture, to the big boys and girls who study at the desk or shout in the playground; and so onwards up to the veteran who, after all their learning, turn to the children for a fresher wisdom, and after all their work, sit in the shady corner and read the old news over again in their heads. "GOOD THINGS" hopes, as a periodical, to have its margins well thumbed and dog-eared; and when the binder has run its course and made it fit for the library, the volume will try for a fixed place there in good company. The avors of a multitude of "goodies" cannot be set into a prospectus, but in

WILL SPEAK FOR ITSELF.
TERMS.—Yearly Subscription, $2.50. Single Number 25 cents, with Lippincott's Magazine $5.50. Libers Clubbing Rates. SPECIMEN NUMBER mailed, postage paid, to any address, on receipt of 20 cents.

THE FIRST OF JUVENILE PERIODICALS

Will continue to merit the claim of its title to be the "handsomest illustrated paper in the world." New portraits of eminent men, just to those already given of Herodotus, Euripides, Louis XIV., and others, are in preparation. Relations with home and abroad, social and domestic life scenery, this and other lands, events of the day, are among the topics which will be illustrated in the best manner by artists as Darley, Herrick, Beard, Dixon, and others. Each number of the paper will contain several or more finely executed engravings.

In the literary department, Dr. C. S. Robinson, whose original sketches have been an acceptable feature of the paper the present year, will furnish a new series, descriptive of life and customs in the East. On the occasion of John S. C. Abbott's fascinating "History of William the Conqueror" other historical sketches from the same master's pen will be forthcoming. S. E. Todd will give us designs of medium-priced houses, and how to build them cheaply. Contributions may also be expected from Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, Howard Crosby, J. G. Crandall, Cyrus Landin, J. E. Rankin, Frank M. Hill, and W. W. Whitcomb. Jacob Abbott, P. L. Noble, Mrs. L. L. Beers, Mrs. A. E. Barr, Mrs. M. E. Miller, Mrs. M. A. Denison, and other popular writers.
