

Haida and Kwakwaka' waka poles and house at U.B.C, honour First Nations in this our first Annual Report. They are an internationally recognized image, identified with Canada, and signal a commitment to seeking and hearing the voice of Indigenous Peoples in heritage, culture, Asia-Pacific, Hemisphere, and foreign policy issues. They are at the UBC Museum of Anthropology (Musqueam territory), Point Grey.