

of Scripture every day of your life, and not let a day pass that you don't speak to some one about spiritual things. If you do that you will never backslide. You have got to keep your own heart warm, in order to talk to other people. Just go right to work and do something for some one else. If you see a man in trouble just try to help him. Just a kind word may do him good. Go and nurse a sick person for one night if they are not able to hire a nurse, or, if the wife has been watching by the husband for weeks, just take her place for a night. In this way you will get hold of these families that are now godless and Christless. Then another thing: there is many a man that can be reached by a kind word spoken in the spirit of Christ. Just a little word on the street or when you are doing business, a word about the Saviour will have weight with many a man.

What are we doing to save these men? Come, my friends, let's arise and go to work. I heard a man the other night discussing higher criticism, and I found out he was living in sin. I said to him: "You ought to confess sin and get rid of it."

Now, mark ye. "He that winneth souls is wise." It doesn't say, "He that discusses is wise." I believe that is the highest occupation on the face of the earth. I don't believe there is any higher call on this side of heaven and you can all have a hand in it if you will. It is said of Napoleon that he had a medal struck off, on one side giving an account of the battle, and on the other side these words, "I was there." Long years after Napoleon had
