Up to October 1st, 1913, of the million dollar allotment of stock, $504,000 had been subscribed, leaving a balance available of only $496,000. Among the subscribers to the stock are found the names of prominent men and women from coast to coast, investors who appreciate the extraordinary future and the splendid field that lies before the Capital Trust Corporation, Limited. The list of shareholders is long, representing all lines of activity, demonstrating how the unique character of the enterprise presents a wonderful opportunity to investors of large means and of small.

Review Review the facts briefly:

1. The necessity for a Canadian intermediary between huge accumulations of capital deposited at low interest and vast sums needed for new enterprises and for which exorbitant interest has been demanded.

2. More than one half the available stock already subscribed by men who realize that the Capital Trust Corporation, Limited, will be the means of securing to them better interest on their savings, better terms on their loans and handsome dividends on their investment.

3. The net earnings of trust companies in Canada in 1912 averaged 20 per cent.

4. Estates aggregating $90,000,000 are pledged to the Capital Trust Corporation, Limited, as Executor, and these are but a fraction of the estates known to be available.

The measure of success of a trust company depends upon its sphere of influence and connections. The Capital Trust Corporation, Limited, by virtue of its affiliations, commands influences operating in every section of Canada and has connections with European institutions controlling large investments.
