CLASS LEGISLATION.

To Ask P. M. G. to Shorten the Hours of Postmen.

When President Edmunds called the Liberals of ward one to order in Dingman's Hall last night, at the regular monthly meeting, less than a dozen members responded to the call. The one topic which provoked discussion was the resolution introduced by Edward Doyle and S. T. Anderson, calling upon the Hon. Mr. Aylesworth to shorten the hours of labor for the city postmen. Several members characterized the motion as class legislation. The motion, however, passed unanimously.

GAYNOR-GREENE TRIAL.

Savannah, Ga., April 6.—Judge Spear today overruled a motion made by the defense to direct a verdict of not guilty in the Greene and Gaynor case. The outlook now is that the case will not go to the jury until about the middle of next week.

Samaria Stopped His Drinking

A London Lady cures her husband permanently of the drink habit and without his knowledge.

"How glad I am that I overcame my habit about writing you for a Free Sample of Samaria. At that time my husband was drinking very hard, and I was in despair. The effect of your treatment was immediate, and now our home is entirely free from the drink curse. I gave my husband the tablets in his tea, and he never knew. As the taste for liquor left him, his general health improved and is now splendid and many, many thanks. I will be glad if you will tell others of my experience."

Free Package and pamphlet giving full particulars, testimonials and price sent in plain sealed envelope. Correspondence strictly confidential. Address: "THE SAMARIA REMEDY," Jordan Chambers Jordan St., Toronto, Canada.

AUTO DEALERS WON'T SAY HOW BUSINESS WAS AT GRANITE SHOW

Some Reports Have It That Sales Were Most Extensive—No Statements Will Be Issued Until Show is Over.

Several prominent parties, figuring in an official or interested capacity at the Granite Rink Auto Show, made their appearance there last night wearing felt and cloth caps. Hitherto they had worn becoming silks, but apart from this diminution of lustre, the occasion last evening was in no way different from the preceding sessions.

Now that the show is nearing the last lap, the question asked is: "How hath it profited?" To the casual enquirer this matter is a closed secret. The automobile traders are banded together in friendly rivalry to conduct a show for the common good, and one of the stipulations of the general compact evidently governs the amount of hot air that may be vented in a boastful spirit. There is nothing said as to what business has been done, but there are more or less vague reports which credit the Dominion Automobile Company with having gobbled the big end of the proceeds.

Mr. M. A. Kennedy, the general manager of the Dominion Auto Company, was just leaving the Bay and Temperance-street garage when he was detained for an interview regarding sales. He was asked for a list of purchasers. "Well," he said, "if you want to say something in a general way I may assure you that the show has been a success, and there will be another one in the same place, probably next year."

"How many cars has your company sold?" Have you sold thirteen? It is said you sold thirteen cars." "I can't speak with accuracy as to the figure," replied Mr. Kennedy, as he put on steam, or rather gasoline, and rode away.

Up at the show there is the same cautious behavior. Someone said that forty Ford cars had been sold, and also volunteered the information that the Canada Cycle & Motor Co. had sold twenty-six Russell cars. The gentleman who made this statement seemed to be a demonstrator for the Ford runabout, and if he was not aware he was talking for publication then perhaps he may plead an excuse for not being strictly accurate. At any rate, selling forty cars is doing the biggest business of the show, and it's business the car ought to do, for it is the cheapest car exhibited.

When Mr. T. A. Russell, general manager of the Canada Cycle & Motor Co., was told the Ford man had said that forty Ford cars had been sold, he made a reply that did him credit, coming as it did right off the bat.

"If you intend to accept those figures," said Mr. Russell, "I would just like to point out that forty Fords at $650 each does not amount to as much as twenty-six Russells at $2500 each."

In introducing this element of cold calculation into the discussion, Mr. Russell diverted the interview from the main topic, and before he could be questioned further he was called away to demonstrate the car which bears his name to a party of prospective purchasers.

It may be taken for granted, however, that the biggest selling at the show has been done for the Russell and the Ford, and as the Dominion Auto Company are the selling agents for both these makes the general manager of that company, Mr. M. A. Kennedy, is entitled to the credit of having done an eminently successful business. After the show is over the dealers may issue statements showing the cars sold and the names of the purchasers, but just at the present stage there is nothing of authority.

John Wistren on the Spot.
The other exhibitors, such as the Dunlop Tire & Rubber Goods Co., the motor-boat people, the Krupp Steel, the Canada General Electric and similar concerns, have not been looking for sales. The Dunlop Company is satisfied because Dunlop tires have been held up prominently throughout the show and go into the season with an increased popularity. Mr. John Wistren, the general manager of the Dunlop Company, has looked after his tires as closely as Mr. Russell has looked after his cars, but as one has to buy an automobile before one needs Dunlop or any other make of tire, it happens that there was no particular need for a money-box at the Dunlop booth.

After the show is over Mr. Kennedy has promised to tell how things went with the Dominion Auto Company, and no doubt the other dealers will do the same. In the meantime the show runs another day and night, with good prospects for big attendance and attractive business.

NOT SO SERIOUS.

Semi-Official Russian Statement as to Far East.

St. Petersburg, April 6.—The position of affairs in the far east, according to a semi-official statement published to-day, is far less menacing than has been painted by certain papers. The Japanese evacuation of Southern Manchuria is proceeding actively and in good faith, but the statement avoids reference to Chinese relations or the possibility of trouble in this quarter. Russia is preparing to take up with the Japanese minister the definition of fishing rights on the Siberian coast granted by the treaty of Portsmouth.

WILL HAVE LIBRARY.

Burlington, April 6.—The Village of Burlington carried a bylaw to-day with only two opposition votes in favor of purchasing a site for a public library. The vote was taken with the understanding that a friend of the library promised to put a four or five thousand dollar up-to-date building on the land and present it to the village.

Why Fish is Dear.

Windsor, April 6.—Windsor people point to the immense quantities of fish being shipped to New York and other points in the States as the reason for the high price of that article of food.

DR. OSLER'S NOW FAMOUS REMARK that the average man had about reached his limit at forty stirred up a good deal of discussion. Whether it be true or not it is certainly beyond question that if a man has lost the whole or part of his hair it does not improve his chances in the commercial world if he is looking for or dependent upon a position.

A MAN'S HAIR

MORSON ALLEGES FALSEHOOD REITERATES FRAUD CHARGE

Lady Wilson's Agent Gives Evidence—Shirley Denison Exonerates Company.

Lady Wilson v. Toronto General Trusts Company was resumed before Judge Winchester yesterday. Counsel for the defence insisted that Lady Wilson appear and give evidence. Mr. Hodgins, for Lady Wilson, read letters from her physicians to the effect that it would be impossible for Lady Wilson to leave her home on account of her advanced age and precarious state of health. The judge decided to hear Lady Wilson's evidence at her home next Saturday, after which the case will be resumed.

Shirley Denison, who for a time was Lady Wilson's lawyer, was recalled and cross-examined by J. H. Moss. He said that Lady Wilson had told him that he had been appointed to protect her against the Trust Company, and that she had trusted his integrity, but had complained that he did not give her the whole facts. Lady Wilson knew quite well that she was drawing on her capital and had often expressed the desire to buy mining stock. Morson was then a mining broker, and had advised her to invest in mining stocks.

When asked if he had seen any unfair dealings on the part of the corporation, Denison criticized the management, but admitted that he had seen nothing improper.

W. R. Morson was the next witness. He is a son-in-law of Lady Wilson's, and has been married about four years. He characterized part of Dr. Hoskin's evidence as absolutely false, and stated that he was mainly instrumental in keeping witness from the books which he wanted. Under instructions from Lady Wilson, who had said that she wanted the estate taken out of the hands of the Trust Company, The statements of the officers of the trust company were false when they had said that witness became violent at certain meetings with Messrs. Langmuir and Reid.

Reid had told witness that interest was allowed at 3 per cent, but 5 per cent, was charged on an overdraft. It had cost double the expense to run the estate now, compare with the old company, despite the statements of Mr. Langmuir, to the effect that the Trust Company had reduced expenses.

In reference to mining stock, witness said that Mr. Plummer of the old company had bought 3900 shares of Scramble Gold Mining Company three months previous to the time Lady Wilson was charged.

"Not only was it a case of fraud, but the present officers knew about the stock being unloaded on Lady Wilson," he said.
