

T. EATON CO. LIMITED

EARLY CLOSING

To-day we close at five o'clock, but on Saturday we close at one o'clock for our regular Saturday half-holiday during July and August.

Men's Boots at Noon on Saturday.

For the benefit of the men who are too busy to get away in the morning, we have arranged this shoe sale at noon on Saturday. Quite handy to drop in on the way home from office, workhouse or factory and get a pair of these boots. A fine lot of up-to-date Summer Boots at one-fifth to one-half less than regular values. Ready at fifteen minutes after 12 o'clock Saturday noon:

336 pairs Men's Summer Laced Boots, including tan, willow, calf skin, Dongola kid and genuine kangaroo congress, good quality, sizes 5 to 11, regular price $2.50 to $4. Saturday, 12.15 p.m., for.....

2.00

Close Prices on Hot-Weather Clothing!

Thin, light, cool Clothing and Dress Needs for man, youth and boy. After all, the way you dress on a holiday has much to do with the way you feel. We can show you the correct summer dress needs in, an almost endless variety, both as to style and price. It so happens that some of these very summer needs are on sale Saturday morning at very close prices, which we are sure you'll be glad to take advantage of. These include:

Men's Summer Furnishings.

33 dozen Men's Fine Scotch Zephyr and French Cambrie Neglige and Laundered Colored Shirts; also Fine Imported Blue, Mauve and Fawn Zephyrs, with fancy bosom, in Parisian designs, attached and detached cuffs, open front, laundered neck and wristband, sizes 14 to 17 1/2, regular price $1.00 to $1.50 each, Saturday morning.....

.89

Men's Fine Imported Bicycle Hose, in navy and green, fancy turnover tops, all sizes, regular price $1.00 and $1.25 a pair, Saturday morning.....

.69

50 dozen more of those Pan-American Bows, the natiest tie that has been shown this season; it is made with band or on shield, the shield is covered with silk same as the bow, light and dark shades, newest fancy patterns, stripes and polka dots, special.....

.25

Men's Shirt Waists, fine colored cambrie, with laundered neckband and cuffs, latest fancy stripes and colorings, all sizes, special.....

1.25

Men's and Children's Straw Hats.

Children's Plain White Canton Straw Sailors, square, crown, large roll brim, bow on side and good quality sweatbands regular 75c, Saturday.....

.50

Children's Extra Fine White Straw Sailors, neat shape crown and curl brim, plain silk or satin bands and streamers, regular $1.00 and $1.25 each, for.....

.75

Men's Rustic Straw Hats, balance of odd lines, with fancy and plain bands, neat, stylish shape and leather awnings, regular $1 to $1.50 each, for.....

.50

Summer Clothing for Men and Boys.

Men's Summer Suits, in silver grey plain homespun tweeds, pure all-wool Italian cloth linings, made in single-breasted saque shape, sizes 36 to 44, regular price $8.00, Saturday.....

5.99

Youths' Summer Suits, long pants, single-breasted saque shape, made of pin-checked Canadian tweed; also All-Wool Fawn Homespun, good linings and trimmings, sizes 32 to 35 inch chest, regular prices $5.00 to $7.50, Saturday.....

3.99

Boys' Two-Piece Tweed Suits, double-breasted coats, knee pants, made of light brown and green checked Canadian tweed, pants lined, sizes 23 to 28, regular $2.00 suit, Saturday.....

1.59

Boys' Washing Suits, imported English Galathea, in light, medium and dark blue stripes, all sailor collars, some with white broad trimmings, knee pants, sizes 21, 22, 23 and 24 inch chest, special.....

.75

100 pairs Men's Bicycle Pants, sizes 36 to 42 inch waist, made of all-wool tweeds and homespun, some shepherds' plaids, small and large checked patterns, pure all-wool goods, loops for belt, side and hip pockets, some have extension cuffs, others with strap and buckle at knee, regular price $2.00 to $3.50, Saturday morning.....

1.49

The Toronto Daily Star Will Have a More Complete List

T. EATON CO. LIMITED

190 YONGE ST., TORONTO.

MISS O'Rourke Appointed.

She Will Fill the Vacancy at Jarvis Collegiate Institute.

A bare quorum greeted the special meeting of the Collegiate Institute Board called last evening to consider the recommendation of the Management Committee to appoint Miss Mary O'Rourke to the vacancy in Jarvis-street Collegiate Institute.

The few trustees present all had much to say. Some didn't think that the vacancy should be filled at all, others counselled delay in order that a new teacher be properly and thoroughly advertised for.

Trustee Elliott presented figures to prove that Jarvis-street Collegiate could get along with nine teachers instead of the present twelve. He was instructed in an average of 22.6 pupils each, while in Harbour-street the average was 20.4 pupils per teacher, and in Jameson-street 26. If no teacher at all were engaged to fill the vacancy at Jarvis-street there would only 26.2 pupils per teacher, which Mr. Elliott contended was not too large a number.

Other trustees wanted the report recommending Miss O'Rourke's appointment referred back, because Principal Manley has reported to the Management Committee in favor of a male teacher.

Trustee McCallum asked that Principal Manley's report be read.

Trustee Fraser refused to read the report in public, because it contained references to other teachers in the school. The amendments to refer the issue back were both lost, and the board, by a large majority, appointed Miss Mary O'Rourke to fill the vacancy.

TWO SMALL BOYS MISSING.

William and Robert McGrath Are Causing Their Mother Anxiety.

William McGrath, aged 14, and his brother Robert, aged 12, are missing, and yesterday their mother, Mrs. Bernard McGrath, 18 Hastings-avenue, asked Staff Inspector Archibald and the officers of the Mortality Department to endeavor to learn their whereabouts.

About three months ago William went to work for a farmer named Davis at Agincourt, and on Thursday last Robert left home to pay a visit to his brother. When he did not return Mr. Davis was communicated with, and Mrs. McGrath learned that her two boys had been there and had left together. Robert wore a black suit and a brown shirt at the time of his disappearance.

THE CITY RECEPTION CHORUS.

Applications will be numbered as received, and placed on the chorus lists, and the applicants will be arranged accordingly. Applicants for chorus membership will please state full name and address, choir or chorus represented and part sung.

Arrangements for chorus and orchestral rehearsals will be made known through the city papers, thru which required information may be obtained.

Competent amateur orchestral string players (to a limited extent) will be provided for on the orchestral platform, but will require to make early application to the conductor.

SINCE PARK.

Camp "Star Avila," situated on the beach at Since Park, was the scene of the great festivities on Wednesday night on the occasion of a reception tendered by the occupants to a number of their friends. The camp was prettily decorated with flags and bunting, and during the evening a fine program was rendered.

THE TORONTO WORLD

No. 53 YONGE STREET, Toronto.

Daily World, 25 per year.
Sunday World, in advance, $2 per year.

TELEPHONES:
Business Office—1734, Editorial Rooms—523.
Hamilton Office—1734, Editorial Rooms—523.
Telephone 1217. H. E. Sayre, Agent.
London, England, Office, F. W. Large, Agent, 145 Fleet-street, London, E.C. 4.
The World can be obtained in New York City at the news stand, St. Denis Hotel, corner Broadway and 11th-street.

THE PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS.

We are glad to learn from The New York Tribune that the Pan-American Congress is to be a meeting of free and independent states. The congress is to be a Pan-American Congress, not a U. S. Congress. "All states which participate in it will do so as peers. The U. S. is not trying to dominate it. It is not dictating its program." This is all very well, but there is a sting in the tail of The Tribune's article. In the concluding paragraph we are told that there is just one U. S. policy, which is expected to prevail, "not only in the congress, but everywhere in this hemisphere and at all times. That is the Monroe doctrine. But we have no idea that any of our South American neighbors have any objection to committing themselves to that." This is just where The Tribune takes a mistake. South America is Latin. The United States is Anglo-Saxon. The two are more closely related to Europe, commercially and racially, than they are to the United States. The United States will never get the congress to accept the Monroe doctrine, which seeks to restrict and discourage commerce between the South American States and the Latin countries of Europe. The Pan-American Congress will be by no means a meeting of equals. If the United States makes it a condition precedent that they must accept the Monroe doctrine, the South American states have protested against the doctrine. They simply will not tolerate it, as it restricts their liberty and places them in the role of vassal states. By the way, we again ask the question, what does the Canadian government have to do in regard to the Pan-American Congress? Since this country has invited it, if not, why have we been overlooked? Perhaps The New York Tribune will favor us with a treatise setting forth Canada's position as an American power and its right to a place in the Pan-American Congress. There is going to be some lively fun at that congress, and we are sure there to enjoy the sport. Will Uncle Sam kindly send us a ticket? We don't demand a private box. Any old kind of a seat will do.

DEATH BLOW TO FAKE PUBLICATIONS.

The United States Postoffice Department has issued an order denying a flood of fake publications the right to classification as second-class matter. The postage on second-class matter is 1 cent per pound. Eight cents per pound will hereafter be the rate on the fake publications that cannot qualify under the new order. The effect of the order will be to wind up most of these publications, much to the benefit of legitimate publishers in Canada as well as the United States. According to the order just issued, "the subscription price must be shown by the publication, and when it appears from the contents, or from the extrinsic inducements offered in common with it, that the circulation of the publication is not founded on its value as a news or literary journal, and that subscriptions are not made because of such value, but because its offers of merchandise or other consideration result in effect in its circulation at apparently a nominal rate, such a publication does not come within the requirements of the law for acceptance as second-class matter." It is expected that such a saving will be effected by the new regulation that it will be soon possible to reduce the letter postage to one cent. The catchpenny publications that have been aimed at have been systematically swindling the government out of millions of revenue every year by burdening the mails with a class of matter which the law-makers never intended should be considered as entitled to the rate of second-class mail. These same publications have been a great nuisance and a source of no little expense to the Canadian Postoffice Department. The Dominion of Canada will be almost as much benefited by the new order as the United States itself. It is now in order for our own postoffice department to follow the good example of the authorities at Washington, and refuse to accept a publication of a great and increasing burden.

THE TROLLEY IN ITS THIRD STAGE.

The trolley railway has entered upon the third stage of its career. First of all the trolley was confined to city streets. Then it extended to the country and developed the so-called suburban and interurban lines. Now it is entering upon a third stage, and that is the formation of thru trolley systems. Cleveland is the pivot point of the first of the proposed thru trolley lines. The Moore-Everett syndicate is forming a company of 100 millions capital to acquire and operate a trolley system running from Detroit to Pittsburgh by way of Toledo and Cleveland. The two terminals are 275 miles apart. The Cleveland Leader says that in two months it will be possible to journey from Detroit to Pittsburgh over roads under the control of a single management and for a fare that for long distances will amount to a cent a mile. Within the past six or seven years Cleveland has become the heart of a network of highly developed suburban roads which reach to all the important towns within a radius of fifty miles, and it is these roads that have formed the nucleus of the new system. Last spring the syndicate in charge of it placed contracts for 50,000 tons of rails, enough to build between 400 and 500 miles of track, and at the same time orders for motors with a guaranteed speed of sixty-five miles an hour, and a climbing ability of 10 per cent. grades and to make forty-five miles an hour, including stops. These motors were ordered for the line building between Detroit and Toledo, where it is the purpose of the promoters to bring their road into direct rivalry with the steam roads as a carrier of passengers and freight. While Cleveland is entering upon the third stage of trolley development, Toronto has hardly started in upon the second. We have no suburban lines such as exist in Cleveland and the other cities whose lines will form part of the new thru system. The experiment which the Moore-Everett syndicate is about to make in Ohio will be regarded with more than ordinary interest.

HE WAS TRIED BY HIS PEERS

Quaint and Picturesque Arraignment of Earl Russell in the House of Lords.

CONVICTED AND SENT TO PRISON

Will Spend Three Months in Commissions Apartments in Holloway Jail—Is Allowed Wines.

London, July 18.—The quaint ceremonial of the trial of Earl Russell, a peer of the realm in the House of Lords, with all the pomp and pageantry of ancient usage, yesterday, resulted in his pleading guilty to the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The trial, which was held at the High Court of Chancery, was presided over by Lord High Steward, took his seat upon the dais, and the trial proceeded with the charge of bigamy, and being sentenced to three months' imprisonment.