

ANXIOUS ABOUT THE MARKET

Property Committee Uncertain as to Future of the Trade in the City.

PROPOSED STREET CAR LINES

Works Committee Deal With Suggested Extensions and Cross-Town Lines.

The question of the future for Toronto's cattle trade is a very vital one, Mayor Urehart, in a lengthy message at the Council meeting on Thursday last, pointed out the necessity for some action being taken, and that at once, in order that the cattle trade might be retained by the city's market.

The meeting of the Property Committee yesterday afternoon had been called at the special request of the Mayor to deal with the question.

Worship explained that he had learned that the drovers and cattle men were of the opinion that the City Council were not doing all they could for the future of the trade, and that dealers were going to the Junction. He suggested that a circular letter be sent to the men doing business at the market, to the effect that the city intended to go on with the market, and not to have a good market as possible.

As to the site, the present site was not the most suitable, the Council would have to look for a new one, or some way to enlarge the present place, he said.

Ald. Chisholm asked the Mayor if he had heard of any inducements from the Junction people, and offered to the cattle men, other than the advantages derived from dealing in a larger market. The Mayor said he had, and Ald. Sheppard also said he had heard that the men had received offers to purchase their entire plant.

Chairman Dunn speaks: "If the committee were to consider for a moment the proposal to remove the market from its present position, a mile or so, he would not give a cent for the whole business. There was no site suitable nearer than the Junction, and the city would have no chance against the company there. He thought the idea of the Mayor's, to send a circular to the cattle dealers, was a first-class one, and that it would have the effect of putting a quietus upon the rumors that are at present rife in the trade."

Present Location Important. Assessment Commissioner Fleming said it would pay the city immensely, even though it did not receive one cent for fees, to keep the market in its present location. The centering of the business alone in Toronto would be of tremendous advantage to the city at large.

$100,000 of a Revenue. Ald. Sheppard stated that outside of all the money expended upon the market in the past ten years, the city had derived an income of $100,000.

Ald. Richardson was sure that so long as the G.T.R. stood by the city market, the city might be assured that the trade would not leave, but if they were to go to the Junction the city would be the loser.

G.T.R.'s Position. Ald. Sheppard: "So long as proper accommodation is provided for the cattle dealers, the G.T.R. will stand by the city market."

Requires Urgent Attention. The Mayor said that the situation required urgent attention, and that the illness of Commissioner Coatsworth there was no one in charge of the market at present other than a subordinate, and he moved that Assessment Commissioner Fleming be appointed temporarily. Some objection was taken to this proposition upon the grounds that the Commissioner already had too much to do. The motion was lost, and Ald. Starr moved that Superintendent Walker be placed in full charge during Mr. Coatsworth's absence, and to report as to what should be done to make it a first-class business venture.

At the Works Committee. The Works Committee had been called to consider the Engineer's report upon the proposed new car lines through the city. Several new lines are required, and the committee have to decide from a total of sixteen recommendations just which ones and how many are the most desirable.

A plan has been prepared by the Engineer, showing the proposed lines, cross-town, connecting with the Arthur street present lines, at Bathurst and St. Patrick, running along St. Patrick to Anderson, to Agnes, to Wilton, to River to Gerrard. Another proposal on this line was to run the cars down Elizabeth street from Agnes and then down Bay to the waterfront. Still another suggestion is to run the cars up Elizabeth street to Grenville, to St. Vincent, to Chapel, to North, to Bloor. These lines are for the purpose of relieving the traffic on Yonge street, and to cut the great stretch from Yonge to McCaul and the Bell Line.

As the Engineer's report was somewhat meagre as far as general information was concerned, the matter was referred back to him for a more detailed statement as to the necessity for the lines, etc.

Labor Men Protest. The labor men of the city, it is understood, will convene again on Tuesday next.

SPECIAL FRANCHISE TAX LAW

In New York State Sustained—Its Effects Are Far Reaching.

Albany, N.Y., April 28.—The Court of Appeals unanimously sustains the special franchise tax law, which amended the general tax law so as to include as taxable real property, the rights of street railroad, gas, pipe line, telegraph, telephone, and other public service companies in the public streets and places. Taxes assessed during the three years since the passage of the law amount to $18,142,884, upon an assessed valuation in 1902, for instance, of $282,017,700.

The court holds that the legislature, in creating a new system of taxation, embracing a new kind of property, never taxed before, had the right to entrust to state officers the power of making the assessment, and that taxing the special franchises and hence, that there was no infringement upon local self-government.

The many franchise companies affected will take the matter to the Supreme Court.
