Will Study Railway Construction and Operation In America.

San Francisco, Aug. 7 .- In pursuance of its yearly custom to send representatives to visit foreign countries and the commercial and manufacturing centers of the world, the Japanese Government has sent to America this year seven prominent army engineers and managers to study the latest railway methods and improvements. The Nippon Maur on Monday brought three Japanese railroad engineers, two railroad managers, one harbor engineer from the financial department of the Japanese Government, and one steamship operating engineer.
