Damage is still being reported by extensive lodging, rust and overflows. Food crops are a fortnight back, and only a very moderate out-turn is looked for. Our agent in Paris cabled this morning that the outlook is moderately unfavorable, with conditions against any improvement. Reserves are much smaller than expected, Russia.—Crop advices continue unfavorable in the leading growing districts. Rains continue in the southwest, and the southeast is still very hot, and much lower estimates are being made regarding the yield. Markets continue strong, with offerings light and an urgent demand for export.

Chicago Gossip.

J. P. Bickell & Company say at the close:

Wheat-Lower. Increased offerings of new winter wheat, with declining south-western markets, was again the factor for further liquidation, and short selling, closing values 4c to 14c lower. Market still has the appearance of a trading affair, and profits on long side on quick bulges should be taken. Foreign situation strong, and bears watching. On all sharp declines purchase. sharp declines purchase.

sharp declines purchase.

Erickson Perkins & Co, had the following at the close:

Wheat-Market opened a shade easier but firmed up on the strong cables. Local crowd were bearish all day, and were the best sellers, aitho commission houses were also on that side in a moderate way. Weakness in corn helped the decline in the market. Northwestern markets were about as weak as our own. The basis of the liquidation and short selling in wheat to-day was undoubtedly the pressure which it is expected the movement of winter wheat will make. The continued strength abroad indicates their belief in damage, and, while this condition exists, we prefer to keep to the long side, buying on the weak spots.

Gorn-Market rallied fractionally toward the close. We would exercise care not to sell on sharp broads.

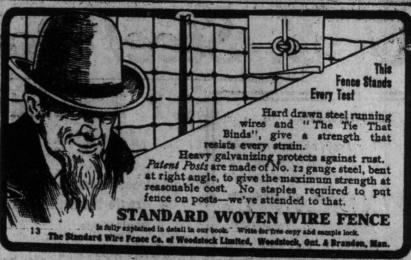

NEW YORK, July 22.—Butter—Slightly lirmer; receipts, 8154; creamery, specials, 83½c to 23¾c; extras, 27¾c to 28c.

Cheese—Steady, unchanged; receipts, Eggs-Firm; receipts, 10,188; fresh gathered, seconds, 17c to 18c.

The Western Crops. Local opinions are very contradictory regarding the western crop situation. Most of the brokers take a more sanguine view than has prevailed of late. They claim that conditions are not nearly as black as they are painted, and that has tendency to vergetate had never to ly as black as they are painted, and that the tendency to exaggirate bad news is very marked. One broker felt certain that 75,000,000 bushels would be quite a low enough estimate for the total crop. At the Manitoba immigration office the reverse opinion is held. The brokers could think themselves mighty lucky if they got 75,000,000. The southern crop was spoiled weeks ago, and a deluge now couldn't do a particle of good. It was 34too much to expect a bumper crop every year, and the country ought to be strong enough to stand a bad season now and then.
