A loquacious lady having called to consult Mr. Abernethy, he could not succeed in silencing her without resorting to the following expedient:—"Put out your tongue, madam." The lady complied. "Now hold it there till I have done talking." Another lady brought her daughter to him one day, but she refused to hear her or to prescribe, advising her to make the girl take exercise. When the guinea was put into his hand, he recalled the mother and said, "Here, take the shilling back, and buy a skipping-rope for your daughter as you go along." He kept his pills in a bag, and used to dole them out to his patients, and on doing so to a lady who stepped out of a coroneted carriage to consult him, she declared they made her sick, and she could never take a pill. "Not take a pill! what a fool you must be," was the courteous and conciliatory reply to the Countess. When the late Duke of York consulted him, he stood whistling with his hands in his pockets, and the Duke said, "I suppose you know who I am?" The uncourtly reply was, "Suppose I do—what of that?" His pithy advice was, "Cut off the supplies, as the Duke of Wellington did in his campaigns, and the enemy will leave the citadel."
