AMERICAN FLEET READY FOR WINTER

Base American Flotilla in British Waters, Oct. 8. (Correspondence of The Associated Press.) All American destroyers and men are now prepared for the winter. The issue of winter clothing to the men has taken place, and the fast little ships have been thoroughly overhauled and have had several "gadgets" added to their equipment, such as gun shields for the men operating the guns, non-breakable glass windows for the bridges, more crows' nests, and extra life rafts.

Thanks to the busy women at home who knit many of the men have been provided with excellent sweaters, jerseys and socks. Now, however, an entirely new issue of extra heavy garments, designed by the British, from their long experience on torpedo boats in the terrible weather off this coast, has been made. Here are some of the items: heavy woolen sweaters, heavy knitted stockings, besides heavy thick woolen socks for boots, leather sea boots, windproof khaki-colored trousers, great-coats lined with lamb's wool, and knitted mufflers.

Over this clothing officers and men will continue to wear their kapok life-jackets made in vest form. These vests, in addition to their life-saving properties, are very warm. Pillows and mattresses on board their ships are made of the same material. The men also had oilskins when they came over.

The men face the coming hardships cheerfully. All they ask is that the foggy weather be not too dense, while they are facing the perils of fighting the submarine under the vast new conditions of winter. Few of them have cruised in the gales that are peculiar to this coast where sleet squalls are hourly affairs.

As to whether the winter aids or hinders the anti-submarine forces is a matter of divided opinion among those in the British service. It is said that a comparison of the figures will show that there is not a great deal of difference in shipping losses between the summer and winter seasons. The long summer days which permit the U-boats to work long hours also help the destroyers in detecting them. The dark, stormy days of winter which enable the submarine to approach its prey with less chance of detection may also help the prey to escape and aid the destroyer in getting closer to the U-boat.

But this winter there are new factors in favor of the anti-submarine forces and against their prey. The most important is the addition of the American ships. Next is the all-around increase in effectiveness of the methods for dealing with the submarine problem. British and American experts here are confident that these measures will continue to show even more gratifying results in the winter months ahead.

Will Your Child Develop Nearsight?

Myopia—"near-sightedness"—is usually an acquired condition caused by excessive use of the eyes while they are growing. It becomes noticeable between the ages of 10 and 16, and unless it is arrested continues to grow until about the age of 25 years.

Use of glasses for a few years in childhood may prevent nearsightedness requiring glasses throughout life.

You ought to have Sharpe's optometrist examine your child's eyes now.

PROSPECT OF CENT CUT IN MILK PRICE

The prospect of a reduction of one cent a quart in the price of milk is held out by Commissioner Wigmore, who returned today from Ottawa. The best prospect for reducing the price seemed to lie in the present excessive cost of distribution and it is by reducing this that the saving is expected to be made.

For the working out of the problem, the conference has recommended the appointment of eight commissioners, whose work would be arranged by the division of Canada into three general zones and who would be assisted by local commissions in each place. The conference recommends that a limit be placed on the profit of dealers, the cost of the milk to the consumer to be based on the cost of production.

PURE RICH BLOOD PREVENTS DISEASE

Bad blood—that is, blood that is impure or impoverished, thin and pale—is responsible for more ailments than anything else. It affects every organ and function. In some cases it causes catarrh; in others, dyspepsia; in others, rheumatism; in still others, weakness, tired, languid feelings and worse troubles. It is responsible for run-down conditions, and is the most common cause of disease.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest purifier and enricher of the blood the world has ever known. It has been wonderfully successful in removing scrofula and other humors, increasing the red-blood corpuscles, and building up the whole system. Get it today.

In his study of public health work, Mr. Hall has been impressed by the successful way in which the provinces of Ontario and Saskatchewan are carrying on this work and he sees no reason why New Brunswick should not be equally successful in dealing with health problems. While the work of a provincial board is of the utmost importance the close co-operation of the local boards is essential to success in this work and his report will deal with both branches of activity. In his report he will state the result of his investigation of conditions in the province and will outline a plan for the work of the proposed health department to perfect and extend the work now carried on. He will also submit an estimate of the number of officials required for the work and the approximate cost to the province for an adequate organization of its equipment and expenditures.
