An Enthusiast
Brockville, Ont., March 18.—A curling record was established at a bonspiel held by the local club, by Herb Wright, one of the contestants. He began to curl at 4:30 in the afternoon and did not let up until four o'clock next morning. During that time he played six games, ten ends to a game, and an end meant lifting and throwing two stones, each weighing forty pounds, he moved nearly two and one-half tons down the ice. Mr. Wright not only played with his rink but substituted for absentees.

THE RING

Reich Trims Fritts.
New York, March 18.—Al Reich, former heavyweight champion, defeated Salor Fritts in the second round of a ten-round match here tonight, the referee stopping the contest to save Fritts from further punishment.

Fans Get Money Back
The $22,000 taken in for the Johnson-Willard bout, which was to have taken place at Juarez, is gradually being paid back to the fans who were willing to take a chance.

ATHLETIC

Olympic Games for U. S.

Paris, March 18.—The Olympic games of 1916 will be held in America instead of Berlin. This decision was reached at a special meeting of the International Olympic Committee in Lyons.

The decision is in effect a reply to the German suggestion that the games be held in Berlin as planned, only neutral athletes competing. The programme must include every one of the events in the Olympic Congress held at the Stade Sorbonne in 1916.

The International Committee has decreed that the 1916 games will not count as regular games, and the records will not be described as Olympic records.
Toronto, March 18.—When advised of the news by cable of the transfer of the 1916 Olympic games to America, Secretary Norton Crew, of the Canadian Olympic said that, while it did not correspond with his most recent communication from Baron Coubertin, he had no doubt that it was substantially correct. As to their official standing and the restriction that the 1916 games would not count in the official record of Olympics, it was an unexpected course.

FOOTBALL

A Sad Case

Lacrosse, Wis., March 18.—Herbert Cole, who survived a broken neck in a football game twelve years ago, had been committed to the state asylum for the insane at Mendota, his trouble resulting from his injury of long ago. Cole recovered so that he was able to take a four-year course at the University of Wisconsin, but this was followed by his collapse.

BASEBALL
Doesn't Blame Bedient
Hot Springs, Ark., March 17.—President Lannin announces that the has decided to release unconditionally Hugh Bedient, who it will be remembered, jumped to the Federal last year. "I don't blame Bedient very much," said Lannin. "No club in either major league or organized baseball seemed to want him for I obtained waivers from every club in both leagues. You can't blame Bedient for trying to get the money. He didn't do anything dishonourable or mean and was really through with the Red Sox. He had given good service to the club, and so I feel that the best and easiest way would be to give him his unconditional release."

Of course, Lannin cannot really do this just yet, for Bedient's case is one for the national board, and he must be reinstated before he can be released.
Pitcher to Wear Glasses
Even though he does wear spectacles when in the box, Manager Clarke intends to give young Carman Hill, an interstate pitcher of whom so many favourable things have been said, every chance to succeed. Hill goes to the Pittsburgh Club with a great record by the figures back of him and some men in

He said he is in good trim and feels confident that he can vanquish Prokes. He said he is willing to wrestle for a purse or for a gross percentage. He said if Prokes refuses to wrestle him he will consider him afraid.

FOUR REELS OF ACTION CRAMMED INTO TWO
Our aim is to be foremost in presenting only the very best in "War Subjects" decided us to screen "The Bells of Rheims." While it is only in two parts, it portrays the awful havoc created, and every inch of the film is crowded with action. It depicts the Germans shelling the cathedral, while the Red Cross is flying overhead and the wounded are being tenderly nursed within. Although it's a military production, there is a story of heart interest running through its entire length.

Good Horses in Provinces

Ontario breeders of the light harness horse have long considered the maritime provinces as unprogressive in that field of animal industry, but there was held recently at River John, N.S., a colt race which could not be duplicated in Ontario. It was a fairly event, in which originally sixteen dams were entered, and, as an indication of how the interest was maintained, seven three-year-olds faced the starter. The race went five half-mile heats before the black filly, Amelia, Peli, owned and driven by James Chisholm of New Glasgow, won. This filly was sired by Directum B., a son of Directum, 2,084, and its dam was Rutland, 2,217, by Bow Bells, 2,194.

tered, and, as an indication of how the interest was maintained, seven three-year-olds faced the starter.

"What was the cause of their quarrel?" "It's in the bill of divorce as extreme cruelty." "But he's the gentlest mannered man in the world." "I know, but that's the only way the lawyers could explain the case. You see the trouble all started when he didn't return her lead in a bridge game."
