IRISH LAUDED BY MISSIONER AT CATHEDRAL

Rev. George Mylett Preaches On St. Patrick And Faith

SHAMROCK MUCH IN EVIDENCE TODAY

Services In All Catholic Churches Mark St. Patrick's Day

Today, the feast of the patron saint of Ireland, St. Patrick, was celebrated by Irishmen in Saint John, as elsewhere. Special services were held in all the Catholic churches this morning and suitable reference was made to the life and labors of one of the leading figures in the history of the church. This evening in all of the Catholic parishes the annual St. Patrick's entertainments, the proceeds of which are for the orphanages of the city, will be given.

AT THE CATHEDRAL

An inspiring and instructive sermon on the life and labors of the saint was preached by Rev. George Mylett, C. S. R., head of the visiting band of Redemptorists here, at the 10 o'clock hour in the Cathedral this morning.

The sermon, which was delivered in a masterly manner, held the close attention of the large congregation which was present.

Father Mylett drew a parallel between the Irish race and the ancient Jews, both being driven from their home land and scattered over the world. He also showed how the lives of Saint Patrick and Abraham were similar in certain respects.

Touching on the birth place of the saint, the speaker said it was either France or Scotland, but no one was sure. He next dealt with St. Patrick's early life and told how he was brought to pray by his mother. He went to Rome to study for the priesthood, previous to which time he had been well educated in France. He was then chosen by the Pope to carry the gospel to the Irish nation. The saint found a religious people and baptised many on his arrival, later converting the whole nation. In his sermons the saint used the three-leafed shamrock to illustrate the holy trinity.

LOYAL TO CHURCH

From the time of St. Patrick the Irish had been loyal to the church, being the only nation that stood fastly withstood all kinds of persecution. Ireland, the speaker continued, is still considered the most loyal of nations. During St. Patrick's life he organized 365 missions, ordained more than 3,000 priests and consecrated 300 churches. He worked actively for 30 years and in the last 30 years of his life he directed the church from his own diocese. His work bore good results and many beautiful churches were erected and science and learning flourished in Ireland and the country enjoyed peace.

ADVENT OF DANES.

In the eleventh century the Danes came, causing terrible destruction and hardship. An Irish hero arose, however, in the person of Brian Boru, and on Good Friday, 1014, he drove the Danes from the island. During the next 100 years the Irish tried to restore the damage wrought by the Danes and were making headway when in May 1169, the English came and for the following seven centuries strife and struggle were rife in the land. But there was now hope, the speaker said, that Ireland would soon be restored to its place among the nations.

In conclusion, Father Mylett said he hoped the Irish people would be worthy of the legacy handed down to them of the privilege of serving God. One Pope had said that the Irish nation was the only one that had never caused the Holy Father to shed a tear and he asked his auditors to play the part of such a statement and strongly exhorted them to love their church and be firm in their faith.

The solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. William Duke, with Rev. E. Reynolds as deacon and Rev. C. Boyd as sub-deacon. His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc, was present on the throne. An added feature was appropriate Irish music, played by the organist, Arthur Goddard, on organ and chimes. At the three earlier masses large congregations also were present.

IN OTHER CHURCHES.

At Holy Trinity Church high mass was sung by Rev. F. Cronin. There was no sermon.

At St. John the Baptist church, high mass was sung by Rev. A. W. Kinsella. At Stella Marie church, East Saint John, high mass was sung by Rev. Francis Walkers. At the Church of the Assumption by Rev. H. G. Ramage, and at St. Peter's church by Rev. P. J. Kearney.

WARNED OF ARREST.

It was learned today that the New Brunswick Board of Public Utilities has been on the trail of Upper Canadian stock salesmen who have been trying to sell certain mining securities in the province without permission of the board. G. Earle Logan, secretary of the board, said today there was a man in the city from Toronto endeavoring to sell certain shares, and that a warrant would be sworn out for his arrest if he did not immediately desist. Mr. Logan said that the board had been active lately in stopping the sale of securities which did not meet with the approval of the board.

TOURIST MEETING

The executive of the New Brunswick Tourist Association will meet this evening at the office of the acting secretary, W. E. Anderson, Market Square. A report will be received from the association committee and the appointment of a secretary-manager will be considered. Those mentioned in connection with the position are Frank L. Peters, Hon. W. W. Wignome, D. J. Corr and W. E. Anderson.

MAN ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Duncan Wright Accused of Attack on Same Day as Street Occurrences

Duncan Wright was arrested on a warrant about 7.20 a. m., charging him with having assaulted Christine Mitchell in her house in St. Patrick street on Feb. 22, the same day on which two women were attacked in King street East and Carmarthen street. He pleaded guilty and was remanded for further investigation.

W. J. Ryan, for the accused, said that his client was under the influence of liquor at the time, and pleaded this in extenuation. One of the women who had been attacked in the street was asked by the police if she could identify the accused as her assailant, and she said that there was much similarity but she was not prepared to say under oath that the accused was the man.

His Honor said that in view of the fact that the offence now assumed a nasty aspect, he would have to remand the defendant for consideration whether or not the nature of the case demanded a punishment with or without pecuniary penalty.

Fiddle Gallant, who had been charged with vagrancy and remanded for consideration of sentence by Magistrate Henderson on Feb. 23, has been given two months in jail.

Wright was arrested while in bed at his home in Erin street. He had been out of town for some time and the detectives had been looking for him. The arrest was made by Detectives Biddiscombe, Kilpatrick and Ganter.
