JERSEY BANDITS GET L'ONG TERMS

Within 72 Hours After Arrest Are Sentenced on Five Charges

Carry in Wounded Leader-Instigator of Auto and Trolley Robberies Pleads Guilty by Raising His

(New York Times)

Robert S. Huse of Elizabeth on the night of Feb. 5 last, during the hold-up by the trio of three automobiles containing seventeen men and women returning from a reception at the Bathusrol Golf Clubhouse in Clark Township.

The bandit leader signified his willingness to plead guilty to the charges by reising his right hand as he sat propped in a chair in the centre of the courtroom. He was unable to talk because the bullet fired by young Schmidlen, who engaged in a lone pictod fight with the bandits, had plowed through his jaw and lodged in the head.

Several thorsand residents of Union County tried to crowd into the courtroom before the bandit trio were arraigned, but Judge Pierce ordered all spectators excluded. About 150 county officials, however, were in the courtroom when the three robbers were arraigned. They commented on the stoicism of John Krebs and Shannon as they stood before the court, and the apparent indifference of Charles Krebs, who devoted most of his time to rubbing his wounded jaw with both hands.

Shannon, who was a soldier in the World War, and was gassed in the Argonne, stood rigidly at attention as the Court imposed sentence on him and his confederates in the hold-ups which kept Union County in a state of terror for three months. The men displayed no emotion, even when Judge Pierce announced he would impose the extreme peralty on the five charges on which the men were arraigned.

Beside the hold-up of the party returning from the Baltusrol Golf Club reception, the men were sentenced for the hold-up of a one-man trolley car near Springfield, on Dec. 17, the hold-up of two cars on the same line and near the same place on the night of Jan. 29, and the hold-up of two automobile parties at Sast Rahway on Feb. 15.

"You have gone back into history 100 years to commit your crimes," said Judge Pierce in sentencing the men. The days of highwaymen have passed in these times of quick communication. Early arrest is certain. The wonder is that you escaped so long. It was foolish of you not to see that SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

The choir of St. Philip's church gave very pleasing concert last evening in the south end boy's club hall, for the enefit of the club. There was a good strendance and the music was much choyee. Key. Mr. Stewart, pastor of St Philip's, gave a five minute talk on the kespeare, citing the great poet as an aspiration to the young of today. He lso congratulated the South End Incovement League and expressed the detire of the people of St. Philip's to lend my assistance in their power. Mr. Medullam, the blind pianist, delighted the udience by his selections on piano and rgan.

audience by his selections on plane and organ.

His playing of the Second Valse Impromptu by Theodore Lack, and of The Little Soldier and his organ imitation of a band were heartily app!auded. The choruses by the choir as well as a male quartette, solos and readings were much enjoyed, and a feature were tableaux from Longfellow, showing Maidenhood, Minnehaha and Evangeline, with textreading by Mrs. J. Jackson. A. A. Richardson was an excellent chairman. At the end, A. M. Belding tendered thanks to the entertainers, congratulated them on the fine programme and spoke briefly of the aims of the boys' club with nearly a hundred and fifty members, urging the south end people to rally to its support. The programme follows: Instrumental selections, Mr. McCullam; choruses by the choir; quartette. Messrs. Berkeley and Stewart and E. Mitchell; solos, J. Sadlier, Mrs. A. A. Richardson, Mrs. Frank Leslie, Frank McAleer and Miss Ritchie; readings, J. N. Berkeley, Mrs. Frank McAleer; recitation, Miss H. Bushfan; tableaux from Longfellow. Four choruses were sung by the full choir of eighteen voices.
