The Old Deacon's Lament. Yes, I've been deacon of our church Nigh on to fifty year, Walked in the way of dooty, too, And kep' my conscience clear. I've watched the children growin' up, Seen brown locks turnin' gray, But never saw sech doin's yet

As those I've seen to-day. This church was built by godly men To glorify the Lord, In seventeen hundred eighty-eight Folks couldn't then afford Carpets and cushings and sech like-The seats were jest plain wood, Too narrer for the sleepy ones;

In prayer we allus stood. And when the hymns were given out, I tell you it was grand To hear our leader start the tunes, With tunin'-fork in hand! Then good old "China," "Mear" and all, Were heard on Sabbath-days, And men and women, boys and girls, J'ined in the song of praise. But that old pulpit was my pride-Jest eight feet from the ground They'd reared it up—on either side A narrer stair went down; The front and ends were fitly ca With Scripter stories all-Findin' of Moses, Jacob's dream, And sinful Adam's fall.

Jest room inside to put a cheer, The Bible on the ledge (I'll o'wn I did get narvous when He shoved it to the edge). The Scripter to expound: There, man and boy, I've sot below, And not a fault was found.

Of course I've seen great changes made And fought agenst 'em too; But first a choir was interdooced, Then cushings in each pew; Next, boughten carpet for the floor; And then, that very year, We got our new melodeon And the big shandyleer.

I went to ev'ry meetin' And voted " No" to all they said, But found my influ'nce fleetin'. At last the worst misfortin fell-The pulpit should come down. They laughed at all those pious scenes

I'd found so edifyin'; Said, "When the parson rose to preach He looked a'most like flyin';" Said that " Elijah's chariot Jest half way up had tarried;" And Deacon Brown sot by and laughed And so the p'int was carried.

This was last week. The carpenters Have nearly made an end-Excoose my feelin's. Seems to me As ef I'd lost a friend. "It made their necks ache lookin' up," Was what the folks did say: More lookin' up would help us all
