

Mexico's Legion of Patriots And Why They Exist Today

Story of Kidnapped Girl Throws Interesting Light Upon Political Methods in South.

When Diaz Began To Persecute Her Family She Joined Them In Exile.

St. Louis, Nov. 7.—Beautiful Teresa Villareal, called the angel of Mexico, by foes of President Diaz, lay for a month in a prison at Torreon, where she was locked up after being kidnapped from the Texas border by ruffians in the old tyrant's hire.

The amazing story of a woman's sacrifice, recalling the martyrdom of Joan of Arc, has been revealed here since her persecution. As a result of popular outcry, she was freed later. For a year the Villareal family lived as fugitives in St. Louis, where they maintained secret headquarters of the junta which they hoped some day would pull the tottering seat of power

TERESA VILLAREAL,
Sister of Teresa. She lives in El Paso.

TERESA VILLAREAL, Mexican Patriot Girl who was kidnapped in United States, Taken across the Border and Thrown into a Dungeon.

old Spanish invaders stamped him as a grandee. He had three children—a son, Antonio, and two daughters, Andrea and Teresa.

Diaz wanted to prey on Villareal as he has preyed on all rich Mexicans. His children were old enough to know what this meant when they argued him to help in the defeat of Diaz.

He traced his lineage back to the days of the Aztecs and of Cortez, and the mingled blood of the Lucas and

Weapon of Biblical Times In Use Today

The return to the primitive—Spanish slings men throwing bombs at the Moorish soldiers. From a photograph taken on the firing line at Melilla, Morocco.

Stolyin Explains His Policy— His Purpose To Develop A System of Small Land Owners.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—Prime Minister Stolypin has given an outspoken interview to his friend the editor of the Volga which is furnishing the text for much discussion. It is the first conversational setting that the Prime Minister has given to his policy in his three years of power, and it is published at a notable time.

The elections in the three leading cities of Russia have made it clear that the substantial and usually conservative classes of the population are strongly in favor of the Duma should be strengthened as a factor in the czar's political system. In Moscow the first "curia," the division of highest tax payers comprising the merchants of the first guild, the leading bankers, lawyers and doctors, elected a Constitutional Democrat by a large majority, and this taken as a conclusive verdict against reaction. It is after these elections that Mr. Stolypin speaks.

He compares the press of the interior—the Volga is published at Saratoff, where Mr. Stolypin was Governor—before a natural development of the interior—with the St. Petersburg political organs, to the detriment of the latter.

"Before all we have to create the citizen, the last holding peasant, and the citizenship will establish itself in Russia. The reverse process has usually been preached to us. The small farmers of the land, who are the most reliable support of any State and of civilized life, will be carried through to a finish by the Government."

"Hitherto the brightest career that a peasant could make was to become the village money lender. Now with the introduction of individual ownership of the land he can be the smith of his own fortune."

"Under our project for reforming the Zemstvos, the elective councils of occupiers of land, they will no longer be based on social classes and they will be based on an existing order of land lords will recognize that the farmer is after all the most important element in maintaining the stability of the empire."

"The revenue from the alcohol monopoly has declined this year by several million rubles. That is a feature to be welcomed as an unmistakable sign of the decrease of drunkenness. I know that on the Volga provinces the temperance campaign has left a marked influence. The kopeks that used to go on vodka are often now saved to make a deposit for land purchase."

In the effort to conquer the Rifians in Morocco the Spanish army has added a grenade slinging corps to the force at Melilla.

The slingers are hill dwellers from Toledo and Extremadura, where the natives are adepts in the use of the weapon made famous by David when he plucked Goliath between the lamps on the occasion of a certain famous battle.

The return to first principles of warfare was resorted to when the Moors began hurling hand grenades or bombs made of pop, ginger ale, and ketchup bottles charged with explosives.

It is possible that at the daily consultation at headquarters, some young beneficent will suggest replacing the grenades now used, by biscuits like mother used to make, or perhaps, more condensed Castilian vocabulary might be bottled. Either would explode upon the slightest shock and do incalculable damage.

workers, we need good plans, we need funds unstinted to radically change life for hundreds in St. John.

In this order as in others there is a form of bequest that will pass to us the money or property that can no longer be retained by its owners. That is well; but how much better to give with strong outward hand while life permits, to see blessings brought through it. Strong help can't come in a year and a day. It is slow work to rebuild or to reform a character. The married life can never present the beauty of what might have been. The bird with the broken pinion can never soar as before. How much better prevention is than cure.

Will those who read this consider the work and need of our order? Will you, "Help those women who labor among you?"

Yours in His Name,
ELLA G. HENDERSON,
President of the St. John
Branch of the Order of the King's Daughters.

But that does not meet our aims. These are the women could do better if we were less hampered financially, and if we were better equipped for service. There is need for earnest effort along preventive lines.

To the Editor of The Standard:—
Sir:—The thought has come to me that a statement of the plans, wishes and works of the King's Daughters in St. John may be of interest. Last spring our order faced a large deficit in spite of the fact that in public and private ways we had worked hard to overcome our deficit. We were not discouraged. We thought, perhaps, we were working beyond our powers along some lines. We had enough of the impressionable and mounding time. Remember that soon the boys and girls will fill the places of fathers and mothers. Truly "The King's business requires haste."

The Y. M. C. A. is a splendid help. Six hundred members! Think of it! How good it would be if the King's Daughters had just such a building, with its dormitories, library, baths, swimming pool, gymnasium, educational classes, recreation rooms. What a boon to the mothers and girls who look ahead before it proceeds to lay plans for the future, to study the question and try to persuade the nation that such a building would be of service.

All through the summer we have quietly worked for the sale and to the purpose holding this week in Keith's Assembly Rooms. We have met with response from those asked to contribute—our generous patronage. We have for generous patronage, and we will carefully ponder the best use for every dollar we make.

Committee work is beginning. Each circle has its own work, and we are to the motto "Look up and not down. Look out and not in. Lent a hand."

fare was resorted to when the Moors began hurling hand grenades or bombs made of pop, ginger ale, and ketchup bottles charged with explosives.

It is possible that at the daily consultation at headquarters, some young beneficent will suggest replacing the grenades now used, by biscuits like mother used to make, or perhaps, more condensed Castilian vocabulary might be bottled. Either would explode upon the slightest shock and do incalculable damage.

workers, we need good plans, we need funds unstinted to radically change life for hundreds in St. John.

In this order as in others there is a form of bequest that will pass to us the money or property that can no longer be retained by its owners. That is well; but how much better to give with strong outward hand while life permits, to see blessings brought through it. Strong help can't come in a year and a day. It is slow work to rebuild or to reform a character. The married life can never present the beauty of what might have been. The bird with the broken pinion can never soar as before. How much better prevention is than cure.

Will those who read this consider the work and need of our order? Will you, "Help those women who labor among you?"

Yours in His Name,
ELLA G. HENDERSON,
President of the St. John
Branch of the Order of the King's Daughters.

But that does not meet our aims. These are the women could do better if we were less hampered financially, and if we were better equipped for service. There is need for earnest effort along preventive lines.

To the Editor of The Standard:—
Sir:—The thought has come to me that a statement of the plans, wishes and works of the King's Daughters in St. John may be of interest. Last spring our order faced a large deficit in spite of the fact that in public and private ways we had worked hard to overcome our deficit. We were not discouraged. We thought, perhaps, we were working beyond our powers along some lines. We had enough of the impressionable and mounding time. Remember that soon the boys and girls will fill the places of fathers and mothers. Truly "The King's business requires haste."

The Y. M. C. A. is a splendid help. Six hundred members! Think of it! How good it would be if the King's Daughters had just such a building, with its dormitories, library, baths, swimming pool, gymnasium, educational classes, recreation rooms. What a boon to the mothers and girls who look ahead before it proceeds to lay plans for the future, to study the question and try to persuade the nation that such a building would be of service.

All through the summer we have quietly worked for the sale and to the purpose holding this week in Keith's Assembly Rooms. We have met with response from those asked to contribute—our generous patronage. We have for generous patronage, and we will carefully ponder the best use for every dollar we make.

Committee work is beginning. Each circle has its own work, and we are to the motto "Look up and not down. Look out and not in. Lent a hand."

AUCTION SALES

F. L. POTTS,

Auctioneer, Broker and Appraiser. All kinds of real estate, stocks, bonds, and securities. Office and salesroom No. 96 Germain St., Montreal, P. Q., Phone, 973. P. O. Box, 238.

T. L. COUGHLAN

Auctioneer. Office at 70 Princess St. Phone, 242.

FOR SALE

For Sale—The house, at present occupied by the subscriber, situated on College Avenue, a few minutes walk from churches, post office and Mount Allison Institution, together with lawn, carriage house, etc., and about four acres of land. House equipped with modern up-to-date plumbing, oil range, electric light. All buildings in perfect condition. For further particulars apply to FRED RYAN, Saskatoon, N. S.

WANTED

WANTED—Four energetic young men of good appearance to put a good thing before the public in the city. Salary and exclusive territory. Address A. M. Standards.

PUBLIC STENOGRAPHY

REAL TYPEWRITTEN LETTERS. In any quantity. Large, small, and extra small. DOMINION STATIONERY CO., 78 Prince William street.

SHOW CARDS

All the new things in show cards and window displays. Latest, up-to-date designs. HAMPTON'S ADVERTISING SIGNS, Phone 1989-31, 23 King Street.

Sewing Machines

New Home, New Domestic and other machines for $9. Genuine. Needles and oil, all kinds, employ no agents. Buy in my shop and save $10. Sewing machines and photographs repaired. Will Crawford, 105 Princess street, opposite White store.

Professional.

Dr. A. PIERCE CROCKET

Late Clinic Assistant Royal Hospital, London, England. Practice limited to EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT. 50 King Square, St. John, N. B. Phone Main 1164.

HAZEN & RAYMOND,

BARRISTERS-AT-LAW.
108 Prince William Street, St. John, N. B.
JOHN B. M. BAXTER, K. C.
BARRISTER, ETC.
(1 Princess Street)
ST. JOHN, N. B.

POWELL & HARRISON,

BARRISTERS-AT-LAW.
Royal Bank Building, ST. JOHN, N. B.

Crocket & Guthrie,

Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, &c. Office, Kitchin Bldg., opp. Post Office, FREDERICTON, N. B.

H. F. McLEOD,

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR, ETC. Office in the Royal Bank Building, Opposite Post Office. Queen St. FREDERICTON, N. B.

CITY CORNET BAND

Around the World FAIR
Commencing Tuesday Evening, Nov. 2, 1st Prize, Trip Ticket around the world, $500. 2nd prize, Trip ticket to European Con., $250. 3rd prize, Trip ticket to England, Ireland and Scotland, $150. $7 prizes, trips to different cities of the United States and Canada aggregating a total of $2,500. Tickets for sale at the hall and from members of the band. JAMES CONNOLLY, Pres. R. MCCARTHY, Treas. H. M. McQUADE, Secy. MISSION HALL, WATERLOO STREET.

SCOTCH SOFT COAL

To arrive shortly, another cargo of the Celebrated Scotch Splint Soft Coal. Leave your order at once, as good soft coals are liable to be scarce. JAMES S. MCGIVERN, Agent, 5 Mill Street. Tel. 42.

CECIL MACK (222 1/2) is offered for Sale by The Under-Gravel, six years old and perfectly sound; a beautiful road mare, and goes without riding of any kind. A grand matinee piece. Write to L. Frederickton, N. B.

DIAN NORTHERN BONDS PLACED ABROAD

St. John, Nov. 7.—A London cable stated that Mr. Wm. MacKendrick, of St. John, has been placed in the London market and that this enables the Canadian Northern trust at least 500 miles of next year. It is expected that the estimated loss is about $1,000,000. This will employ about 200 men out of employ-

UNDERTAKING THROWN OUT OF WORK.

Rivers, Que., Nov. 7.—The iron furnace works destroyed by fire early this week. The estimated loss is about $1,000,000. This will employ about 200 men out of employ-

MARRIAGES.

At 27 Concord square, St. John, N. B., by the Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon, D. of Doweyville, N. B., and H. C. Fraser, daughter of Mrs. Fraser, of City Road, St. N. B.

KING'S DAUGHTERS SALE AND TEA

At the Assembly Rooms, Thursday, November 11 and 12. Admission 4 p. m. Admission including tea 25 cents. Attractions in the evening.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

Members of the Lodge, In. O. F. O. of St. John, are invited to meet today (Monday) at 2 o'clock, p. m., for the funeral of the late Bro. John A. Wilson, P. G., of the same Lodge. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock, p. m., at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Wilson, of St. John. The Rev. J. W. Wilson, Secretary. Members of sister Lodges are invited.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

Members of Court Log (Cabin, I. O. F., O.) are requested to meet on Saturday, November 13, at 2 o'clock, p. m., for the funeral of the late Bro. John A. Wilson, P. G., of the same Lodge. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock, p. m., at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Wilson, of St. John. The Rev. J. W. Wilson, Secretary. Members of sister Lodges are invited.

PHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

ADD TO YOUR DIRECTORIES. St. John, N. B. Corporation, Robt. Seely, Sales Agent, 130 Queen St. W., St. John, N. B. Office, 130 Queen St. W., St. John, N. B. Office, 130 Queen St. W., St. John, N. B. Office, 130 Queen St. W., St. John, N. B.

WINTER Hats and Suits in all the LATEST STYLES

now being shown by Campbell & Son Tailors, 200 Germain St. Phone—2311. Prince William street.

Large Crowds Hear The Commissioner

Opera House Filled Yesterday at Revival Meetings of Salvation Army --- Commissioner Coombs Lectured in Afternoon on Prison and Social Work of the Army.

Public meetings in connection with the 27th anniversary congress of the Salvation Army in the Maritime Provinces, were held yesterday in the Opera House.

In the morning, commencing at 11 o'clock, a holiness convention was held. Commissioner Coombs preached an able sermon, taking for his text, "Where is the Lord God of Elijah." At the conclusion of the regular service, Lieut. Col. Pugmire, prison and social secretary, conducted an afternoon meeting assisted by Col. and Mrs. Mapp. A large number of seekers went forward and consecrated themselves to the service of God.

In the afternoon the Opera House was again crowded to listen to Commissioner Coombs lecture on Prison and Social Reform. Dr. J. W. Daniel, M. P., presided. At the conclusion of the commissioner's able address a vote of thanks was extended him on motion of Judge Forbes, seconded by Hon. Robt. Maxwell, M. P. P. Many were unable to get seats at the evening meeting, at which a revival service was conducted by Commissioner Coombs. The commissioner preached from the text, "How can ye hate?" His address was a splendid one and the people stayed until after 10 o'clock. More than twenty came to the mercy seat. The Frederickton band rendered excellent assistance during the services.

The Lecture in the Afternoon. The afternoon meeting in the Opera House at which Commissioner Coombs lectured was very largely attended. Dr. J. W. Daniel, M. P., presided, and among those on the platform were—Hon. Robt. Maxwell, M. P. P., Judge Forbes, Dr. T. D. Walker, Mr. C. N. Skinner, Mr. J. King Kelley, M. P. H. E. Codner, Mr. L. D. P. Tilley, Mr. G. A. Henderson, Mr. D. J. Purdy, Mr. E. H. McAlpine, Dr. H. S. Bridges, Rev. A. A. McGrath, Rev. H. D. Marr, Rev. C. R. Flinders, and Rev. Joseph Gibbs. The meeting was opened with a short religious service led by Col. Mapp, chief secretary of the Army in Canada. At its conclusion, Col. Mapp that had been left by the churches and it knew how to do its work. Its Christianity was practical and it gave a helping hand to those who needed it most. The Army showed its faith by its works. It has never been content, like many organizations, to pass resolutions asking the Government to do this and that, but it went ahead with its work and obtained results.

COMMISSIONER COOMBS.

Continued on Page 6.