NEW TRIUMPHS FOR AVIATORS

Leon Morane Ascends 6,692 Feet At Havre—Has Entered at Boston Meet With Two Compatriots.

Havre, Aug. 29.—In a flight in a monoplane here today, Leon Morane, a Frenchman, ascended to a height of 6692 feet. At first it was claimed that he had gone up 6839 feet but on a revision of the figures the judges found that he had reached only 6692 feet. They claim, however, that this constitutes a world's record, as the flight of 6750 feet by J. Armstrong Drexel, the American aviator at Lanark, Scotland, Aug. 12, has never been officially ratified.

Boston Entries. The entries of Leon Morane, M. Auburn, and M. Simon, three distinguished French aviators, were received today by cable by the contest committee of the Harvard-Boston aero meet which will be held at Atlantic, Sept. 3-13 under the auspices of the aeronautic society of Harvard university. Morane who has already won many notable events, is expected to make a new world's record for altitude, rising to 6692 feet, at Havre. He will meet a worthy opponent at the Harvard aviation field in Brookline, the Wright brothers' pupil, who previously held the record with 6175 feet.

Another entry received today was that of Garden C. Hubbard, who will fly the first monoplane ever used in this country. Mr. Hubbard has made a great number of flights at Cape-Breton, N. S., under the direction of Prof. Alexander Graham Bell. Miss Eleanor Sears, the society athlete and all round sportswoman, of Boston, upon receiving an invitation to make a single ascension with Chas. E. Willard, expressed a desire to be the first American woman to learn the art of navigating an aeroplane. As a result arrangements are being made for Miss Sears to go up once each day of the meet and possibly oftener with Mr. Willard.

COTTON NEVER HIGHER SINCE CIVIL WAR

20 Cents Paid on New York Market.

Bull Leaders Make Great Showing And Still Hold 100,000 Bales—Culmination Of Six Months Movement.

New York, August 29.—August cotton sold at 20 cents a pound in the New York cotton market today, an urgent demand from speculative shorts who had postponed covering until the last moment, in the hope that the increasing new crop movement in the southwest might break the control of the bull leaders. This price, the highest reached by cotton for any delivery since the civil war, and exceeding by nearly 2 1/2 cents per pound the highest figure reached in the famous bull year of 1908-09, which until now had stood as a standard of comparison, was regarded by many as the culminating point of the bull movement in progress here for the past six months during a season which goes down as the most spectacular in the annals of the cotton trade since war times.

Not a great many bales, perhaps 15,000 actually changed hands on the advance from 16.82, the closing price of last week, to 20 cents for August this morning. At 20 cents an offer from W. P. Brown, one of the bull leaders, to sell 100,000 bales checked the upward movement, and it was the general impression around the ring that this was a fixed in the open market as a basis for settlement of the entire August interest remaining. At the close, August was quoted at 19.75, only 4 to 9 points higher. In the local spot markets the price was marked up to 12.75, but the southern spot markets showed no such gain, the greatest gain recorded being 3-8 cents at Savannah, showing the local character of the extensive advance.

Profits Unknown. No one has attempted any accurate figuring of the profits of the big bull leaders, Brown, Eugene Scates and Frank B. Hayes, all of whom were under indictment, charged with conspiring in restraint of trade in connection with the bull pool. In all the bull leaders have handled spot cotton to the amount of 800,000 bales, valued approximately at $80,000,000. But the bulk of this has been shipped abroad, and just how much of it has been actually sold, and how much of it may be now held on consignment at foreign points, is uncertain. In the New York stock they still own about 100,000 bales.

Rumors circulating in the trade after the close of business today were that there was still a considerable August short interest, outstanding which has until now Wednesday cover. For the past three or four months, the bull campaign in the old crop, though based chiefly upon the fact that the crop grown during the summer and autumn of 1909 was 3,900,000 bales under normal requirements, has had the encouragement of every unfavorable report from the coming crop and predictions that the world was facing a future inadequate supply.

INSANE MAN KILLED WIFE AND HIMSELF

Gustave Merkt, Of Toronto, Released From Asylum, Ends Life With Double Tragedy.

BOTH WERE KILLED ALMOST INSTANTLY

Special to The Standard. Toronto, Ont., Aug. 29.—Gustave Merkt, an inmate of the Queen Street Asylum, but considered to be absolutely harmless, shot and killed his wife at her residence, 10 Robert street, shortly before noon today, and then sent a bullet into his own brain. Merkt, who was 32 years of age, was committed to the asylum several months ago after his arrest, on a charge of indecent assault on a young boy.

At the trial doctors declared that Merkt was insane. Since his commitment to the asylum he had been so quiet and peaceful that the authorities allowed him to come and go as he pleased. This morning he went out in the usual manner and the tragedy followed. What was the immediate cause of the shooting will probably never be known. The only other person in the house was Harry K. Clark, an employee of the G. N. W. Telegraph Company, who was a boarder.

Clark had been at work all night and was sleeping upstairs. He was awakened by two shots but paid no attention, thinking some boys were target shooting in the yard behind the house. About ten minutes later he heard another shot coming from the parlor and rushing down stairs he found the body of the old man lying on the parlor floor and that of Mrs. Merkt on the floor of the kitchen. There were bullet wounds in the heads of both. Merkt's only child, a daughter named Lottie, who worked down town, came into the house at the same time.

On the parlor table was found the following note evidently written by Merkt after shooting his wife: To the public and press: Several of the neighbors who had known the dead woman for years, stated that Mrs. Merkt was a very estimable hardworking woman and that there could be no better proof of her husband's insanity than the wording of the above note.

An inquest is being held to ascertain why Merkt was allowed to leave the asylum.

TAKES MOVING PICTURES OF N.B. FROM LIFE

To Advertise Province in England

C. P. R. Official In City On Important Mission Commends Work Of Provincial Government.

Working in conjunction with the Provincial Government immigration officials, the Canadian publicist agent of London, England, J. M. Givan, spent the initial day of his Canadian Cinematograph collecting tour in this city yesterday.

Mr. Givan has come direct from London where he is a frequent visitor at the New Brunswick emigration offices, and he has many words of praise concerning the personality of Mr. Bowdler, the efficiency of the work accomplished and the appointments of the office provided by the local government. The aggressive character of the New Brunswick advertising campaign in the British Isles is already the cause for much favorable comment. Mr. Givan arrived in Montreal Saturday, and will spend about two weeks in Canada taking photographs of the scenic portions of the different provinces for the entertainment and instruction of the British public, with the object of persuading at least some of them to make their future homes in this new country. It is very fitting that the first photographs of the tour should be taken at the Winter Quay and the harbor of St. John, by which so many of the Old Country people pass into their adopted country. Should form the first in a series of pictures depicting the glories of Canada.

Several views of the region of Martello Tower, the reversing falls, the harbor and other points of interest were taken yesterday by Mr. Givan, assisted by A. B. Wilnot, the local superintendent of immigration. They left last evening for Fredericton with the purpose of taking some St. John Valley and other provincial views.

In an interview Mr. Givan said he was very much impressed with the effectiveness of the views taken of the reversing falls as a sample of Canadian industry in the shape of pulp and lumber mills formed an excellent background.

I have been very much pleased with the assistance which has been tendered me by Mr. Wilnot, the local official who has pointed out the points of interest of the province while in New Brunswick taking the cinematograph. The number which he can obtain during the short time allotted to us depends entirely upon him. There is a great demand for the pictures of Canadian scenes such as we hope to obtain in our two weeks' tour, among British moving picture and newspaper companies, as Britain is waking up to the value of this country as a colonization centre and many well-to-do people are interested.

We have a Canadian Pacific publicity staff of ten persons who are engaged in advertising Canada in Ireland, Scotland, England and Wales. The north of Ireland and Scotland provide many practical farmers seeking Canadian homes. The Scotch farmers are the best settlers as they are well grounded in the sciences which underlie the

2 DROWNED IN CHILD'S RESCUE

Mother And Unknown Men Go To Watery Grave In Jamaica

Pand While Another Woman Achieved Rescue.

Boston, Aug. 27.—A mother gave her life in an attempt to save the life of her child who had fallen into Jamaica Pond late today, and a stranger was drowned while trying to save the mother. The child was rescued by another woman.

Mrs. Catherine Fogarty had her two children, Marie, two years old, and an infant, with her in the parkway for an outing. On the shore of the pond they stopped to rest. Mrs. Fogarty had the infant in her lap while little Marie was seated in a baby carriage. In playing in the carriage Marie moved so violently as to start the wheels going, and before the mother could stop it the baby carriage had rolled into the pond. Putting the baby on the ground, Mrs. Fogarty immediately jumped into the water. The depth was so great at that point, however, that she was unable to catch hold of the little girl and losing her footing sank beneath the surface. Meanwhile her cries had been heard by a number of persons and a man about 60 years of age whose name could not be feared at the time, leaped into the pond and seized Mrs. Fogarty. His strength proved insufficient to pull her to shore and his efforts so exhausted him that he too sank to his death.

Miss Martha Daley a maid employed at a doctor's residence near by, reached the shore of the pond at the same time as the elderly stranger. Quickly, but carefully lowering herself into the water, she snatched the little girl and carried her to the bank. Others had reached the scene by this time and Miss Daley and the child were taken to the nearest police station, where they were provided with dry clothing. The little girl suffered no apparent ill effects from the accident. Later little Marie and the infant were cared for by neighbors of Mrs. Fogarty in Jamaica Plain.

CONSISTENT WORKERS MORE LIKELY TO WIN

Great Honor Attached to Leadership

Steady Persevering Canvas For Votes Tells In The Ballooning In Bermuda Trip Contest—The Standing.

The announcement in yesterday's Standard and New Star of the standing of each contestant in the race for the free trips to New York City and Bermuda Islands, placed the matter in more definite shape, and the general public will now be able to watch this most interesting phase of the competition as it progresses.

The friendly contest has just begun and in open to any eligible lady to enter, and no one knows who may enter the contest at any minute with a few thousand votes as a starter. Look over the list and see if you have not as good a chance to win a trip in your district as any of those entered, then make up your mind and get in touch with the contest manager and he will get you started off on the road to victory.

The majority of our lady contestants have awakened to the fact that there is truth in the words of our headlines today "The Consistent Worker Wins."

Started slowly this onward movement will steadily increase in speed until during the last week of the contest it will have grown into a veritable avalanche, sweeping everything before it in its rush for victory, as founding everyone by its size and force, even our fair contestants themselves, who never in the past thought themselves capable of producing such results as they undoubtedly will. WE WISH THEM ALL LUCK IN THE GRAND STRUGGLE FOR SUPREMACY.

The voting has now begun in real earnest and from now on there will be the greatest interest in the daily vote exhibit. Several of the candidates have a good start, and show a tendency to run away from their opponents. There is, however, practically an equal chance for all, as a year's subscription special voting coupon taken out by some willing friend or acquaintance will adjust the difference between most competitors. So that there may be no misunderstanding The Standard and New Star has arranged to count the votes daily at 5 p. m. The standing of all will then be published.

GROUNDING SET SCHOON ON FIRE

Cargo Of Lime In Ada Ames Sets Fire To Vessel Ashore On Shoveluff Shoal—Crew Saved.

Chatham, Mass., Aug. 29.—Her cargo of lime catching fire from the water entering her hold, after she struck on Shoveluff shoal, the two masted schooner Ada Ames, owned from Rockland, Me., for New York, was totally destroyed by fire on the shoal this afternoon. While beating her way through the treacherous shoals, the old two masted schooner grounded on Shoveluff shoal. The force of her grounding opened the vessel's seams and in a few minutes the lime in her hold had caught fire. Realizing that it would be impossible to save the vessel, the crew of five men attempted to transfer their personal belongings to the small boats.

In this they were not wholly successful, as part of their personal property was destroyed. Capt. Kelley and his crew of life savers from Monomy Point station put out from the station and assisted the crew in saving some of their goods. The crew of the Ada Ames were accommodated at the life saving station tonight. Tomorrow they will leave for Boston and from there will go to Rockland.
