Next in importance to Christmas, Thanksgiving ranks as the greatest house-hold festival of the year. The fact of its falling on Monday will afford to many the opportunity of spending the holiday with out of town relatives and friends. For those who remain in town the piece de resistance will be the family dinner, where gathered around the festive board will be theyoung and old, to enjoy the dainties set before them, at the same time asking for a continuance of their present peace and prosperity. May the weather god smile propitiously upon them.
