The Daily Tribune. SATURDAY EVENING, MARCH 6.

Condensing themselves. The close observer of the political events of the past two or three years must have been struck with the fact that all the imaginary crises which the members of the Macdonald Ministry were accused by their opponents have been proved to have been actually committed by the Ministers now in power.

Mr. Anglin, in speaking of the election to-day for the Local Legislature, strikes the proper keynote, and gives the tonic of advice to his friends and co-religionists, which we hope will ever aid and quiet them; and if acted upon in the good and loyal spirit of the great Commander, who will not be safe to predict the dawn of the Millennium? He says none of them "will take any active part in the election, and few, if any of them, will vote at all. This seems to be the case, and we must say that we think it a very wise one, so far as all events as the Catholics are concerned. This is sage, sound and wholesome advice, and were Romanists, or so-called Catholics, to refrain in toto from dragging the good Church into the maelstrom of political strife, and devote their time and talents more to the care of souls and the elevation of the morals of the people, we would have "peace on earth and good will toward men."
