

At "The Willows," at the top of Fort Street, there is a large "Arena," now used as a skating rink, and behind it are the Exhibition and Sports grounds, now the "Willows Camp." At Mt. Tolmie, off Fort Street, are the University and Normal Schools. (See Note 6).

"Uplands," four miles from Victoria, affords a striking proof of what is expected of the future, for on these beautiful woodlands good asphalted roads, concrete sidewalks bordered with turf, electric lighting, watermains, etc., are already provided and street cars from "Fort" take you there, to within three minutes walk of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, which is on the shore of Cadboro Bay. The man in charge told me he has 40 "chickens" (yachts) to look after, which need a lot of attention on a windy day or night. There is a lovely view from the club verandah over the bay, with the islands "Discovery" and "Chatham" close by, and the moun-
