

pare the remedy, and not forgetful of their country's good, freighted their largest ships with the rich wood.

" Iberian coasts, you first were happy made
With this rich plant, and wonder'd at its aid ;
Known now to France and neighboring Germany,
Cold Scythian coasts, and temp'rate Italy,
To Europe's bounds all bless the vital tree."

Joseph, the other long poem of Fracastorius, was translated into English by Josuah Sylvester, with the following remarkable title: "The Maiden's Blush: Joseph, Mirror of Modesty, Map of Pietie, Maze of Destinie, or rather Divine Providence. From the Latin of Fracastorius. Translated and dedicated to the High-Hopefull Charles Prince of Wales. London, 1620. 12mo."
