International Bible Lesson for To-Morrow.
Review for three months.

Golden Text—"But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life through His name."

Let us take the golden texts as links of golden love in a chain to bind our hearts to Him at whose feet we have sat for the past quarter. Here they are:

- 1-In Him was life, and the life was the light of men.
 - 2-Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world.
 - 3-Thou art the Son of God; Thou art the King of Israel.
 - 4-Whoever He saith unto you do it.
 - 5-For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.
 - 6-Whoever will let him take of the water of life freely.
 - 7-The same works that I do bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.
 - 8-And a great multitude followed Him, because they saw His miracles.
 - 9-I am the living bread which came down from heaven.
 - 10-Never man spoke like this man.
 - 11-Whoever committeth sin is the servant of sin.
 - 12-I am the light of the world.
- If scholars can repeat these golden texts and the names of the lessons from memory, the incidents of each lesson will be easily recalled, and the faith of the young people enriched by the Word and Spirit of God.

GROWING UP

There's something the matter with the child that fails to grow up. A child that grows up too much, however, without proper filling out of flesh, is almost as badly off. Nothing will help these pale, thin "weedy" children like Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the rounding out of flesh and the rich inward nourishment of blood and vital organs which insures rapid growth a healthy and uniform development.

Latter Day Saints.

Services will be held to-morrow at the usual hours.

Sunday school to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Prayer services at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

Regular weekly prayer meeting on Wednesday evening at 8.

A MODERN MEDICINE.

Which Reaches and Cures All The Little Ailments of Infants and Children.

Baby's Own Tablets is a modern medicine which replaces barbarous castor oil and poisonous "soothing" stuffs. The Tablets are a sweet, harmless little lozenge, which children take readily, and which may be crushed to a powder or administered in a spoonful of water if necessary. This medicine cures all stomach and bowel troubles, breaks up colds, prevents croup, allays the pain of teething and gives beautiful sleep. And you have a solemn guarantee that it contains not one particle of opiate or poisonous soothing stuff.

Mrs. J. D. Gilly, Hetherington, Que., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for stomach and bowel troubles and have always found them a most satisfactory medicine, and one that keeps my children bright and healthy." You can get the Tablets from any medicine dealer or by mail at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PARSONAGE BURNED.

At 4 o'clock Thursday morning the Baptist parsonage at Wheatley, occupied by Rev. Mr. Davis, was discovered to be on fire. The fire started in the woodshed and had gained little headway when first seen by Mr. Davis, but before the neighbors could be aroused it had spread to the main part of the house, which was destroyed. Part of the furniture was saved. There was no insurance on the furniture, but the building was insured for $800. This will be a serious loss to the Wheatley Baptists as the parsonage was recently paid for after a big effort on the part of the members—Comber Herald.

Asphalt Blocks

Read What Former Chathamites, Now Residing in Windsor, Have to Say

When in Windsor take a look at Quellerie Avenue from Wyandotte Street Southerly. Take a walk up Goyeau Street. Go out to Glen-garry Ave. Examine Victoria Avenue.

These streets are paved with Asphalt Blocks made by the Walkerville Company. Look carefully and see if you can find any Decay or Crumbling Away.

Take a Belt Line Car and go up to Walkerville. Examine closely the Pavement There. You will find it exactly as you will find Park Street in Chatham.

The Pavement on Oulet Avenue from Wyandotte Street, Northerly, is not of the Walkerville Block, but of Blocks made by a Toledo Firm

Read what Mr. John B. Pike, formerly of Chatham, has to say:

A little over a year ago I was appointed one of a committee of three to investigate what was the best material for paving a resident street.

After making the most thorough inquiry and visiting Chicago, Toledo, Sandusky, Cleveland, Buffalo, Washington and Detroit, and I had a personal interview with most of the City Engineers.

We reported in favor of the Asphalt Block laid on five inches of cement bed with a one-half inch cement mortar to bed the block in, and after all the block is in place, then thoroughly fill all the cracks with a cement mortar made thin well grouted. The blocks we used were 8 x 5 x 12 inches, made at Walkerville, and I fully believe we have as fine paved streets as there is anywhere on the continent of America.

This is Victoria Avenue, Windsor. Trusting that the above may be of some service to you, I remain,

Respectfully yours,
(Sgd.) JOHN B. PIKE.

Monsieur Luke Montreuil, well-known throughout the whole of Western Ontario as one of our oldest and most respected citizens, speaks in the most favorable manner of the Walkerville asphalt blocks.

Windsor, March 23, '05.
To the Citizens of Chatham:

I am constrained to write this letter to you for the reason that I have relatives in your city, who no doubt are taking an interest in its improvement. I am aware that the subject of paving has been engrossing your attention for some time, and as a pavement known as the Walkerville asphalt block has been attacked in a most unwarrantable manner, and as I have always been a lover of fair play, I take this opportunity to let you know how I look on this pavement.

These blocks are made in Walkerville, where, as you know, my home is. I have seen the blocks before being placed in the pavement, and afterwards, and have never found them decay or crumble away. In my judgment they make a first class pavement in the fullest sense of the term.

LUKE MONTREUIL.

Jason Churchill, formerly of Chatham, whose mother resides in North Chatham, knows all about the pavements as he is chairman of the Court of Revision.

To my old Friends of the City of Chatham:

I have given the subject of paving considerable consideration, and as you are doing, I understand, a large amount of paving, I desire to give you my views upon the subject. Considering everything, durability, noiselessness, etc., I believe the asphalt block pavement of blocks made by the Walkerville Company to be the best pavement in existence to-day.

The upper end of Quellerie Avenue, Victoria Avenue, Goyeau Avenue and Goyeau Street in this city, I consider to be perfect pavements.

The lower end of Quellerie Avenue, about which there have been some complaints, was laid by a Toledo firm from blocks made in Toledo.

(Sgd.) J. B. CHURCHILL.

P. S.—I may add that I am in a position to speak as to the pavements of this city, as I am chairman of the Court of Revision for the city.

To the Public of Chatham:

I am a brother-in-law of John Glassford, of your city, and I am superintendent of the Ontario Asphalt Block Works at Walkerville. This Company has had the benefit of the experience and the large expenditure of various companies throughout the world, in their efforts to produce a practically indestructible paving block. Profiting by such efforts, extending over a quarter of a century, we are producing what I honestly believe to be the best paving material in the world. I will be glad to show my Chatham friends, who may favor me with a visit, throughout our large and costly plant; show them the material out of which, and explain the intricate process by which, we are enabled to make this invaluable paving material.

In this city, of blocks made by the Walkerville firm, of which we have miles, and are getting ready to lay more, are first class. Experts with whom I have conversed pronounce these blocks perfect. A portion of Quellerie Avenue was laid with some blocks made by a Toledo firm. They have not given satisfaction, but they bear no comparison whatever to the Walkerville block.

ALEX. NORTHWOOD.

To my Chatham Friends:

In my judgment the asphalt block pavements of the Walkerville blocks are first class. We have a number of streets paved with them and I have never heard anything but praise for them.

S. L. BRUNDAGE.

Samuel Stover, a former resident of Chatham and one of Windsor's heaviest taxpayers, speaks right out.

Windsor, March 23, '05.
Citizens of the city of Chatham:

I have nothing but words of praise for the miles of pavement in the city of Windsor made out of the Walkerville asphalt blocks.

SAMUEL STOVER.

Windsor, March 23, 1905.
Citizens of Chatham:

My dwelling is on Goyeau street, near the centre of the city. I am a son of Nathan Everett, who has been in the employ of Wm. Gray & Sons Co., of Chatham, for the past twenty-five years. Our street is paved with asphalt blocks made by the Walkerville Company, and in my judgment we have one of the best paved streets in the whole country. There is no decaying and crumbling away of these blocks. I am very glad that Chatham is adopting this pavement.

W. H. EVERETT.

James E. Purser, former resident of Chatham, now one of Windsor's most prominent citizens, endorses the Walkerville asphalt block in emphatic language.

Friends in Chatham:

I am a son of Reginald Purser, and a nephew of Cornelius Purser, Reeve of Dover, and I am the owner of a plumbing business on Goyeau Avenue in this city.

Our street is paved with asphalt blocks made by the Walkerville Company. Asphalt blocks made by this Company make the best pavement I know of, and I heartily recommend them to my friends in Chatham.

This pavement must not be confounded with some blocks made by a Toledo firm, laid in this city, which proved somewhat defective.

THE STORY OF SWEET CLOVER.

The scene is the interior of Farmer Holcombe's pretty home. The sun has set, leaving a crimson glow in the horizon, the tinkle of the cow bells grow dim, crickets chirp and fire flies warn that peaceful night is coming on. City folks who summer in the little Connecticut farm near by, love to visit the Jerome Holcombe farm and sit beneath the comfort of the spreading oaks which shelter the dooryard. Mrs. Emmett, her niece, Sunny Andrews and Eldridge Grosvenor, a young capitalist, are among the frequent visitors. Sunny likes Jack Hamilton, a nephew of Abigail Holcombe, Jerome's spinster sister, who herself has an old beau, Job Masson, who has been a leader up to it for thirty years.

Grosvenor, in his frequent visits, has fallen in love with Lois, the only child of the old farmer, who regards him only as a friend. Grosvenor confides his secret to Jerome and asks for permission to speak to Lois, but the old man puts him off until the morning. Years before when Lois was a babe, her mother ran away with a celebrated artist and died without Lois ever knowing her. But Lois has met by accident and fallen in love with a handsome young artist by the name of Slade, who manages to do his sketching where Lois is more apt to stroll. The father has reared the girl in fear that she may follow her mother's ways, and jealously guards her from the attentions of men. Slade honestly loves the girl and wishes to make her his wife, but he has to go abroad the following day and asks her as a parting favor to come out of the house after bed time and bid him good-bye. In the moonlight to the sweet song of passing serenade, the lovers are detected by the father, as Slade vanishes through the gate. The old man accuses the girl of wrong doing, and tells her, in his anguish, the story of how her mother ran away with an artist named Slade. Lois immediately concludes that her sweetheart is the son of the man who led her parent astray. The old man, thinking he has misjudged the girl, concludes it was the man who had a right to meet her after dark. The excitement brings on an attack of the heart, which is weak, and he begs to tell him it was Grosvenor and that she is going to marry him. Knowing that she must give up Slade, and wishing to save his father, she tells him, "It was Grosvenor, and I mean to marry him."

The scene changes to the beautiful interior of Mrs. Emmett's city home, during the progress of a tableaux party. Romeo, Rosalind, Carmelo, Elisella and the rest are there, and Mrs. Eldridge Grosvenor, who six months before was a simple country lass, comes to the party on the arm of her devoted husband, arrayed in the gorgeous robes of Queen Cleopatra. She is now the most famous of society's queens. Albert Slade has returned from his trip abroad, where he won the salon prize with his famous painting, "A Memory" not other than Lois, and the tondres of the scandal-mongers are set going. He has received his come in a brief note from Lois, simply telling him she is going to marry another. But Slade has not been surprised at meeting her and Slade wrings the truth from her. He tells her she has made a horrible mistake, that the scoundrel who took her money away was not his real father, but one who had adopted him on account of his artistic promises.

The scene shifts to the palatial home of the Grosvenors after the party. The husband's suspicions are aroused, and the demon jealousy takes possession of him. He has told Lois not to wait up for him, as he has to take a train for another city. Lois retires. The husband changes his mind and resolves to stay—but seeks the night air as a solace to his bitter thoughts. Lois, in her negligence, disturbed at her husband's coolness, descends from her chamber to comfort him. But Slade has followed the Grosvenors home, and finding the door open, during her husband's preparations to depart, takes a madman's chances and enters. Lois is horrified to find, instead of her husband, that she is face to face with her old lover.

To go further into this absorbing story would only rob the intelligent auditor of the pleasure of the play.

ARE SUICIDES
ALL DYSPEPTICS?

That Dispiriting Disease that Causes So Much Suffering Quickly Cured by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Are you getting to that age when you can understand why people commit suicide? Do you feel weak, dispirited and useless? Is your work a burden and are you beginning to hate to meet people? Is life not worth living?

If you are drifting that way it is high time to look to your stomach. You are becoming a victim of Chronic Dyspepsia. To realize what that means you must know that nearly every suicide is a dyspeptic.

Help your stomach. Treat it with Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are specially prepared for the purpose, are easy to take and bring sure results. The proof: It comes in thousands of statements like these:

"I was troubled with Dyspepsia," says Hene Trudel, a student of Three Rivers, Quebec. "For some weeks it made alarming progress till I was weak, discouraged and in despair every day. I had resolved to give up my studies when I began to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They cured me completely. To-day I have no head ache, no weakness, no pain. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets put sunshine once more in my life."

Some time ago the Government decided to restock the western portion of Ontario with quail, and this came as good news to those who enjoy the sport of hunting quail. Yesterday, Mr. Sandy McVein, received a letter from Chief Game Warden Tinsley, of Toronto, stating that he would send him in April a number of quail to be turned loose near Dresden—Dresden Standard.

TILBURY

March 4.—At a meeting of the Village Council, last night, it was decided to purchase the corner of Queen and Canal streets, from J. S. Richardson, for the future site of a town hall, for the sum of $750. The location is a most desirable one and the price is cheap at the price named. The question of closing the east end of Smith street led to a lengthy discussion, when it was decided to lease the same from lot 17 west to lot 11, instead of lot 8, as at first proposed. Theodore Reaume and wife, of Jeannette's Creek, late of Tilbury, are visiting relatives in Tilbury. They leave next month for Duluth, Minn. Wheat, $1 to $1.05; oats, 35c; barley, $1; corn, 40 to 45c; dressed hogs, $5.25; butter, 18c; eggs, 14 to 15c.

The town is still in darkness from the break in the electric light plant. Fall wheat prospects are good. Plowing is general in this section. Mr. D. H. Edmonds left yesterday on a visit with relatives in Leamington.

The flax mill is expected to complete operations next week for the season, which has been a most successful one.
