QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Veterinary.

MAMMITIS.

One morning one fore quarter of cow's udder was swollen and inflamed, and yielded a small quantity of milk of a dark, yellowish color. She walks very stiff in hind quarters. The swelling on the udder is spreading and increasing.

J. D. M.

Ans.—This is mammitis (inflammation of the udder). Purge her with 1½ lbs. Epsom salts and 1 ounce ginger, and follow up with 3 drams nitrate of potash, three times daily for two days. Apply hot poultices to the udder. Milk the fluid out of the udder four times daily, and after milking rub well with camphorated oil before applying a fresh poultice. Long and frequent bathing with hot water may be substituted for poulticing, but the latter is better if properly attended to.

DEATH FROM TUBERCULOSIS.

Cow that would have been due to calve on May 25th, aborted on March 2nd. She died, and a post-mortem revealed the liver dotted with yellowish nodules containing pus, and her gall bladder was large and contained a thick fluid. She had refused to eat for eight days before death. Would the flesh have been fit for food if she had been fitted for the block? What caused the trouble?

A. D. W.

Ans.—The cow died from tuberculosis, for which nothing could have been done. The disease was caused by infection. If she had been fitted for the block in the early stages of the disease, before it interfered with the function of any organ, and while not extending to or involving more than one organ, the flesh would have been considered healthful, but in cases where the disease has reached that stage at which it interferes with health, the flesh is unfit for consumption.

HYDRAULIC RAM.

I have a hydraulic ram which is not giving satisfaction and I intend to remodel the layout. The lift is 65 to 70 feet above the level of the ram, and the distance from the ram to the house 250 yards. The fall available is nine feet. The level of the well supplying the ram is variable, but the flow is always sufficient for a No. 3 ram.

1. Under above conditions, what would be the correct length of drive pipe to give best results?

2. Would the pipe arrangement shown in attached sketch be all right, or can you suggest any improvement?

J. W. D.

1. 50 to 55 feet.
2. The pipe arrangement shown in the drawing would be perfectly satisfactory unless the pipe were to spring a leak at a point above the level of the water. I would prefer to dig a foot or so deeper near the spring, and have a continuous fall in the pipe.

BOARDING THRESHERS.

A is hired by B by the year to work on farm, and as B lives a few miles distant, A, who is a married man, is to live in the farmhouse and board himself, and provide meals for threshers when they come to the farm, and as A has to exchange threshing with other farmers, B claims that he should not be entitled to pay for meals consumed by the threshers at his farm. What is your opinion, nothing having been mentioned about same in agreement?

ENQUIRER.

Ans.—It would seem clear that A should be remunerated for the meals provided in excess of what he receives when exchanging threshing, and it would, in our opinion, be only fair for him to have some primary consideration besides to compensate for the extra labor and expense of boarding a gang over the cost of meals regularly provided for himself in his own home.

Clydesdales! Clydesdales! Spring Hill Top Notchers

Gentlemen, we wish to remind you that owing to our late importations we won't be showing at any of the fall exhibitions. Our lot comprises fillies and mares, stallions, 3 and 4 years old. They are the ripe cherries every one of them, and must be sold at the lowest possible price to make room for this fall importation. There's no man who ever buys a stallion or mare but who comes back again; why, because we have the goods and back up what we say. We wish to thank every one for their kind patronage in the past. Yours truly,

J. & J. SEMPLE, Milverton, Ont., and La Verne, Minn., U. S. A.
