

Weekly Rossland Miner.

Published Every Thursday by the ROSSLAND MINER PRINTING & PUBLISHING CO. LIMITED LIABILITY.

LONDON OFFICE: C. J. WALKER, 108 Bishopsgate St., Within E. C. TORONTO OFFICE: CENTRAL PRESS AGENCY, L.D., 83 Yonge St. SPOKANE OFFICE: ALEXANDER & Co. Advertising Agents, Room F First National Bank Building. EASTERN AGENT: EMANUEL KATZ, 32 Temple Court, New York.

THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE OF THE WEEKLY ROSSLAND MINER for all points in the United States and Canada is Two Dollars a year or One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents for six months; for all other countries Three Dollars a year—invariably in advance. The subscription price six months or one year, foreign $2.50, also in advance.

THE ORE SHIPMENTS.

Table with 2 columns: Ore Name, Amount. Includes Le Roi, War Eagle, Centre Star, etc.

The ore shipments for the seven days from Sept. 15 to Sept. 21, inclusive, were as follows: War Eagle, 1,412 tons; Centre Star, 2,657 tons; Iron Mask, 2,565 tons; Total, 6,634 tons.

THE AGENT-GENERAL'S OFFICE.

The Provincial government has dismissed Hon. Forbes G. Vernon, agent-general for British Columbia in London, and it is rumored that the office will remain closed indefinitely. Surely this is a mistake. The government cannot possibly be so short-sighted as to cut off such a valuable department of the civil service.

A MODEL CELEBRATION.

Rossland may well claim to be the place in the Kootenays where the most successful public entertainments are given. Look at the list for this year. First there was the midwinter celebration, during which the hibernial sports lasted for three days and attracted visitors from all over the Kootenays and not a few from Washington.

CAMP IS NOT A MISNOMER.

A contributor to a Rossland paper, who is evidently a tenderfoot and not used to "wild western ways" has had his sensibilities somewhat severely shocked by the use of the word camp as applied to Rossland. He thinks that now that it is a good sized city that the application of the word camp to it is a misnomer. According to the strict definition of the word this is so, but in consonance with western custom it is not. Webster's dictionary gives the definitions to the word: "(1) The ground on which an army pitches their tents, whether for a night or a longer time." "(2) The order of arrangement of tents, or disposition of an army for rest, as to pitch a camp."

was the tone adopted by the speakers. They told of the pleasant relations that exist here between labor and capital and expressed the wish and prophesied that these conditions would remain as they are for some time to come; in short, there is no good reason why they should not always go on as they are.

The celebration yesterday is but a reflection of the excellent condition of affairs that prevails here. There is work for all who are willing and able to perform it, at good wages. Peace and contentment abides with us and in this respect we are a fortunate community. The general expression seen on the countenances of those who participated in the celebration—and who did not—was one of happiness. It revealed that the people are fully satisfied with their condition, because it is not hard for a man or woman to make a comfortable living here and lay by something for a rainy day, if they are so disposed. With the constantly improving condition of the mines and the development of the country there is every reason to believe that the condition of the people will improve and we shall have many happy celebrations of Labor Day, with this difference, that with each succeeding year they will be on a larger and grander scale.

AN INTERESTING QUESTION.

The interview with Nicholas Tregear of the Le Roi mine, published in this issue, will be found interesting. In this Mr. Tregear states that the ore of the Le Roi was as rich on the surface in gold and silver as it is at the greatest depth in the mine. There was an increase in the copper values and the ore became more silicious with depth. There was another noticeable feature, which was that the main chute, which was only 12 feet wide on the surface, is 60 feet wide in the 450-foot level. These facts concerning the Le Roi would indicate that the values do not increase with depth, at least so far as that property is concerned. Each and every mine has its peculiarities, and the reasons for them are sometimes indefinable. There are other properties in the camp where exactly the opposite conditions are found, for the ore increases in value as depth is reached. The Centre Star gets its highest values from the ores in the points furthest from the surface. The Deer Park is another instance of this. On the surface the ore only assayed traces of the precious metal, while at the 200-foot level ore that assayed several hundred dollars to the ton was encountered. White Bear is another example. On the surface the ore assayed only $2, while at a depth of 230 feet it runs up almost to $40. In the Virginia the ore on the surface gives very low returns while that found in the 300-foot level runs up as high as $50 per ton. Monte Christo is another case in point. The values are very small at and near the surface, but at the 300-, 400- and 600-foot levels ore of a paying quality is found. Many other examples could be cited to show that values increase with depth and the consensus of opinion among Rossland mining men is with this side of the question.

It is true, however, that the Le Roi, the War Eagle and the Iron Mask, three of the principal properties on Red Mountain, had chutes of ore that passed from the grass roots. These are apparently the exceptions to the general rule. In some localities in the camp there are faults on the surface and the formation is badly broken so that well defined ore chutes are not found until considerable depth is reached.

Some of the best informed and most scientific mining men in the country have held to the theory that as a rule values in mines do not increase with depth. In this camp, however, in a number of instances the opposite to this has proven to be the case. This is a matter of considerable interest to the camp and the subject would like to hear further on the subject from both the scientific and practical miners of the camp.

ROSSLAND'S GENEROSITY APPRECIATED.

Rossland's extraordinary generosity to the New Westminster fire sufferers has amazed the people of the Dominion. The newspapers east and west are commenting on it. The Toronto Telegram declares that "The little city hidden among the Kootenay mountains has taught its older sisters a wholesome lesson." Again, "They (the people of Rossland) waited not for the regular precedent, but showed the world that western generosity is not bounded by any such cast-iron rules, that the western heart is big enough to go beyond precedent and act according to its own dictates."

IF YOU USE DIAMOND DYES YOU MAKE DOLLARS.

The ladies of Canada know well that the use of Diamond Dyes means the saving of many dollars, and thousands will tell you that the use of poor and adulterated dyes means ruin to goods and loss of money. The wonder-working Diamond Dyes combine immense variety, merit and usefulness. Diamond Dyes coloring of wool, silk, feathers and cotton goods. Minute and simple directions go with each package of the Diamond Dyes, so that the most inexperienced person can do as good work as the professional dyer.

THE PLEBISCITE.

A plebiscite is a piece of machinery borrowed from the French, by means of which the people are permitted to express their opinion upon proposed legislation free from the intervention of parliament and without party entanglements. The object of the Prohibition Plebiscite to be taken on the 29th inst. is to enable the electors of the entire country to answer "Yes" or "No," the following question: "Are you in favor of an act prohibiting the importation, manufacture, or sale of spirits, wine, beer, and all other alcoholic liquors used as beverages?" Prohibition (as called for in the plebiscite) differs from the Scott Act in that its scope is wider, embraces the country as a whole, and prevents the manufacture and importation, as well as the sale of spirituous liquors. This is the first experiment of the kind in Canada. There have been attempts to force Prohibition within limited areas, but this the first occasion when the entire country has been asked to pronounce the verdict upon the adoption of such a measure, and where the importation is to be stopped, as well as the manufacture and sale.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The price of silver is steadily climbing upward. Today, at 61 5/16, it is higher than it has been for many months past. This will be cheering news to the silver miners of the district. A few points higher and the hum of industry will be heard on all sides in the Great Slope.

For the 12 months ending August 31, 1897, the gross receipts of the Toronto street car lines were $1,020,215.40 and the city's percentage $22,021.54. For the 12 months ending August 31, 1898, the gross receipts were $1,142,876.54, and the city's percentage $24,387.66.

MR. MACKAY'S OPINION.

J. W. Mackay, the mining and cable magnate, is on his way to the Pacific coast, and it is not improbable that he will visit Kootenay before proceeding to San Francisco. Mr. Mackay is already heavily interested in the Rossland camp, being the head of the Mackay-Hosmer syndicate, which control the Monte Christo, Virginia and other properties in the North Belt. When Mr. Mackay passed through Winnipeg the other day he made some interesting remarks to a newspaper reporter. He told how he had taken $150,000,000 from the famous Comstock lode, in Nevada, and while he confessed that he did not know of any laws in mining, the application of which would lead to the discovery of other bodies of ore like the one mentioned, he admitted that British Columbia is a very rich mineral district, as rich as any in the world.

This is a highly flattering estimate of our mines. But Mr. Mackay has good reason for his belief in this connection. He admits that the values of the Comstock occurred in "enormous 'kidneys' or 'pockets.'" This deposit was about half the length of the proved portion of the North Belt. There was no other valuable ore deposits in the vicinity of the Comstock, and today Virginia City is all but a deserted mining camp. The ore deposits of the Rossland camp are quite different. Instead of large "kidneys," like the Comstock, the Trail Creek division from one side to the other is nothing but a series of veins of gold-copper ore. In the North Belt alone there are hundreds of tons of ore to one in the Comstock. Enough work has already been done to prove conclusively that the supply of gold and copper here is practically inexhaustible. The Comstock was worked out in a few years, but it will take hundreds of years to accomplish the same result in this camp. Then it must be remembered that Trail Creek division is but a small spot in the immense mineral field of Southern British Columbia. From the Rocky Mountains to the Cascades and from the international boundary to the north for hundreds of miles, the mountains are ribbed with ledges of gold, silver, copper, lead and other valuable minerals. Considering this it would have been strange indeed if Mr. Mackay had come to any other conclusion with regard to the value of the mineral resources of this Province.

This should be done for the reason that no country has a larger area of mineral land than Canada. It is an industry that is assuming an importance which in time should make it the chief ore in the Dominion and there can be no possible good reason why such a department should not be immediately created by the Federal government. With such a department in the hands of an active minister a great deal of good could be accomplished for the mining industry throughout the province. In this respect British Columbia is even better equipped than the Dominion for it has a minister of mines and he will be able during the next three or four years to do a great deal for the development of the mineral resources of the Province.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

Cutting Down of the Bluff Will Not Soon Be Completed. The street improvements which the board of works have undertaken, are employing what few idle men there were in the city. Columbia avenue is being reduced to grade at the west end of the bluff and the grading of Spokane street is proceeding more rapidly.

WIDENING THE GAUGE.

The Work Will Be Finished by the Middle of November. "Alterations in the line of the broad gauge track between here and Trail will delay the completion of the improvements slightly," said F. P. Gutelius, the superintendent of the line, last evening. "The present Crown Point switchback is to be replaced by a double loop, about two miles long. The change will be of great advantage to the line. Steel is already in transit down the Arrow lakes, and as soon as enough rails to lay two miles of track is on hand, track laying will be rushed through. Trains in Rossland over the broad gauge will probably be running about the middle of November."

WAS RECEIVED WITH THANKS.

Mayor Wallace has received the following message from Mayor Owens of New Westminster, acknowledging the receipt of the second contribution of $1,000 in aid of the fire sufferers: Mayor Wallace, Rossland, B. C.—Second contribution of $1,000 in aid of the homeless and ruined fire sufferers is gratefully received. The Rossland club members of this corporation to the generous Rosslanders. Thomas Owens, Mayor.

Owing to the delay in the receipt of a message from the Spokane office of the Le Roi company, the mine was not closed down on Labor day. The management regrets not a little that the men were kept at work, it was only through the non-receipt of the message that work was continued.

"MY FRIENDS DESPAIR."

La Grippe and Nervous Prostration Death—South American Nerve was the Life-Saver. "I was ailing for nearly four years with nervous prostration. I tried many remedies and was treated by physicians without any permanent benefit. A year ago I took a gripe, which greatly aggravated my trouble. My friends despaired of my recovery. I was induced to try South American Nerve, and was rejoiced to get almost instant relief. I have used four bottles and feel myself completely cured. I believe it's the best remedy known for the nerves and blood." Wm. M. Copp, Newcastle, N. B. Sold by Goodeve Bros.
