HE KNEW NO FEAR.

Calgary Soldier Has Been Awarded

Victoria Cross. The Victoria Cross has been awarded to Lieut. George Burdon McKean, phone Canadian infantry, aged 30. He enlisted at Edmonton as a private in January, 1915. He won the Military Medal and was wounded in 1916 and received a commission in May, 1917. He is still in France. His mother lives in Calgary. McKean's party was held up in a communication trench by a most intense fire from grenades and machine guns. Realizing this block unless destroyed might mar the success of the whole operation, Mc-Kean ran into the open, leaped over the blockhead on top of the enemy. When a man rushed at him with a bayonet McKean shot him through papers, between Echo Place and the body, then shot the man underneath him who was struggling violently. This gallant action enabled sey Jersey's flercest. It is said that the capture of the position. nothing short of a coat of tar and McKean's supply of bombs ran out lard will discourage these man-eating West Mill and Spring streets, a and whilst waiting a further supply animals. Ordinarily unguents prove purse containing $14.00 and regis-tration card. Reward at 117 Chest-On bombs arriving he fearlessly rush-sauces. To kill a mosquito is missauces. To kill a mosquito is mised a second block, killing two and taken judgment—so many relatives capturing four and driving the regather for the funeral. Huge, apparmainder, with a machine gun, into a ently self-reliant bears have be dugout, which was destroyed. This badly stung about the eyes that they officer's splendid dash and bravery have become blind and unable to find undoubtedly saved many lives. food-murdered by these tiny pests.

Talked of "Prussianism."

J. A. Cross, a prominent farmer of Tutela Heights, was fined $500 and costs by the magistrate at Brantford for making the observation, in criticizing the Government order-incouncil calling out farmers' sons, that "We had just as well be under Prussian rule as under Canadian.' Several witnesses told of Cross using the expression and the defendant admitted having said something to that effect when his son was called up for service after having been previously exempted. His counsel declares that he was but exercising the right of free speech common to Canadian citizenship. Magistrate Livingston, in giving judgment, stated that since the order-in-council of April 16, such Building, Hours 9 to 6. Evenings a remark could only be construed as detrimental to the cause of the Canadians and the Allies, and was the very thing which it was desired to stop. When the life blood of Canadian young men and women was peing poured out against the Prussians, such an expression of opinion was insulting, as well as traitorous, and the magistrate said as far as he was concerned it would be stopped. Cross took a prominent part on the farmers' deputation to Ottawa and participated in meetings of protest o the Government. Four witness all farmers, gave evidence against him. M. W. McEwen, appearing for Cross, declared that farmers all over the country had used that kind of language, and stronger, whereat the nagistrate replied that a lot of those farmers should have been put in jail and that there had been a laxity in law enforcement. Counsel further declared that the Act of the Govern-Church on the Six Nations' reserve ment, aimed to stop criticism of its near Brantford, was presented with actions, was highly Prussian in itself.

> There are light and sandy loams underlaid by sand and gravel which need no sub or artificial drainage, but for clay loams it is essential for the best results, not merely to take away water in the spring, and allow early seeding, but to make the soil more moist throughout the sea-son. No amount of surface tillage, no amount of manure or fertilizers, can ensure maximum crop production on a poorly-drained soil. Surface evaporation is slow in the early months of the season. Tile drainage is needed therefore that the heavier soils' may be worked to advantage before the seeding time passes. Poorly drained soils are water-logged soils, and this means a condition absolutely injurious to growing crops, for the root system needs air. Crops can die of suffocation, even after they have got a fair growth. Poorly drained soils are cold and wet. - Royal Canadian Institute.
