

PARK BOARD APPROVES

Of Purchase of Beach Land at a Cost of $25,000.

Mountain Water to be Settled by Council To-night.

An Adjournment For Five Weeks Is Likely.

The city fathers will meet in the City Hall to-night for their regular meeting—the only one, in all probability, until the middle of September. Several questions will come before them for discussion most of which are matters which have been discussed previously in committee and in the newspapers. One of the most important subjects will probably be the mountain water contract, by which the Cataract Power Company is to operate a motor to supply the mountaineers with water, for one year. The committee appointed to secure the agreement will recommend that application be made to the Finance Committee for a grant of $200 to pay for the power, and that permission be given to introduce a by-law confirming the agreement. The Finance Committee has already agreed to vote the money. Aid Hopkins will probably be on hand with his old argument that the contract is not a legal one, and Mr. Martin Malone is watching the proceedings with a keen eye. It is suspected that he will at once give notice of a motion to quash the resolution and carry the question to the courts.

The Board of Works and Sewers Committee will present their recommendations, as also the Finance Committee.

The extremely hot weather has had a telling effect on the water pumping system. The pumps have been strained to their utmost, and there is some danger of the boilers giving out under the strain. The City Engineer stated this morning that he hoped an auxiliary would be installed without delay.

The City Engineer received a letter this morning from the Board of Railway Commissioners giving the decision of the Board regarding the Garth street bridge. The letter says that the flooring of the bridge should be maintained by the municipality. In the event of fire it would depend on the circumstances, but in ordinary cases the Board could order a new bridge on the present terms. As to the construction of a new bridge, the decision of the Board on that point would have to be determined by the facts then before it.

The Court of Revision for local and tax appeals will be held on Thursday at 3 p. m.

Parks Commissioner Wilson, of Toronto, is dealing with the tussock moth with a firm hand. He increased his staff of killers by another dozen men this morning. "It is imperative, if we are to save the trees and shrubs in the city, to kill as many of these pests as possible during the next few days," said Mr. Wilson, "and as citizens will not do the work voluntarily, men must be hired to do it."

The Parks Board has made an inspection of the Beach property and decided to confirm the resolution made last Friday night that the property be purchased for public park purposes. The entire frontage on the bay is 1,240 feet, which will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000. There are in all about 25 acres, part of which is marsh. The scheme is to fill in the low parts gradually and improve the property by degrees. The idea is not so much for the present as to provide a park on the bay shore for the city, which will be a blessing to the people in the future. This is the last chance of purchasing park property south of the canal which is conveniently accessible to the city.

The board will ask the city to issue debentures to cover the cost.

SAVED BY HER BROTHER

Hamilton Young Lady Had a Narrow Escape in the North.

Miss Constance Mills, who is residing at Penetanguishene, narrowly escaped death one day last week. Miss Mills, together with a number of other young ladies, was sitting on the wharf, when Playfair's yacht tried to sail in, but on account of the high wind and the strong sea, experienced considerable difficulty. The yacht was running before the wind and also had on steam. As it was passing the pier on which the young ladies were sitting, a rope was thrown, and caught around Miss Mills, and she was pulled into water about forty feet deep. When she came to the surface her friends, knowing her to be a good swimmer, called to her to swim, and she struck out, but when she reached the pier it was so high that she could not reach it, and became nearly exhausted. Her ten-year-old brother, who was near, ran to her assistance, and displayed wonderful presence of mind. Realizing the danger his sister was in, he dropped his feet over the edge of the pier and hung on with his hands. His sister caught hold of his feet and managed to keep herself up until assistance arrived. A couple of men who were near by offered no assistance, and if it had not been for the lad she would doubt have been drowned. Mr. W. R. Mills, the father of Miss Mills, saw the accident from a distance, but thought it was a dog that had been pulled in. He was nearly frantic when he realized the danger his daughter had been in. When the young lady was pulled out of the water she collapsed. She was removed to the hotel, and a number of people worked over her before she could be brought to. When the captain of the boat was asked for an explanation why the rope should have been thrown among the girls, he said it was in the hope that one of them might pick it up and throw it over the post. Those who saw the accident were loud in their praise over the presence of mind which Miss Mills' brother displayed.

HEAT MADE GREAT THIRST.

falo. He fancied Hamilton as the place to alight from his seat on the blind baggage car of a T. H. & R. train, but his arrival was expected, and A. M. McDonald, the T. H. & R. detective, graciously made preparations to meet him. The Magistrate instructed Chief Smith to see that he is conveyed back to Buffalo via the T. H. & R.

"He walked into my house at 10 o'clock on Saturday night, and scared the children out of a week's growth," said Andrew Berryman, of Bartonville, who charged Robert Calder with trespass. Robert said he was an invited guest at a house in Bartonville; the description had been furnished him, and he had evidently made a mistake by entering Berryman's domain. He was discharged.

Walking out of Police Court on Saturday after paying a $2 fine, John O'Connor, a male of Strabane, could not withstand the allurements of places where refreshing concoctions are sold, so he fell by the wayside again, and was prevented from going to the little red brick church yesterday. Again John handed over $2.

The Indian reserve at Caledonia was not sufficiently attractive to hold Alex. Hill, W. John and George Lickers, so they came to the city. Alex. left $2 with the court for being soused on Saturday, and the other two were let go.

J. Edgar, Ancaster, again appeared and was reluctantly compelled to part with $2.

The Forest City's incorrigibles seemed to be attracted hither. James Miller, who follows earth tilling as a pursuit, came here, drank heavily, and as a result paid $2.

"Was the cursed drink, your Worship," said James Trusdale, of Stoney Creek.

"Do you want to be sworn?" said the Magistrate.

"I don't care," said Jim.

"You are fined $2," said his Worship.

From the Valley Town came Silas Morton, but he could not withstand the repeated invitations to "have one." Silas paid $2.

Even the cool breezes of Burlington Beach could not keep James Clouse away from the centre of activity on Saturday. He came, was overcome, taken to the cooler, and subsequently fined $2.

Ernest Anderson and William Nolan, two city victims, left $2 each.

The sprinkler was left going all Saturday night, so James Gow paid $2.

Doggie ran at large and John Kidder paid $2.

Mrs. Duffey had a dog who jumped the fence, but she argued her case well, so the Magistrate let her go.

INDIAN ASSASSIN.

Sympathizers Seeking to Prevent Dhangra's Execution.

London, Aug. 9.—A final effort was begun yesterday by Indian sympathizers to prevent the execution on Tuesday of Nadaral Dhangra, convicted of the murder of Sir William Curzon Wyllie, and Dr. Cawas Lalacca at the Imperial Institute the night of July 1. There is little chance of the attempt succeeding, though there is no denying the fact that the authorities are almost afraid to spring the trap that will send Dhangra to his doom. It is not a question of sentiment, but a plain matter of policy, whether the execution will do good or harm to the British reign in India.

Dhangra himself hopes that the effort in his behalf will fail. He is both a fatalist and a fanatic.

POISONED BABY.

SUICIDE OF MRS. ACKERLY, OF PORT GREVILLE, N.S.

Child Will Recover—William Hemwood Shot Himself at West Bay, N.S.—Young Woman Refused to Walk With Him—Little Boy Crushed to Death.

Halifax, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Havelock Ackery of Port Greville, N. S., 28 years old, is dead, and her six-month-old baby is badly burned as a result of carbolic acid poisoning, administered by Mrs. Ackery while in a fit of despondency. She was just recovering from typhoid fever, and while the nurse was out of the room she got hold of the carbolic acid bottle and took a dose herself and gave one to the baby. Mrs. Ackery only lived half an hour, and suffered much before she died. The baby did not swallow much of the acid, and will recover.

Dr. E. W. Fillmore, of Advocate Harbor, dropped dead this morning from heart trouble.

Following close upon the tragedy at Port Greville, N. S., came word of the attempted suicide at West Bay, six miles from Parrsboro, of William Hemwood, who shot himself just above the heart, the bullet passing through the lungs. Hemwood is a stevedore, and was working on the steamer Warrior yesterday. He was supposed to have been drinking heavily this morning, and asked the doctor to go to him. He was with him when he was shot, and he was found by him. He refused and he walked out of the front door and fired a shot which will likely prove fatal.

Percy Quinlan, ten years old, was run over by a car which was being moved along the waterfront track at Liverpool yesterday, and crushed to death.

Deposited Her Ashes

Chicago, Aug. 9.—A metal box containing the incinerated body of Mrs. Rosa Payton was sunk in Lake Michigan yesterday from the deck of an excursion steamer while throngs of passengers looked on with bared heads and the steamship orchestra played a dirge. Twenty-nine years ago the husband of Mrs. Payton was lost with scores of victims in the wreck of the steamer Alpena, and it was the wish of his widow that her body be cremated and the ashes thrown in mid-lake near the place of the wreck.

JOKE ON HIM.

Went to Dundurn to Take Away a Live Bear.

Some humorous person had a good joke on George Stroud on Saturday. Last Thursday one of the bears at Dundurn Park died and Mr. Stroud was notified to take the animal away and sent his colored driver to do so. On Saturday he received another telephone call, saying the other bear had died and he again sent his helper to remove the animal. The driver was proceeding up York street at a fast clip, when he met one of the park officials, who stopped him and asked why he was in such a hurry and he replied: "I'm going after the other bear before the flies can get at it." The park official did not endeavor to stop him, but preferred to have him find out the joke himself. When he reached the castle and found the bear strolling around in the cage he was non-plussed. The animal was not even sick, and as the park officials objected to him taking it away alive, he had to return without it.

COMMITTED.

Edward Book Pleased Guilty of False Pretense.

Edward Book appeared before Mayor Lawton this morning, charged with obtaining goods by false pretense. Some time ago he asked for goods from the Kerr Milling Company, representing himself as a flour and feed dealer in Vineland. He was accommodated, and later returned for more goods, still claiming to be a dealer and made a payment on the first consignment. Subsequently the milling company learned that he was not a dealer at all, and had him summoned. He pleaded guilty, and was sent up for trial by the Mayor.

Book was arrested by Constable Tufford at Beamsville.

LATE HOURS.

Factory Inspector Objects to Long Hours For Girls.

An Effort Will be Made to Have It Stopped.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Toronto, Aug. 9.—A decided step to check the constant employment of girls in shops to a late hour every night may shortly be expected to be taken by the Ontario Government. The attention of Mr. J. T. Burke, chief inspector of the Shops and Factories Act, was called this morning to a report of a recent deputation from the Employers' Association, which waited on the All Government some time ago, asking that the rigor of the law be relaxed. The cases under consideration effect not only Hamilton and Toronto, but the whole of Ontario. Said Mr. Burke: "The act says plainly that no owner of a shop shall employ a child, girl or woman later than 6 o'clock at night, except on Saturdays and days before a holiday, when closing hour is fixed at 10 o'clock. Many shopkeepers have been simply running wild and totally disregarding the law. We have been and are still busy collecting statistics, and when the proper time comes will make representations to the Minister, with a view to stopping the abuses which have arisen. In the case of factories, we are empowered to grant a permit which will allow the factory to run till 9 o'clock for 26 nights in the year, but the law does not give us this discretion with regard to shops."

It is a difficult matter to regulate. We do not wish to see justice done, but we want the law enforced. There are a great many different kinds of shops employing girls as clerks. Take, for instance, the milliners' business, a woman employing five girls or over, comes under the head of a factory, and can get a permit as such while the woman with only four girls can not. The ice-cream parlors do a great deal of their business after the theatre, and after the boats are in at night. In the districts where the working classes live most of the shopping is done at night. We have tried to be reasonable, but in many cases shopkeepers have disregarded us and we have been compelled to notify them to stop. So long as the shopkeeper does not exceed 60 hours a week, and shows a disposition to be reasonable and considerate with his girls, we have not interfered with him, but we do not propose to allow men to work their girls till nine or ten or eleven every night. It will have to be stopped, and just as soon as our statistics are complete we will see that it is stopped. If the law is rigidly enforced it will effect village stores as well as city ones, and Mr. Burke pointed out that during the former's busiest season, most of the shopping is done at night. The department has been repeatedly petitioned by employees while the labor interests are just as anxious that the law should be carefully enforced.

HIS BUSY DAY.

Who was the busiest man in the city on Saturday? Well, it would be safe to say P. C. English, driver of the patrol and ambulance wagons. He was out no less than twenty-one times during the day, conveying the sick to the hospitals and the law-breakers to No. 3.

—This is Brantford's Civic Holiday.

—Alex. McCrae fell from an apple tree at Vinemount on Saturday while picking apples, and broke his leg. He was brought to the City Hospital, where Dr. McGregor set the bone. To-day the injured young man is doing well.

—Victor Pierson, son of Inspector Pierson, of the street railway, who was injured on Friday by falling from a tree, is rapidly recovering, and has been taken to his home. It will be some time before the arm will be completely healed.
