"What sort of barbarians live in Australia? We do not mean the aborigines, but the Europeans who have colonized that part of the world. The cables informed us that they hanged O'Farrel who fired at and wounded—sort killed—the Duke of Edinburgh, the Queen's second son. We, benighted American citizens, thought that capital punishment was inflicted only on alleged murderers, even within the British dominions; but here we have a man executed for a murder that was never committed at all! Even if poor O'Farrel was a sanh man, he may have intended only to wound that royal young scamp. At all events, he judy wounded that you have a man and the transported sheep-stealers, house-burners, forgers, burglars marderers, and their descendants who now rule the roast in the historic regions of 'Sgridey, Melbourner, Botany Bay and Van Dieman's Land, are so loyal to the mother that bore them—to the worthy dam of such worthy offepring—that for a mere scratch on a bit of royal skin, a poor plebian must pay the swful pegalty of death by strangulation. This would be bad enough if the said plebian were one who could be held re-pionsible for his acts by responsible men; but the fact is, the unfortunate O'Farrel was a raving lunatie! This is the nineteenth century in America; but the barbarism of the dark ages still flourishes among the respectable pick-pockets and highwaymen at the penal settlement of New Holland, and, indeed, in any other spot in this world over which the nurder-stained flag of England flungs its blighting shadow." "What sort of barbarians live in Australia? We do not

In an article on the policy of Russia, suggested by the Asia, the Quebec Chronicle thus contrasts the policy pur Great Britain :-

Great Britain:

"The two powers present a singular contrast—England half disposed to abandon some of her colonies, as was Rome in the days of her decline, and Russia cager to enarge her habitable domain at whatever cost. The future may witness intrigues and efforts of every character on the part of the two great European powers, which now share a vast portion of Asia between them, for the mastery over the Afighanistan gate to India. With the many wonderful advantages in Britain's slove, uservaing from her enormousy and vast portions of the international supremacy, her extensive command of the innumerable side of at and science her growing influence in India. ition of its people, and with the proligious means or ence and aggression which 150 millions of people unde ule of Victoria afford, there is little fear of Russia ab ing the Indian Empire for many a long year. The great lesson which Russia's progress should teach Britain is the government of India in the way best calculated to extend the blessings of Western civilization throughout the land. Let England rule India with kindness and wisdom, and she will be in the best of the matter than the control of the control will lay in the hearts of the people the for adation of a minion which will defy the utmost craft and violen

Mr. James Quinn, a Waterloo man, who now resider in Georgetown, came up to town on Thursday, the 18th Jane, as he has been in the habit of doing since he wint to King's County, to see his friends and enjoy a holiday in honor of that anniversary. Though well stricken in years, Mr. Quinn looks hale and hearty. He is as "straight as a resh," and on his breast proudly wears the Waterloo medal. He lived a long time with the late Hon. Mr. Haviland, and one of the conditions of his engagement was that he should have a "free pass on the eighteenth," an indulgence readily conceded and never abused. Proud of his country and her military glory, Mr. Quinn celebrates the anniversary of one of England's greatest victories with the spirit of a thorough soldier. We hope he may long live in health and happiness to visit the Capital on many an 18th of June yet to come, and we are sure that all his old friends, and acquaintaneos will greet him with yearly increasing respect and esteem.—Patriot.

We are proud to see that several of our Island young men distinguished themselves at the examination of the Acadia College lately held in Wolfville, Nowa Scotia. The Alumni Essay prize of $40 was awarded to Mr. W. A. D. Makinlay, of P. E. Island. Two out of four Scholarship Prizes, $20 cach, were won by Island mem. Mr. John McDonald and Mr. Neil McLeod. Honor certificates were also awarded to Messrs. Makinlay, Ms. Donald, and McLeod. We do not know what proportion the Island students bear to the whole number now attending the Acadia College, but it must be pretty great if they have not borne away more than their proportionate share of prizes and honors.—Ex.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: Dr. Gumming's son—Martin Luther Cumming—applied on the 25th instant in the Court of Bankruptey for his discharge. The opposing creditor was Mr. Neal, jeweller, of the Edgware road. It appeared that Martin Luther Cumming, who was described as formerly of Oriel College, then of High street, Oxford, afterwards of Montague place, Bussel square, and now of Whitecross-street prison, had found the income allowed by his father whilst at Oxford insufficient to meet the expenses of the style of life he had adopted there, and that he had been introduced by another under-graduate named Prescott, who has since himself passed through the Bankruptey Court, to Mr. Neal, whether to purchase lewellry or to borrow money was not stated. The Commissioners animadverted upon the facilities and temptations to extravagance afforded by our college life, and sent Martin Luther back to prison to amend his schedule of accounts.

FATHER HECKER OF THE "CATHOLIC WORLS."—Referring to the tour of lecturing and preaching recently undertaken by Father Hecker, in some of our Western cities, the N. Y. Independent says: "Except by an occasional phrase, it is said that his preaching difference in the discourse of any devout, sagacious and eloquent Protestant revivalist. At Chicago, he preached in the cathedral, and afterward gave in the Opera House, to an overflowing andlence, his lecture on 'The Church and the Republic'—a lecture in which he argues for the paradox that the religious teachings of the Roman Catholic Church are not only compatible with republican institutions, but absolutely necessary to their perpetuity. Father Hecker is a cousummate orator and dialectician. He has a grace of manner which reminds one of Wendell Phillipe. Most Protestant preachers could profit by a few lessons from him in the art of putting things to the head, the heart and the conscience of an audience. Need we add that he speaks extemporaneously."
