IN IRELAND.

BY THE "PRINCE" EDWARD ISLAND WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 17 1890

THE MARRIAGE OF A BARTHOLOMEW.

September, 1872.
To the Editor of The Times:
You have lately, in your article on the Marriage of S. Bartholomew's Day, thrown a challenge to me on a serious subject. I have no claim to speak for my brethren; but I speak in default of better men.
No Pope can make evil good. No Pope has any power over those eternal moral principles which God has imprinted on our hearts and consciences. If any Pope has, with his eyes open, approval, fraterarchy, or cruelty, let those who defend that Pope who can. If any Pope at any time has had his mind occupied with the desires of the Church's triumph over her brethren, as to be to the treacherous and savage acts by which that triumph was achieved, let those who defend that Pope who can. If any Pope at any time has had his mind occupied with the desires of the Church's triumph over her brethren, as to be to the treacherous and savage acts by which that triumph was achieved, let those who defend that Pope who can.
