Dedication of St. Dunstan's Cathedral.

On Thursday last the 13th inst., St. Dunstan's Cathedral, Charlottetown, was solemnly dedicated to the service of Almighty God, with imposing ceremonies, by his Lordship, Bishop McDonald, assisted by several priests and in the presence of a vast concourse of people.

The nave is divided from the aisles by twelve composite gothic marble columns, six on each side. These are forty feet high and are crowned by marbled capitals. From these columns rise the six main arches of the nave, spanning the great vault above. The height from the floor to the ridge is about 60 feet. The twelve great columns are balanced by twelve marble mural columns, on the main walls of the edifice, six on each side, corresponding to the six pillars respectively. These mural columns are supported by pedestals, exquisitely carved in gothic foliage and finished in white and gold. About twenty ornamental pendants descend from the ridge. These are of different sizes, the larger ones in the centre of the main arches, and the smaller ones between. These pendants are artistically decorated in gothic foliage and are finished in antique ivory and gold. From the six main pendants will descend six crozier ornaments. These, with numerous jets from sides, arches and pillars, will light the church. The organ gallery at the rear extends across the width of the nave, 50 feet and is 30 feet wide.

The Sanctuary, from the Communion rail to the back, is 45 feet long and the width is 36 feet. In the Sanctuary the architecture reaches its highest degree of perfection. Three vaulted arches observe the same tracery as those of the nave, and are ornamented with like decorated pendants. Then there are eight that rise around the rear of the sanctuary and curve gracefully to a common apex where they culminate. All these sanctuary arches rise from mural marble columns with decorated pedestals, same as those already described. On either side of the sanctuary, there are two rows of stalls, extending back to the high altar. These stalls are carved and ornamented, and the backs rise about eight feet; the Gospel side at the end of the stalls, near the front of the sanctuary, stands the Bishop's throne. Opposite this throne, on the Epistle side, is the seat of the celebrant of the Mass. On the Epistle side, also, close to the Communion rail, is the pulpit. The Bishop's throne and the pulpit are carved and ornamented pieces of workmanship. The Sanctuary floor is reached by five steps from the floor of the church, two up to the Communion rail and three about five feet inside the railing. The front of the sanctuary is surrounded by a balustrade on either side about 3 feet high, curving gracefully and terminating at the inner steps.

The high altar, is a beautiful piece of gothic architecture, carved and ornamented. It has side pinnacles rising to a height of 40 feet, and is to be surmounted by a statue of St. Dunstan that will bring the centre to a height of over 55 feet. The altar table is of white marble. There will be four other altars, in chapels on each side of the high altar and at the ends of the transept. The waistcoating is about two feet and a half high and is of birch tinted with cherry. The Communion rail is of cherry, birch and white wood. The Bishop's throne and the pulpit are of the same kinds of wood. The pews are in oak, ash and elm. The church is all plastered from floor to ridge, and is painted in stone green, antique ivory and lavender. The church has a seating capacity of about 1,500.

The contractor for the interior finish is Mr. Bernard Oreamer. For the marble work, the contractor was Mr. Regali of Quebec, and with him was associated Mr. Noenti of New York, under whose supervision the work was done. The painter is Mr. Joseph Molinis, of Charlottetown, and the foreman of the work was Mr. Joseph Oreamer. The work was carried on under the supervision of Mr. Laberge of Quebec, architect, representing Mr. Burlingame. The church when finished, will cost upwards of $200,000.

The above description will convey to the minds of our readers some general idea of the magnificent temple solemnly dedicated to divine service, on Thursday last by his Lordship, Bishop McDonald. A few minutes before ten o'clock the officiating Bishop and his assistant priests, as well as all the visiting bishops and clergy, moved in procession from the episcopal palace to the church, emerging from the front entrance on Great George street, and proceeding along the last named street to the grand entrance of the Cathedral. Arriving there, his Lordship at once commenced the dedicatory ceremonies. Having sung the opening prayer, he sprinkled the church with holy water. He and his assistants then made a circuit of the exterior of the church sprinkling the walls, and reciting the prescribed prayers. Meantime a choir of priests chanted the hymns and canticles proper for such occasions. The Bishop and clergy having returned to the front entrance, other prayers were sung and then the Bishop, officiating clergy and singers entered; when the doors were again closed. The Bishop and priests proceeded to the Sanctuary when the litany was chanted and the interior walls were sprinkled with holy water. This concluded the ceremonies of dedication, and the doors were opened and the people admitted. Meanwhile the Bishop and his assistants vested for Mass.

His Lordship Bishop McDonald was celebrant of the Solemn Pontifical Mass, and was assisted at the Mass, as well as in the ceremony of dedication, by the following priests: Arch-priest, Rev. Dr. Carran; deacons of honor, Rev. Dr. A. B. McDonald, and J. S. Gallant; deacon of office, Rev. J. B. McIntyre, sub-deacon Rev. M. J. Smith; master of ceremonies, Rev. Dr. Gregory, J. McLellan.

Most Rev. Archbishop McCarthy of Halifax, occupied a throne on the Epistle side of the Sanctuary, opposite the Bishop's throne, and was assisted by Rev. D. M. McDonald, and Rev. R. B. McDonald, Most Rev. Ronald McDonald titular Archbishop of Gortyn; Rt. Rev. Dr. Barry, Bishop of Chatham, Rt. Rev. Dr. Bruneau, Bishop of Nicolet, and Very Rev. Mgr. Daly, V. G. Halifax, occupied specially arranged seats in the sanctuary. The other visiting clergy included Very Rev. W. F. Chapman, V. G. St. John; Very Rev. Dr. McDonald, V. G. St. Andrew's, Antigonish; Very Rev. Dr. Thompson, V. G. Gloucester; Rev. Father L. Courtois, Rector of the Endicott Seminary, Halifax; Rev. Dr. Gaetan CSC President St. Joseph's College, Memramcook; Rev. R. McDonald, Westville; Rev. M. A. McAdam, Antigonish; Rev. Dr. O'Leary, Chatham, Rev. Dr. Savage, Moncton, Rev. E. Duke, C. S. S. R. St. John, Rev. Father McQuillan, Halifax, Rev. J. B. McDonald, Grafton, N. B., Rev. W. B. Hamilton, Halifax; Rev. J. B. Hazelton, S. J. Montreal, Very Rev. Father Herbert, V. G., St. John, and others. These with almost all the priests of the diocese occupied seats in the sanctuary.

The service was most solemn and imposing, and was attended by an immense congregation. All the seats were occupied and many were obliged to stand in the aisles, and in every available portion of space. The high altar and the sanctuary were most appropriately adorned for the occasion with lights, flowers and evergreens. The choir rendered splendid music, and everything proceeded with the utmost precision and harmony. At the conclusion of Mass R. J. M. Reardon, of St. Paul, ascended the pulpit and delivered the sermon of the occasion. It was a masterpiece of eloquence and erudition. Following is the full text of the sermon:

THE TEACHER OF NATIONS.

"Going therefore teach ye all nations—Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and behold I am with you all days even to the consummation of the world."

"I hear you are a candidate for office."

Sprained Arm.

Mary Ovington, Jasper, Ont., writes:—"My mother had a badly sprained arm. Nothing we used did her any good. Then father got Hayward's Yellow Oil and it cured mother's arm in a few days." Price 25c.

"Did you find anything abnormal about this woman?" asked the lawyer.

"Well she claimed to like to wash dishes," replied the expert.

You will never be able to make people look up to you by talking down to them.

Minard's Liniment cures colds, etc.

Kidney Disease And Its Danger.

Kidney disease comes on quietly—may have been in the system for years, before you suspected the real cause of your trouble. There may have been backaches, neuritis, sciatica, rheumatism, etc. Perhaps you did not know these were symptoms of kidney disease, so the trouble kept on growing worse, until disturbance of the water appeared, or there was gravel or retention of urine, or some such sign of kidney trouble.

Don't's Kidney Pills should be taken at the first sign of anything wrong; they strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly—help them to flush off, and carry away with the surplus water, all those impurities which the blood gathers up in its circuit of the body.

Mrs. Alfred LeBlanc, Black Cape, Que., writes:—"I feel it my duty to say a word about DONALD'S KIDNEY PILLS. I suffered dreadful pains across my back—so bad I could not stoop or bend. After having used two boxes I now feel most completely cured. I highly recommend DONALD'S KIDNEY PILLS."
