 do< tormer host, became a veritable ranchero, and comprehost, became a veritable ranchero, and comprehended to be papublic house, taking pains to inform all equiring friends of the previ-ous proprietor that he latter had gone to the lower country. This seemed a plausible with the information of the missing man, who had is encalling at the house and were afterward scarching for their horses, found human hones and a complete hand, upon which they di-toovery they demanded an explanation from their late host, and was informed, that the remains in question belonged to an Indian who had been recently killed, and that he would burn them. No somer was the con-versation ended than the supposed ex-preach er commenced carrying out his intention to do the missing Irishman, mistrusting that all was not right, deterred him, and commenced closely questening him. When finally driven to the wall he marks such confessions as prov-ed him to be the most guilty wretch that ever diagraced God's tootsole by his presence.-He had never bought the ranch, but had for-gand abill of sale from his tormer landord, and afterwards muddred him. Not satisfied with this our informant tells us, he hacked to pieces and coxted the corpse of the unfor-mate man, and served it up in variously pre-pared dashes, to the travellers stopping at his place. We rejoice that the villanous hypo-erite has been hung.
