

MADE IN CANADA

GILLETT'S PERFUMED LYE

Is the Standard Article
READY FOR USE IN ANY QUANTITY

For making soap, softening water, removing old paint, disinfecting sinks, closets, drains and for many other purposes. A can equals 20 lbs. SAL SODA.

Original for 500 purposes—J. S. Gillett, Sole Distributor.

E. W. GILLETT COMPANY LIMITED TORONTO, ONT.

Tale of Mystery

CHAPTER XXIII.
TRAPPED.

"I'm afraid I should have said no, had you asked me in the first place," said Dessie, candidly. She was annoyed, and did not conceal it.

"I am really very sorry. Shall I stop him now?" and he took the check string in his hand. "I will if you wish it; but you can really do a little service, and it is not far now."

Dessie's good nature conquered her irritation.

"I can really be of no use to you whatever in this matter, but if you wish to make the call, don't hesitate on my account."

"I have not asked you much," he returned, as if a little annoyed and disappointed at her manner after the help he had been to her in the matter of the women; and feeling this, Dessie was more gracious.

In this way he blinded her completely to the fact that the house he was taking her to was his own, and that his object was infinitely treacherous and cowardly, and when the carriage was slackened and after passing through a pair of gates and along a circular carriage drive was pulled up sharply in front of a small house standing by itself in pretty secluded grounds, she still had no suspicion.

"This is the place. Will you come in?" asked her companion, and his manner showed his nervousness now that the critical moment had come.

Dessie seemed to notice the change, and it made her hesitate about leaving the carriage and entering the house.

"I don't think I'll come in," she said, peering out at the house. "I don't like the look of the place. Do you know anything of the people?"

"Everything," he answered, recovering himself at smiling. "Come in. I shan't be more than three minutes settling everything."

Dessie yielded reluctantly a nod against a subtle instinct which warned her that all was not right. She rose slowly when the door had been opened and followed the baronet up the steps of the house.

Suffered Terrible Pains from His Kidneys.

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body, and most people are troubled with some kind of kidney complaint, but do not suspect it.

There is no way of getting the kidney poisons out of the system except through the kidneys, and no medicine so effective in taking them out as Dr. Bovei's Herb Tablets.

They help the kidneys to flush out the acid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and urinary passages.

Mr. C. Jordan of Port Sandfield, writes as follows:

Gentlemen:— It gives me the pleasure to testify to the merits of Dr. Bovei's Herb Tablets. I suffered terribly from kidney disease for three years, which trouble I contracted from exposure while working at my trade which is carpentering. I was advised to try your medicine. I am thankful to say that I am now completely cured, and I can truthfully recommend this medicine to all sufferers from this painful disease.

Thankfully yours,
C. JORDAN.

For sale by all Druggists and Dealers. If your Dealer cannot supply you send 25c. (in stamps) to us.

BOVEL MANFG. CO'Y.
St. John's, Nfld.,
or Montreal, Can.

As she was in the act of entering, the sound of wheels caught her ears, and turning to glance back she saw a cab enter the carriage drive at a quick pace, the occupant being the Count de Montalt.

She stopped on the very threshold, and would have turned back, but her companion grasped her arm firmly.

"This is the room, Miss Merriem," he exclaimed, and hurried her into one on the right. Then with a laugh, he added, "I call this now the cage, and you are the bird."

"What do you mean?" exclaimed Dessie, very angrily.

"Simply that this house is mine and you are my guest."

"You mean you have trapped me here?" cried the girl indignantly.

"I mean that I am only too delighted to have you as my guest; but this gentleman will help to explain matters," and as he spoke the Count de Montalt entered the room.

CHAPTER XXIV.
IN THE HANDS OF THE ENEMY.

The Count came in smiling and suave as usual, and his eyes showed a gleam of excitement at the success of the plan which had been so rapidly formed.

Dessie herself was filled with fear but she was far too shrewd to betray her feelings. She knew the character of the one man profoundly—that there was no length of villainy and even cruelty from which he would flinch. To let him see that she was afraid of him would have been sheer madness.

As to Sir Edward Landale, she was in doubt. He was rather de Montalt's dupe than his accomplice, and it remained for her to see how far he was a conscious tool. Much would depend upon her accurate reading of the relations between the two men and on the adroitness with which she could play off the one against the other.

But her contempt for the baronet was intense, and she could not but recognise how insecure her chances of escape from evil were, since the depended only or mainly upon his not proving so big a rascal as he appeared.

It was a desperate position. Indeed as the considerations flashed on after another through the girl's thoughts she seemed to understand how great her peril might really be and what terrible consequences would certainly follow any false move on her part.

Her first step was clear. She must ascertain what the men wanted. Putting a bold front upon matters, therefore, she waited until the Count had closed the door, and then addressed him sharply:

"Sir Edmund Landale tells me that you have taken the chief part in entrapping me here. Why have you done so?"

"My dear Miss Merriem, you can surely answer that question for yourself, without my help," he answered smoothly. "There can be but one reason. My friend has an overpowering desire for your company. His interests are mine; his desires, in this case, mine—" he spoke here with a double meaning, which he managed to convey in a particularly expressive glance, "and what could I do but place my poor services at his disposal?"

"You are not speaking the truth," said Dessie, curtly. "You are not the man to act without having your own interests first. What is it that you want? What is your price?" she asked contemptuously.

"You are naturally angry at having been caught in this way—and I excuse that most gratuitous insult. I have no price. I seek nothing. So far as I am concerned you are free as air to go when you please."

"You mean you were paid to get me here, and having done, your dirty work your master will pay you?"

"I mean nothing of the kind," he replied, imperturbably. "I have no object whatever of my own to seek." He was lying, obviously; and the girl rapidly sought for the reason, ransacking her mind for a probable clue to his conduct. Why should he deny that he had an object in getting her into the power of himself and the other?

"If I can go I will," said Dessie, suddenly; and she turned and walked quickly to the door. The baronet put himself in the way, while de Montalt looked on smiling.

"You can't go yet, Dessie," said the former.

"Will you tell me the truth—why I have been brought here? Do you believe that man when he says he has no object of his own to serve in trapping me?"

"It does not matter to me whether he has or not," was the answer, doggedly spoken. "You are here, in my house—in my power if you will; and I cannot let you go."

"What is your price?" asked the girl, defiantly.

"You can only leave this house as my wife." The answer came, clearly spoken, with a determination that evidenced the obstinacy of a selfish man.

"Then I will die here," answered the girl, with equal determination, as she moved back and sat down.

The Count laughed.

"It is a very pretty situation," he said, "very pretty indeed. Strophon is a very great purpose, but I caught pretty Phyllis in the toils, and threatens all the pains and penalties of unrequited love if she will not yield to his suit; and Phyllis sits down in a chair and calls on Death to come and shake her resolutely with a touch of his cold, grimy finger. I don't think you'll wait for death, Miss Merriem. You'll find him a cold consoler."

Dessie took no notice of him; and a long silence followed, broken a length by a sneering laugh from the Count.

"I think you ought to know part of the truth, at any rate. I am no ashamed nor afraid to tell my share in this business. You owe it to me, entirely, and not to my friend here that you have been brought to this house. I ought to make the admission, and I do freely, because otherwise you may do what I see you are inclined to do—put some of the blame upon him. I told this gentleman that it was a matter of the greatest urgency for me to have you taken somewhere in order that I might have an absolute secret interview. He believed me; and I laid the plans accordingly. As you have probably guessed, the crowd of women into whose midst you walked half an hour ago were paid by me to molest you. In the middle of it Sir Edmund herded you and you jumped into my brougham in the belief that you were being saved from a very awkward fix. A word or two of explanation secured your being brought here to this house. And my friend consented to the little deception because he believed he was rendering me a service. There I deceived him. That is the true story of your coming here; and until now I have not had an opportunity to explain to him that my motive was not at all what he thought but solely to help him. I caused him to do what, for himself and on his own account, he would never have done; and you must please not blame him when the whole share falls on me. I am not afraid to carry it."

He shrugged his shoulders as he finished, and with a waft of the hand seemed to throw the responsibility away from him.

"I am sure that it is not true," said Dessie, readily. "In the first place it sounds false; and in the second it is so utterly out of character with everything I know about you, that I don't believe it for a moment. Do you know who this man is?" she asked turning upon Sir Edmund and pointing at de Montalt.

The latter interposed swiftly.

"The question is not who I am; and we should not accept the description of a young lady who, having been considerably outwitted, is angry with the man who has outwitted her."

He looked at her with a warning

When You Feel Cross

And are worried and irritated you can get the liver right by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Life is too short to be cross and grouchy. You not only make yourself miserable, but also those about you. Don't blame others. Blame yourself for not keeping the liver right.

There is nothing in the world which will more promptly afford you relief than Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. This statement is true. A trial will convince you.

Mr. Theo. Bedard, Lac aux Sables, Portneuf County, Que., writes,—"I have found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the best treatment obtainable for indigestion and impure blood. They cured me of indigestion, from which I suffered for four years.

"This certificate is given without solicitation, so that others may not waste their money buying medicines of no value when they can get Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I am convinced are the best."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

replied, imperturbably. "I have no object whatever of my own to seek." He was lying, obviously; and the girl rapidly sought for the reason, ransacking her mind for a probable clue to his conduct. Why should he deny that he had an object in getting her into the power of himself and the other?

"If I can go I will," said Dessie, suddenly; and she turned and walked quickly to the door. The baronet put himself in the way, while de Montalt looked on smiling.

"You can't go yet, Dessie," said the former.

"Will you tell me the truth—why I have been brought here? Do you believe that man when he says he has no object of his own to serve in trapping me?"

"It does not matter to me whether he has or not," was the answer, doggedly spoken. "You are here, in my house—in my power if you will; and I cannot let you go."

"What is your price?" asked the girl, defiantly.

"You can only leave this house as my wife." The answer came, clearly spoken, with a determination that evidenced the obstinacy of a selfish man.

"Then I will die here," answered the girl, with equal determination, as she moved back and sat down.

The Count laughed.

"It is a very pretty situation," he said, "very pretty indeed. Strophon is a very great purpose, but I caught pretty Phyllis in the toils, and threatens all the pains and penalties of unrequited love if she will not yield to his suit; and Phyllis sits down in a chair and calls on Death to come and shake her resolutely with a touch of his cold, grimy finger. I don't think you'll wait for death, Miss Merriem. You'll find him a cold consoler."

Dessie took no notice of him; and a long silence followed, broken a length by a sneering laugh from the Count.

"I think you ought to know part of the truth, at any rate. I am no ashamed nor afraid to tell my share in this business. You owe it to me, entirely, and not to my friend here that you have been brought to this house. I ought to make the admission, and I do freely, because otherwise you may do what I see you are inclined to do—put some of the blame upon him. I told this gentleman that it was a matter of the greatest urgency for me to have you taken somewhere in order that I might have an absolute secret interview. He believed me; and I laid the plans accordingly. As you have probably guessed, the crowd of women into whose midst you walked half an hour ago were paid by me to molest you. In the middle of it Sir Edmund herded you and you jumped into my brougham in the belief that you were being saved from a very awkward fix. A word or two of explanation secured your being brought here to this house. And my friend consented to the little deception because he believed he was rendering me a service. There I deceived him. That is the true story of your coming here; and until now I have not had an opportunity to explain to him that my motive was not at all what he thought but solely to help him. I caused him to do what, for himself and on his own account, he would never have done; and you must please not blame him when the whole share falls on me. I am not afraid to carry it."

He shrugged his shoulders as he finished, and with a waft of the hand seemed to throw the responsibility away from him.

"I am sure that it is not true," said Dessie, readily. "In the first place it sounds false; and in the second it is so utterly out of character with everything I know about you, that I don't believe it for a moment. Do you know who this man is?" she asked turning upon Sir Edmund and pointing at de Montalt.

The latter interposed swiftly.

"The question is not who I am; and we should not accept the description of a young lady who, having been considerably outwitted, is angry with the man who has outwitted her."

He looked at her with a warning

H.P. SAUCE

Gives a new enjoyment to the daily fare.

Even the plainest food becomes tasty, appetising and digestible with H.P. Sauce.

Not like any other sauce—different—quite different.

and threatening expression which made her pause.

She began to read the riddle now; and the knowledge gave her some little encouragement.

Clearly he did not wish her to tell the baronet his real character; and this told her that his apparent indifference to her presence in the house was the result of some calculated purpose. This gave her a ray of hope. If he was playing a double game, against Sir Edmund Landale as well as against herself, her own wits would probably soon show her a way to help herself. She must first see what knowledge the other man possessed.

"How much do you know of what has passed between this gentleman and myself? Has he told you anything?" she asked sharply, turning again to Sir Edmund.

"What is there that he should know?" interpolated Montalt.

"What do I want to know? That is the question. I care not a jot for anything he may have said to you or to him. You are here. That is enough for me."

"I begin to understand the position now," said the girl, quietly. "And it will not turn out as you think. My friends are neither fools nor powerless."

To be continued.

The Ladies of St. John's May Now Grow Beautiful Hair.

McMurdo & Co. backed up by the manufacturers of SALVIA, the Great Hair Grower, guarantees it to grow hair.

SALVIA destroys Dandruff in ten days.

The roots of the hair is so nourished and fed that a new crop of hair springs up, to the amazement and delight of the user. The hair is made soft and fluffy. Like all American preparations SALVIA is daintily perfumed. It is hard to find an actress who does not use SALVIA continually. A large bottle for 50c.

THE LONDON DIRECTOR

(Published Annually)

ENABLES traders throughout the World to communicate direct with English

MANUFACTURERS & DEALERS in each class of goods. Besides being a complete commercial guide to London and its suburbs, the Directory contains lists of

EXPORT MERCHANTS with their goods they ship, and the Colonies and Foreign Markets they supply.

STEAMSHIP LINES arranged under the Ports to which the sail, and indicating the approximate sailings;

PROVINCIAL TRADE NOTICES of leading Manufacturers, Merchants, in the principal provincial towns and industrial centres of the United Kingdom.

A copy of the current edition will be forwarded, freight paid, on receipt of Postal Order for 20s.

Dealers seeking Agencies can advertise their trade cards for £1, or large advertisements from 5s.

THE LONDON DIRECTORY Co. Ltd.
25, Abchurch Lane, London, E. C.

EUROPEAN AGENCY.

WHOLESALE Indents promptly executed at lowest cash prices for all kinds of British and Continental goods, including—

Books and Stationery, Boots, Shoes and Leather, Chemicals and Druggists' Sundries, China, Earthenware and Glassware, Cycles, Motors and Accessories, Drapery, Millinery and Fancy Goods, Fancy Goods and Perfumery, Hardware, Machinery and Metals, Jewellery, Plate and Watches, Photographic and Optical Goods, Provisions and Oilmen's Stores, etc., etc.

Commission 2 1/2 per cent. to 5 per cent. Trade Discounts allowed. Special Quotations on Demand. Sample Cases from £10 upwards. Consignments of Produce Sold on Account (Established 1814.)

WILLIAM WILSON & SON
Cable Address: "ANNAPOLIS LONDON."
25 Abchurch Lane, London, E. C.

Evening Telegram Fashion Plates.

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Pattern Cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

8927.—A GRACEFUL BECOMING MODEL.

8927

Girl's Dress.

For school or general wear this design will develop nicely in any of this season's fabrics. It may also be developed in challis, foulard, dimity, mull, muslin, or cashmere. The waist is finished with a flat collar and is trimmed with a shaped panel over the centre. This may be omitted. The skirt is plaited. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. It requires 4 yards of 44 inch material for the 8 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Suitable materials for any of these patterns can be procured from AYRE & SONS, Ltd. Samples on request. Mention pattern number. Mail orders promptly attended to.

8930.—A PLEASING MODEL FOR WASH OR WOOLEN FABRICS.

8930

Girl's Dress With or Without Yoke Facings and with Full Length or Shorter Sleeves.

Dotted percale in white and red was used to develop this model, which is also well adapted to linen, lawn, dimity, gingham, chambray, maxilla, or similar materials. The Dutch neck edge is pleasing and cool for warm days. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 44 inch material for the 8 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Please send the above-mentioned pattern as per directions given below

No.

Name

Address in full:

N.B.—Be sure to cut out the illustration and send with the coupon, carefully filled out. The pattern cannot reach you in less than 15 days. Price 10c. each, in cash, postal note, or stamps. Address: Telegram Pattern Department.

replied, imperturbably. "I have no object whatever of my own to seek." He was lying, obviously; and the girl rapidly sought for the reason, ransacking her mind for a probable clue to his conduct. Why should he deny that he had an object in getting her into the power of himself and the other?

"If I can go I will," said Dessie, suddenly; and she turned and walked quickly to the door. The baronet put himself in the way, while de Montalt looked on smiling.

"You can't go yet, Dessie," said the former.

"Will you tell me the truth—why I have been brought here? Do you believe that man when he says he has no object of his own to serve in trapping me?"

"It does not matter to me whether he has or not," was the answer, doggedly spoken. "You are here, in my house—in my power if you will; and I cannot let you go."

"What is your price?" asked the girl, defiantly.

"You can only leave this house as my wife." The answer came, clearly spoken, with a determination that evidenced the obstinacy of a selfish man.

"Then I will die here," answered the girl, with equal determination, as she moved back and sat down.

The Count laughed.

"It is a very pretty situation," he said, "very pretty indeed. Strophon is a very great purpose, but I caught pretty Phyllis in the toils, and threatens all the pains and penalties of unrequited love if she will not yield to his suit; and Phyllis sits down in a chair and calls on Death to come and shake her resolutely with a touch of his cold, grimy finger. I don't think you'll wait for death, Miss Merriem. You'll find him a cold consoler."

Dessie took no notice of him; and a long silence followed, broken a length by a sneering laugh from the Count.

"I think you ought to know part of the truth, at any rate. I am no ashamed nor afraid to tell my share in this business. You owe it to me, entirely, and not to my friend here that you have been brought to this house. I ought to make the admission, and I do freely, because otherwise you may do what I see you are inclined to do—put some of the blame upon him. I told this gentleman that it was a matter of the greatest urgency for me to have you taken somewhere in order that I might have an absolute secret interview. He believed me; and I laid the plans accordingly. As you have probably guessed, the crowd of women into whose midst you walked half an hour ago were paid by me to molest you. In the middle of it Sir Edmund herded you and you jumped into my brougham in the belief that you were being saved from a very awkward fix. A word or two of explanation secured your being brought here to this house. And my friend consented to the little deception because he believed he was rendering me a service. There I deceived him. That is the true story of your coming here; and until now I have not had an opportunity to explain to him that my motive was not at all what he thought but solely to help him. I caused him to do what, for himself and on his own account, he would never have done; and you must please not blame him when the whole share falls on me. I am not afraid to carry it."

He shrugged his shoulders as he finished, and with a waft of the hand seemed to throw the responsibility away from him.

"I am sure that it is not true," said Dessie, readily. "In the first place it sounds false; and in the second it is so utterly out of character with everything I know about you, that I don't believe it for a moment. Do you know who this man is?" she asked turning upon Sir Edmund and pointing at de Montalt.

The latter interposed swiftly.

"The question is not who I am; and we should not accept the description of a young lady who, having been considerably outwitted, is angry with the man who has outwitted her."

He looked at her with a warning

When You Feel Cross

And are worried and irritated you can get the liver right by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Life is too short to be cross and grouchy. You not only make yourself miserable, but also those about you. Don't blame others. Blame yourself for not keeping the liver right.

There is nothing in the world which will more promptly afford you relief than Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. This statement is true. A trial will convince you.

Mr. Theo. Bedard, Lac aux Sables, Portneuf County, Que., writes,—"I have found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the best treatment obtainable for indigestion and impure blood. They cured me of indigestion, from which I suffered for four years.

"This certificate is given without solicitation, so that others may not waste their money buying medicines of no value when they can get Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I am convinced are the best."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THE LONDON DIRECTOR

(Published Annually)

ENABLES traders throughout the World to communicate direct with English

MANUFACTURERS & DEALERS in each class of goods. Besides being a complete commercial guide to London and its suburbs, the Directory contains lists of

EXPORT MERCHANTS with their goods they ship, and the Colonies and Foreign Markets they supply.

STEAMSHIP LINES arranged under the Ports to which the sail, and indicating the approximate sailings;

PROVINCIAL TRADE NOTICES of leading Manufacturers, Merchants, in the principal provincial towns and industrial centres of the United Kingdom.

A copy of the current edition will be forwarded, freight paid, on receipt of Postal Order for 20s.

Dealers seeking Agencies can advertise their trade cards for £1, or large advertisements from 5s.

THE LONDON DIRECTORY Co. Ltd.
25, Abchurch Lane, London, E. C.

EUROPEAN AGENCY.

WHOLESALE Indents promptly executed at lowest cash prices for all kinds of British and Continental goods, including—

Books and Stationery, Boots, Shoes and Leather, Chemicals and Druggists' Sundries, China, Earthenware and Glassware, Cycles, Motors and Accessories, Drapery, Millinery and Fancy Goods, Fancy Goods and Perfumery, Hardware, Machinery and Metals, Jewellery, Plate and Watches, Photographic and Optical Goods, Provisions and Oilmen's Stores, etc., etc.

Commission 2 1/2 per cent. to 5 per cent. Trade Discounts allowed. Special Quotations on Demand. Sample Cases from £10 upwards. Consignments of Produce Sold on Account (Established 1814.)

WILLIAM WILSON & SON
Cable Address: "ANNAPOLIS LONDON."
25 Abchurch Lane, London, E. C.

For Lumbago and Rheumatism,

Use Dodd's Linctum, for sale at W. COURTENAY'S, the Prescription Pharmacy, corner Duckworth and rescott Sts. 25c. per bot. "It touches the spot."—apr21,11

T. J. Edens.

BY S.S. "CARTHAGINIAN,"

30 cases VALENCIA ORANGES,
20 sacks ONIONS,
25 cases PINE APPLES.

New York Turkeys and Chicken, Fresh Salmon by rail to-day.

By S.S. "Florizel," 10 bunches Bananas,
15 cases Florida Oranges,
10 bxs Table Apples, 6 doz Celery,
2 bxs Grape Fruit, 20 crates New Cabbage Tomatoes, Cucumbers, etc.

BUTTER: P. E. I.—2 lb. prints; Clover Leaf—1 lb. prints; New York—1 lb prints.

T. J. EDENS, Duckworth St. and Military Road.

Our $2.00 and 2.50 Boots

Our Ladies' Fine Boots and Shoes, at

$2.00 and $2.50,

are nothing short of a BEAUTY SHOW.

Girl's Dress.

For school or general wear this design will develop nicely in any of this season's fabrics. It may also be developed in challis, foulard, dimity, mull, muslin, or cashmere. The waist is finished with a flat collar and is trimmed with a shaped panel over the centre. This may be omitted. The skirt is plaited. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. It requires 4 yards of 44 inch material for the 8 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Suitable materials for any of these patterns can be procured from AYRE & SONS, Ltd. Samples on request. Mention pattern number. Mail orders promptly attended to.

8930.—A PLEASING MODEL FOR WASH OR WOOLEN FABRICS.

8930

Girl's Dress With or Without Yoke Facings and with Full Length or Shorter Sleeves.

Dotted percale in white and red was used to develop this model, which is also well adapted to linen, lawn, dimity, gingham, chambray, maxilla, or similar materials. The Dutch neck edge is pleasing and cool for warm days. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 44 inch material for the 8 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Please send the above-mentioned pattern as per directions given below

No.

Name

Address in full:

N.B.—Be sure to cut out the illustration and send with the coupon, carefully filled out. The pattern cannot reach you in less than 15 days. Price 10c. each, in cash, postal note, or stamps. Address: Telegram Pattern Department.

The Ladies of St. John's May Now Grow Beautiful Hair.

McMurdo & Co. backed up by the manufacturers of SALVIA, the Great Hair Grower, guarantees it to grow hair.

SALVIA destroys Dandruff in ten days.

The roots of the hair is so nourished and fed that a new crop of hair springs up, to the amazement and delight of the user. The hair is made soft and fluffy. Like all American preparations SALVIA is daintily perfumed. It is hard to find an actress who does not use SALVIA continually. A large bottle for 50c.

THE LONDON DIRECTOR

(Published Annually)

ENABLES traders throughout the World to communicate direct with English

MANUFACTURERS & DEALERS in each class of goods. Besides being a complete commercial guide to London and its suburbs, the Directory contains lists of

EXPORT MERCHANTS with their goods they ship, and the Colonies and Foreign Markets they supply.

STEAMSHIP LINES arranged under the Ports to which the sail, and indicating the approximate sailings;

PROVINCIAL TRADE NOTICES of leading Manufacturers, Merchants, in the principal provincial towns and industrial centres of the United Kingdom.

A copy of the current edition will be forwarded, freight paid, on receipt of Postal Order for 20s.

Dealers seeking Agencies can advertise their trade cards for £1, or large advertisements from 5s.

THE LONDON DIRECTORY Co. Ltd.
25, Abchurch Lane, London, E. C.

EUROPEAN AGENCY.

WHOLESALE Indents promptly executed at lowest cash prices for all kinds of British and Continental goods, including—

Books and Stationery, Boots, Shoes and Leather, Chemicals and Druggists' Sundries, China, Earthenware and Glassware, Cycles, Motors and Accessories, Drapery, Millinery and Fancy Goods, Fancy Goods and Perfumery, Hardware, Machinery and Metals, Jewellery, Plate and Watches, Photographic and Optical Goods, Provisions and Oilmen's Stores, etc., etc.

Commission 2 1/2 per cent. to 5 per cent. Trade Discounts allowed. Special Quotations on Demand. Sample Cases from £10 upwards. Consignments of Produce Sold on Account (Established 1814.)

WILLIAM WILSON & SON
Cable Address: "ANNAPOLIS LONDON."
25 Abchurch Lane, London, E. C.

When You Feel Cross

And are worried and irritated you can get the liver right by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Life is too short to be cross and grouchy. You not only make yourself miserable, but also those about you. Don't blame others. Blame yourself for not keeping the liver right.

There is nothing in the world which will more promptly afford you relief than Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. This statement is true. A trial will convince you.

Mr. Theo. Bedard, Lac aux Sables, Portneuf County, Que., writes,—"I have found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the best treatment obtainable for indigestion and impure blood. They cured me of indigestion, from which I suffered for four years.

"This certificate is given without solicitation, so that others may not waste their money buying medicines of no value when they can get Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I am convinced are the best."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

T. J. Edens.

BY S.S. "CARTHAGINIAN,"

30 cases VALENCIA ORANGES,
20 sacks ONIONS,
25 cases PINE APPLES.

New York Turkeys and Chicken, Fresh Salmon by rail to-day.

By S.S. "Florizel," 10 bunches Bananas,
15 cases Florida Oranges,
10 bxs Table Apples, 6 doz Celery,
2 bxs Grape Fruit, 20 crates New Cabbage Tomatoes, Cucumbers, etc.

BUTTER: P. E. I.—2 lb. prints; Clover Leaf—1 lb. prints; New York—1 lb prints.

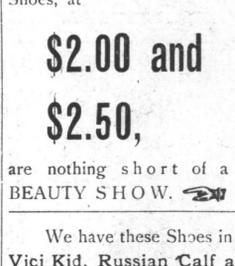

T. J. EDENS, Duckworth St. and Military Road.

Our $2.00 and 2.50 Boots

Our Ladies' Fine Boots and Shoes, at

$2.00 and $2.50,

are nothing short of a BEAUTY SHOW.

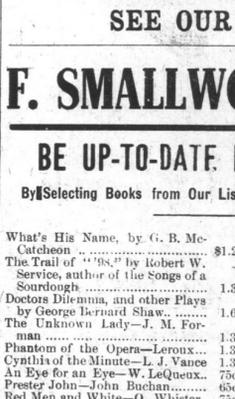

Girl's Dress.

For school or general wear this design will develop nicely in any of this season's fabrics. It may also be developed in challis, foulard, dimity, mull, muslin, or cashmere. The waist is finished with a flat collar and is trimmed with a shaped panel over the centre. This may be omitted. The skirt is plaited. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. It requires 4 yards of 44 inch material for the 8 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Suitable materials for any of these patterns can be procured from AYRE & SONS, Ltd. Samples on request. Mention pattern number. Mail orders promptly attended to.

8930.—A PLEASING MODEL FOR WASH OR WOOLEN FABRICS.

8930

Girl's Dress With or Without Yoke Facings and with Full Length or Shorter Sleeves.

Dotted percale in white and red was used to develop this model, which is also well adapted to linen, lawn, dimity, gingham, chambray, maxilla, or similar materials. The Dutch neck edge is pleasing and cool for warm days. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 44 inch material for the 8 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

Please send the above-mentioned pattern as per directions given below

No.

Name

Address in full:

N.B.—Be sure to cut out the illustration and send with the coupon, carefully filled out. The pattern cannot reach you in less than 15 days. Price 10c. each, in cash, postal note, or stamps. Address: Telegram Pattern Department.

The Ladies of St. John's May Now Grow Beautiful Hair.

McMurdo & Co. backed up by the manufacturers of SALVIA, the Great Hair Grower, guarantees it to grow hair.

SALVIA destroys Dandruff in ten days.

The roots of the hair is so nourished and fed that a new crop of hair springs up, to the amazement and delight of the user. The hair is made soft and fluffy. Like all American preparations SALVIA is daintily perfumed. It is hard to find an actress who does not use SALVIA continually. A large bottle for 50c.

THE LONDON DIRECTOR

(Published Annually)

ENABLES traders throughout the World to communicate direct with English

MANUFACTURERS & DEALERS in each class of goods. Besides being a complete commercial guide to London and its suburbs, the Directory contains lists of

EXPORT MERCHANTS with their goods they ship, and the Colonies and Foreign Markets they supply.

STEAMSHIP LINES arranged under the Ports to which the sail, and indicating the approximate sailings;

PROVINCIAL TRADE NOTICES of leading Manufacturers, Merchants, in the principal provincial towns and industrial centres of the United Kingdom.

A copy of the current edition will be forwarded, freight paid, on receipt of Postal Order for 20s.

Dealers seeking Agencies can advertise their trade cards for £1, or large advertisements from 5s.

THE LONDON DIRECTORY Co. Ltd.
25, Abchurch Lane, London, E. C.

EUROPEAN AGENCY.

WHOLESALE Indents promptly executed at lowest cash prices for all kinds of British and Continental goods, including—

Books and Stationery, Boots, Shoes and Leather, Chemicals and Druggists' Sundries, China, Earthenware and Glassware, Cycles, Motors and Accessories, Drapery, Millinery and Fancy Goods, Fancy Goods and Perfumery, Hardware, Machinery and Metals, Jewellery, Plate and Watches, Photographic and Optical Goods, Provisions and Oilmen's Stores, etc., etc.

Commission 2 1/2 per cent. to 5 per cent. Trade Discounts allowed. Special Quotations on Demand. Sample Cases from £10 upwards. Consignments of Produce Sold on Account (Established 1814.)

WILLIAM WILSON & SON
Cable Address: "ANNAPOLIS LONDON."
25 Abchurch Lane, London, E. C.

When You Feel Cross

And are worried and irritated you can get the liver right by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Life is too short to be cross and grouchy. You not only make yourself miserable, but also those about you. Don't blame others. Blame yourself for not keeping the liver right.

There is nothing in the world which will more promptly afford you relief than Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. This statement is true. A trial will convince you.

Mr. Theo. Bedard, Lac aux Sables, Portneuf County, Que., writes,—"I have found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the best treatment obtainable for indigestion and impure blood. They cured me of indigestion, from which I suffered for four years.

"This certificate is given without solicitation, so that others may not waste their money buying medicines of no value when they can get Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I am convinced are the best."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

REID

St. John's

will be accepted Steamship Com

will be daily, e ALL FHEIGHT PA

Passengers will Company's boat

Leaving

Reid Ne

REAL BA

LADIES'

The "AMERIC and

Regular $3.50

U. S. P

Another home got Flynn. The latter s

Another

HOPE GONE serap

fallen