HOPELESSLY INCAPABLE.

Before the House of Assembly adjourned on Friday last, Sir M. P. Cashin gave notice that unless the Government came down to the House with a concrete policy the members sitting on the right hand of the Speaker would block all attempts at speculative legislation introduced by the Prime Minister. And there is a lot of that. Yesterday when the Assembly resumed, notwithstanding the threat of the leader of the Opposition, there was no railway policy whatever submitted. Instead a Bill to indemnify the Government for the actions of Sir W. F. Coaker was introduced, having regard to the semi-construction of the Argentinia Railway. Mr. Coaker, according to his own opinions of himself, is a man of many parts and deep penetration. Last year, after the Prime Minister and the Minister of Justice had departed for England, Mr. Coaker took it upon himself, without any previous experience, except inherent gall, to run not only the Government of Newfoundland, but the railway and steamship services as well, and so capably did he operate these lines that the Colony is called upon to pay a sum of two million or more dollars as a scholarship for the ignorance of the man who knew it all.

Mr. Coaker was undoubtedly beguiled. Such a statement has to be made, because there are so many reasons for the newspapers to-day, and making an extra scrutiny in order to discover if there are any causes for libel, by which they can make a few dollars on the side, without material expense to themselves. When we state, however, that the great and wonderful President of the Fishermen's Protective Union was beguiled, we do not mean this in the same reptilian sense that the serpent beguiled Eve, though there is perhaps a parallel in the shapes of Squires and Coaker; two men who are prepared to sacrifice everything on the altar of their own political ambitions. Squires, we know. With Coaker we are only getting acquainted, but the acquaintance is costing the taxpayers millions of dollars, and it looks as though we had to suffer still further.

A most peculiar situation arising out of the present is that there is an attempt made to stifle the right of free speech. During recent months no newspaper dares to tell the truth as it exists, because in so doing it lays itself open to suit at law for libel, and there are those who are only too delighted to come down heavily upon an ordinary expression of opinion, made without malice or prejudice. In this category we wish to charge the Opposition with helping the Government crawl out of the holes into which they have fallen because of their own ignorance and incapability. But we do not expect that the members of the Opposition will cite us before the Courts of the land for telling them, or serving notice on some of them, "ad placet est, si placeat tunc" that they are a part of His Majesty's loyal Opposition, and that their first business is to embarrass and criticise the Government, not to build a ladder by which the Premier and his erudite following may ascend from the pit into which they have cast themselves. The members of the Opposition who voted for the indemnification of the Government for the Argentinia Railway Bill, might just as well cross the House and align themselves with the apostles of silence who without saying a word, have bulldozed certain members opposed to the Government, ostensibly to grant absolution for a deed, for the perpetration of which the chief criminal should be hanged summarily. So the Telegram is concerned it will cheerfully put any attempt on the part of any members of the Opposition to put a coat of whitewash over the Government, and perhaps some day when it becomes absolutely necessary to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, those opponents of the Government which exculpated them, may be seeking further for explanations. What is the real business of the Opposition, anyway?

Newfoundland's Natal Day.

Four hundred and twenty-four years ago to-day, the good ship Matthew, which was chartered by one Jean Cabot, a veteran sailor, and fitted out by Bristol merchants, arrived off the coast of Newfoundland. Of Cabot's trip we know little today beyond the fact that he set sail from Bristol on May 2nd, 1497, in the Matthew with his son Sebastian and 18 companions, and that they discovered our island on June 25th of the same year. Whilst several letters of the period contain garbled accounts of the discovery, we find certain proof in an entry in the Privy Purse expenses of King Henry VII., which reads, "To him that found the new land, £10." Whether it will be advisable to celebrate this day in any way is a matter which should not be in doubt for a moment, because there can be no question but that to-day is Newfoundland's Natal Day, by right of discovery.

The Unemployed Soldiers.

Major B. Butler takes the Telegram to task, in a communication addressed to the editor to-day, for a reporter's item appearing in yesterday's issue, in which it was stated that up to that hour none of the men had received any work. Of his own statement we are not sure, or of his own report, but we are sure of his own statement to tell whether that which he wrote was correct or incorrect. The Telegram has no desire whatever to misrepresent Major Butler or any other officer on the staff of the Militia Department, but the Telegram is certainly not going to accept dictation from any warrior, however gallant, who has laid down the sword and taken up the pen. Later we shall have great pleasure in dealing with the substance of Major Butler's letter, and what it had to say to soldiers showing just in what way employment—and the quality thereof—is being found for them.

Celebrating Natal Day.

The Unemployed Workmen's Committee are holding a meeting and concert in the L.S.P.U. rooms to-night for the purpose of celebrating in a fitting manner the Natal Day of Newfoundland.

Mr. G. W. B. Ayre will address the meeting, and his subject will be "The financial scheme will probably be adopted."

McMurdo's Store News.

FRIDAY, June 24.
Nuxated Iron seems to be more and more popular, and appears to be one of those preparations of iron which on account of their portability are easily taken, and which because they are quickly assimilated, show effects almost as soon as the patient begins to take them. At any rate, we hear good accounts of this remedy in weakness, poorness of blood, anæmia, loss of appetite, loss of weight, and run down conditions generally. Nuxated Iron is sold in bottles, each $1.25. Try an Ice Cream Fruit Sundae to-day. Cooling and delicious. 25 cents.

The Squires Tariff.

It was rumored to-day that the Government had accepted the suggestion made by the Trade to impose a straight surtax and that it had placed the tax at 60%, which would cover the present surtax, super tax and sales tax. We learn, however, that it is the Government's intention to continue the present sales tax with certain amendments. This sales tax is generally regarded as an abomination, and that it is nothing to brag of. To-day a gentleman passing entries at the Customs House had to pay this tax on a communal service. The tax is also being collected on mail used by the fishermen. The Squires tariff, it would seem, has gone the limit. It is now taxed 115% on the original duty, and has been in force more than it was a few months ago.

Methodist Conference.

THURSDAY, June 23.
The morning was devoted to Committee work, several committees meeting to consider the various memorials of the several Districts.

The afternoon session opened at 2.30 o'clock. The report of the Church Property Committee was presented and its recommendations accepted by the Conference.

OUR VISITORS.
At this stage the visitors of the Conference were introduced to the members by the President. The first visitor to receive the greeting of the Conference was Rev. S. Dean from the Department of Finance, Toronto. Rev. Dean, in his address, expressed his joy at being present at the Conference. He will have an opportunity of speaking extensively on the work of the Department which he so well represents, later.

Dr. Trueman representing the Educational Society, was next introduced, who like the previous speaker, expressed his pleasure in being in Newfoundland.

Next came the distinguished scholar in the person of Professor Alfred Faulkner, D.D., of Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N.J., who is here to give a series of lectures on the "Apostolic Church." He, as did also the others, received a very warm welcome from the Conference.

DELEGATIONS.

The Conference very kindly welcomed a delegation from the Women's Missionary Society, Mrs. E. Lindsay, the President, addressed the Conference in its behalf and in a very lucid way spoke of the work done by the organization during the last forty years. During that period three and a half million dollars have been raised for Missions. The past year has been successful in every way, and they are able to report increases in membership and finances. To-day there are 27 Auxiliaries, 41 Bands, 4,880 members, and 1,000 converts. Lindsay pleaded for sympathy and co-operation and in her concluding remarks referred to two Newfoundlanders who have recently converted their lives for work in the Foreign Field—Miss I. Winsor of Westville, and Miss W. Harris, daughter of Rev. W. Harris of this Conference. The President of the address, briefly asked God's blessing on the work which they were about to undertake.

BIBLE SOCIETY.

The delegation consisted of Rev. Canon Bolt, D.D., Rev. Mr. Mews, Esq., C.M.G., Rev. Mr. Mews spoke first and appealed for the wholehearted support of the ministerial and lay members of the Conference. In brief address, Rev. Mr. Clayton pleaded for the Society, bringing his appeal to the beneficent work of the Society and the solid work of the Society. Dr. Bolt made reference to the Biennial Conference of the Society in Ottawa, which he attended. The Society in the judgment of the conference, for united service, an opportunity for the several denominations to work together. Dr. Bolt is always a welcome visitor to our Conference, and his members were delighted to greet him again.

REPORTS.

The report of the Committee on Social Service and Evangelism was submitted. The report was so important that it was deferred until copies of it have been placed in the hands of the Conference, when it will be the subject of debate again.

LECTURE BY PROF. FAULKNER.

A representative congregation assembled to hear the first lecture in the series announced. The President presided. Prayer was offered by the Rev. D. B. Henderson, B.A., and the lesson was read by Rev. C. Blount. The lecturer addressed himself to the task of showing "How Jew and Greek prepared the way for Christianity."

Speaking first of the Jewish preparation, Prof. Faulkner referred to Paul's conception of it, and proceeded to deal with the main points in the preparation.

1. The Jews gave the Messiah.
2. The Jews gave the moral stamina.
3. The Jews gave the Old Testament Scriptures.
4. Baptism.
5. It was not a sacrament in Judaism, but the pre-requisite of Christian Baptism were there.
6. The Lord's Supper.
7. In this the Passover pre-supposed it, the emphasis being placed on its manner of aspect.
8. The Pharisees.
9. They exercised an influence on Christianity. The Pharisees were a philosophical sect, and adhered to the interpretation of the Scriptures. They were the truest Jews of their day and Christ censured them on the grounds of their exclusivity, but through them that the eternal truths of Judaism passed over into Christianity.
10. The Sadducees.
11. They were the opportunists of their day, and rejected the later developments of Israel, including Providence and the Future Life.
12. The Synagogues were important factors. They were well known in the time of Christ, and were the rallying centres of the people. It was in the synagogue that the layman came to his rights.

There was a Greek Preparation. Socrates was an educator, rather than a philosopher. His chief principle was "Know thyself." Morality was founded only in reason and in the nature of things. To act according to knowledge and to understand the moral self-judgment of Socrates was the way for Christianity for the early Church. Socrates was a man of the highest type. Plato, the pupil of Socrates, agreed with his master in being everything on knowledge. God could not directly interest himself in the work of creation for He could not mix himself with matter. The lower duties were responsible for creating man, but the soul was created by the highest deity. Platonism was a positive preparation for Christianity. And the preparation for Christianity, Aristotle had no message for the soul, but his preparation was done through the Greek language, which was then universal. The commercial activity of the Greeks and their genius as colonizers, he alluded to. The conquest of Alexander the Great united the world and made it Greek. The language was of incalculable value. Prof. Faulkner lectured again to-day at noon.—T.J.P.

Police Court.

A drunk who appeared before Judge Morris in the Central District Court this morning was discharged.

A vagrant was also discharged.

A number of civil cases were disposed of by Judge Morris during the morning.

A woman of the West End sued a neighbour for $50 for slander. The case was dismissed.
