EXTRAORDINARY SCENE IN A CHURCH.

In a fashionable Scotch church in London (the correspondent of the Dundee Advertiser writes) there has just been a "scandalous" little incident, very painful to one unfortunate man, and very amusing to many others. A gentleman, well known in society, recently deserted his wife, and she, poor creature, has since been roaming about the world in search of him. Having been informed that her husband "worshipped" pretty regularly in the church alluded to she went there in a great rage, and during the services fixed her eyes upon a highly respectable elder, who though not her husband, was amazingly like him. Immediately after the service concluded, the excited woman rushed from the gallery where she had been sitting, and without waiting to make certain whether she was right or wrong, seized the unfortunate elder by the whiskers and poured a shower of blows on his head. Before her mistake was known to her, and an explanation given, the poor elder's frontispiece was black and blue. He did not give the woman into custody, but, like a good Christian, took her home with him to dine.

SMUT IN WHEAT.—A writer in an American agricultural paper says: "I see in the April number of the Journal an article on smut in wheat, also a remedy. Now we raise any amount of wheat in this country, but never have it smutty. But we bluestone it, as it is called here. Take a box or trough about ten feet long by two wide, and two deep, put in about 500 pounds of wheat then take a pail, put in about one pound of blue vitriol; fill with hot water, and let stand until the stone be dissolved; then pour on the wheat and mix well until the wheat is well dampened with the solution; then take it out in sacks and let stand until dry before sowing. The farmers all bluestone their wheat, and are never bothered with smut.

Thad Myers, a Detroitier, lately came home intoxicated, beat his wife, kicked his children, and was finally taken to jail to cool off. While he was sobering, and paying up his jail bill, his wife sold the furniture, and drew out the $2,000 they had in bank, left the children at a neighbour's and left the country behind her. Thad, went home, found his house in the hands of the sheriff for a beer debt, and at last accounts sat crying on the curbstone.

A BALLOON carrying Messrs. King and Holden, which ascended at Plymouth, N. H., on Thursday afternoon, landed on Friday morning in Canada, near the Gulf of St. Lawrence, having travelled 307 miles over the wilderness of Maine and Canada.

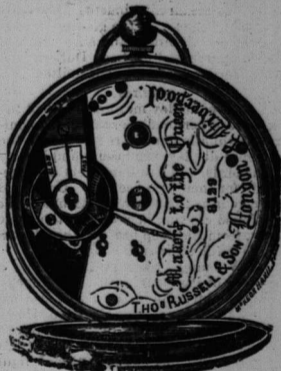

None but a Vermontier, they think in Washington, would have written to the pension office as follows: "Have my name dropped from the pension rolls, as I can do nearly as much work as ever, and feel within my heart that I can do better without it than the Government can pay it."

The bakers of Macon, Ga., it is said, give only forty loaves of bread for one dollar now. This is done to break down an institution that recently started, and which sold at thirty-six to the dollar.

Mr. B. B. Osler, barrister, of the firm of Osler & Begue, Dundas, has been appointed to conduct the Crown business at the Fall Assizes at Milton and Cayuga.

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labelled "James Epps & Co., Homoeopathic Chemists, London." Also, makers of Epps's Milky Cocoa (Cocoa and Condensed Milk.)

H. C. Caswell, Oshkosh, Wisconsin, February, 1872, in a letter says: Fellows! Hypophosphites is doing good work here, and we have already disposed of a large quantity. It stands the test, and every day people express their praise of its virtues. Our physicians are prescribing it, and we have goods accounts from Michigan and Illinois.
