

R. E. TRUAX AND W. D. CARGILL TO RUN IN S. BRUCE

A Large Audience at Walkerton
Nomination Meeting Heard
Rousing Political Discussion.

HUGH GUTHRIE SPOKE

Criticizes Government Roundly
For Its Failure To Take Up Important Matters.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Walkerton, Oct. 23.—Reuben E. Truax, of Walkerton, Liberal, and W. D. Cargill were formally nominated to-day as the candidates for election as the representative of South Bruce in the House of Commons, on Thursday, Oct. 30. No other names were presented to Mr. F. W. Tippet, the returning officer.

The nomination meeting was attended by a surprisingly large number of electors, when the bad weather is taken into consideration. The audience comfortably filled the town hall, and it heard a splendid debate upon the political issues of the day between Hon. Arthur Meighen, the solicitor-general of Canada, and Mr. Hugh Guthrie, Liberal member for South Wellington.

Charges Neglect.

In the discussion by Mr. Guthrie and Mr. Meighen the former charged the Government with neglecting its duty in failing to take steps to prosecute the trusts, and combines. It was plainly time to do something to stop the ever-increasing cost of living. He made it clear that the position of the Liberal party in the House of Commons on the highways aid bill had been one of attempting to secure for each province its proper share of the grant on the basis of population, and putting a check to any effort on the part of the Government to disburse the money where the Conservative interests demanded it.

On the navy question Mr. Guthrie convincingly stated the Liberal position, showing that the Liberal policy of establishing a Canadian navy was in harmony with the idea of the admiralty. But in refusing to have the matter decided on the matter Mr. Borden was violating his own word given at the time the Dreadnought policy was announced, that if the bill was rejected he would appeal to the country.

Defends Government.

Mr. Meighen, who preceded Mr. Guthrie, said it was an undeniable fact that the tide had turned two years ago had been increasing in volume and intensity, and today the Government of Mr. Borden was stronger in public confidence than it was two years back. Immediately on taking office the Government had addressed itself to the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway, to relieve the western farmer of the danger of congestion in getting out his grain. "The Liberals never did anything for the Hudson Bay Railway, because Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the party around him never could see any political value in a railway actually built," declared Mr. Meighen.

There was a distinct cleavage between the parties on the naval issue, Mr. Meighen proceeded. There was no difference of opinion as to the necessity for Canada doing something for naval defence; the difference was as to the method. "The day has come when Canada can no longer maintain her honor as a nation within the Empire and refuse to bear a part of the burden which is the common burden of all."

R. E. TRUAX, of Walkerton, nominated by Liberals of South Bruce.

Control of Navy.

The common control of the navy was essential to the proper discharge of its duty. Was Canadian autonomy then threatened because it was proposed to send their ships to the imperial navy? Could not Canada do in that as in other matters as she chose without Canadian autonomy being taken away?

Discussing the resolution of 1909, Mr. Meighen explained that it was felt a serious condition existed with regard to the motherland at that time, and both parties sacrificed a little to come on common ground. Stated or periodic contributions were not desired, but if an emergency demanded it, it was the duty of Canada at any time to do what she thought right. The Laurier policy of 1910 contained in no particular the principles laid down by the 1907 conference, and unless common control of the navy was secured anything they did would not add to the strength of the fleet.

Liberals Did Much.

Mr. Guthrie was not going to let Mr. Meighen claim credit on behalf of the Borden Government for all the good things that were happening. He pointed out that Hon. Geo. P. Graham turned the first sod for the Hudson Bay Railway, and that the Laurier Government, before the last general election, was planning a system of terminal elevators that would have relieved effectively the wheat congestion in the west and aided the farmers in the financing of their crops. Every day since the present Government assumed office the cost of living had been increasing. Prices were being held up by the trusts and combines. There was a call in the country for a Government that was strong enough to break the flour combine, the carers' combine and the packers' combine.

"We want a Government that is strong enough to go to these people and say that the cost of living must be reduced. I will stand up in the House of Commons or in the country for free food for the people of Canada," (Hear, hear.) "Where was Mr. Meighen, too, on the duty on agricultural implements? He had moved a resolution in the House of Commons to have the duty on farming machinery reduced, but now that he was in the Government nothing was heard of it."

Canada's Policy.

Turning to the naval issue, Mr. Guthrie quoted the speech of Mr. Churchill at the Shipwrights' dinner in London, an occasion when even the Premier is consulted as to what his colleagues should say. Mr. Churchill's statement was that the British fleet

About Truthfulness in Advertising

We wish—very quietly—to state our position as regards advertising.

It seems to us that Truth is Truth, no matter how or where. We, therefore, do not, and will not, lie in our advertising any more than by word of mouth.

This is no new thing; it has been our constant policy.

We are not the only truthful people, nor have we any mortgage on Truth. But we feel the time has come when, in the interest of common honesty, merchants should clearly state their position in this matter.

Raphael & Co.

THERE has never been a time when we have carried goods from one season to another. Our customers know that every Suit, Coat or Dress they buy here is of the same season's make. This means that losses must be taken on SOME goods toward the end of each season.

BUT we make our clearance prices while the goods are desirable. In this way our customers get the benefit of the reductions while they are worth while.

AND we would rather do this way than lose the confidence such a policy builds up.

THIS YEAR'S CLEARANCE OF SUITS starts Saturday. Here is a brief list of the prices and a suggestion of some of the values:

$37.50 to $45.00 Suits, $29.50
$30.00 to $35.00 Suits, $24.50
$25.00 to $30.00 Suits, $19.75
$18.00 to $22.00 Suits, $14.75
$15.00 to $17.50 Suits, $12.50

We Cannot Begin to Enumerate the Styles Except to Illustrate With One at Each Price

AT $12.50

We can mention but one from many. It is of wide wale diagonal, in two-tone effects, of gray or brown, cutaway front, with attractive button trimming at the waistline in the back. The lining is of lustrous silk serge. The skirt is draped at the side and slit.

AT $14.75

Let us take one at this price. A plain suit of heavy, fine Botany worsted, blue or black only, and satin-lined. The skirt is plain-tailored, with panel back and plait in front. A conservative style that speaks refinement in every line.

AT $19.75

Of these, look at this one, of very fine dark navy blue serge, lined with satin; guaranteed for two seasons' wear. Cuffs and collar of gray-striped bengaline, with hand-covered buckles of black braid. The trimming is just enough to relieve any severity of plainness.

AT $24.50

See this model of serge or poplin, in black, navy or Copenhagen, with guaranteed satin lining. The coat is in a "swallow-tail cutaway," something after the fashion of a man's dress suit. The back is trimmed with belt effect and buttons. The skirt is draped and has the slit front, and there is a separate girde of silk moire.

AT $29.50

It is hard to limit mention to one, but let us take this model of soft tricel in golden brown. It is made with collar, cuffs, and the suggestion of a vestee of broad, light, rich tones, a material which is also used in the covered buttons. The coat is cut with novelty side effect, and fastens with a hand-made frog.

Coats That You Will Like to Wear

Our stock of Coats is right now at its very best in point of selection, covering, as it does, the full range of popular fabrics and styles. It includes the bouclés, chinchillas, cut velours and heavy novelty weaves, such as Fashion sanctions. A full representation, too, of the new sleeve styles, wide arm hole and drop shoulder.

should be concentrated in home waters, and the outlying portions of the empire be protected by fleets provided and maintained by the self-governing colonies. All that Canada now proposed to do was to send her ships to the motherland to be maintained and officered by Great Britain. It was a policy which the Government had been driven into by force of circumstances.

Nationalist Viewpoint.

The feeling of the Nationalists was well disclosed in their speeches. "It is only a gift of money, you will never hear anything more about it," Mr. Pelletier had said, while others endeavored to have the sop swallowed by saying, "All we want to do is to vote thirty-five millions and be done with it until Mr. Borden brings down his permanent policy."

"Imagine," continued Mr. Guthrie, with scorn, "taking Mr. Pelletier to England to confer with the admiralty on imperial naval defence." Speeches by members of the Government on the German menace he called a gratuitous insult to the German citizens in the riding.

As the Conservatives had rented the hall for the meeting after nomination, Mr. Meighen claimed unlimited time to reply, and actually spoke forty-five minutes, after Mr. Guthrie had confined himself to the forty allowed to each speaker in the beginning.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating
Acid.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood, and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast; continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

Mr. Truax, briefly addressing the electors, said that the present by-election had been brought on by the fear of the Government that Senator Donnelly, the late member, would not have been able to carry the riding again, and it was better to remove him than suffer defeat at a later election. Mr. Truax showed how outside influence had been brought into the riding to work among the different sections, and resented the presence of a paid officer of the hotelkeepers, who, he declared, was pursuing a policy of intimidating licenseholders into working for the Conservative candidate. "Do the electors approve of that?" he asked. "No, no," was the answer from all parts of the hall.

FORTY NANAIMO RIOTERS WERE GIVEN LONG TERMS IN PRISON

Many Officers of the Unions Will Spend the Next Year in Jail—Coal Miners' Strike On the Island Has Been Called Off.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 23.—Judge Howey passed sentence today on more than two-score Nanaimo rioters. The maximum sentence was two years. Many union officers will spend the next year in jail.

In connection with the coal miners' strike on Vancouver Island it was reported today that the international headquarters of the miners' union have ordered Frank K. Farrington, an American lawyer unionist, who came to British Columbia and handled the official end of the strike, to stop the strike and have the men return to work. It is said Farrington tried to stop it, but has failed.

Three men and two boys were sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary; 23 were given imprisonment for one year and fined $100 each, and 11 were sent to jail for three months and will have to pay a fine of $50 each. All sentences date from the time of arrest. This means that those sentenced to serve three months will be liberated in about 30 days' time. Among those sentenced to serve two years are J. J. Taylor, vice-president of the British Columbia Federation of Labor, and vice-president of the Lady Smith local of the United Mine Workers of America, and Samuel Guthrie, president of the Ladysmith Union. Among those upon whom a sentence of one year in jail and $100 fine was

REBELS MURDERED FIFTY WHO DEFENDED CHURCH

Whole Village Was Burned After Inhabitants Had Been Slaughtered.

[Canadian Press.]

Mexico City, Oct. 23.—Revolutionists yesterday murdered the entire population, numbering about 50, of the village of Cheran, Atlixcurin, in the State of Michoacan, while they were defending the village church against looters.

The villagers fought till their ammunition was exhausted, and then used machetes, stones and clubs to beat off their assailants, but they were eventually overpowered and killed, and the village burned to the ground.

Rebels are reported to have tortured Lieut. Jos. E. Bracomontes and two soldiers belonging to a small federal garrison stationed near Cameron, to the south of Nuevo Laredo, after killing the remainder of the federal troops. The rebels are said to have skinned the soles off the feet of their three prisoners, walked them several miles and then beheaded them with machetes because they refused to shout for Carranza.

Pure white porcelain oven and fuel doors. All nickel-warmings, inside doors. Adjustable dampers.
Broiling and toasting lever. Sliding top-section.

—and she has it yet. The Peerless of to-day is of course a much better range than the one grandmother bought. Looks better. Cooks better. And uses less coal. The oven is of quick-heating steel—the flues perfectly proportioned—all of which saves fuel. The doors drop, forming shelves to draw out the cooking dishes. The top raises for broiling. The grates work without sticking. And the appearance! Grandmother admires the new Peerless with its plain heavy nickel and its pure white porcelain doors. But yet—she clings to her own Peerless. The faithful old companion of her earlier culinary adventures still has—and always will have—a place in her home.
