"NA-DRU-CO DYSPEPSIA TABLETS"

Proved of Great Value to Me

There is only one explanation for the numbers of enthusiastic letters that we receive praising Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and that is that these tablets certainly do cure any kind of stomach trouble.

Here is a typical letter from Miss Eliza Armsworth, Canoe, N.S.:

"It is with pleasure I write to inform you that your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets have proved of great value to me. I tried remedy after remedy but without any lasting good. Having heard of your tablets curing such cases as mine I decided to give them a fair trial. They proved satisfactory in my case."

The remarkable success of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is such a success as can only come to an honest remedy, compounded according to an exceptionally good formula, from pure ingredients, by expert chemists. If you are troubled with your stomach just ask your Druggist about Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, compounded by the National Drug and Chemical Co., Canada, Limited, and sold throughout the Dominion at 50c a box.

WOMEN ACHIEVE AMAZING JOURNEY THROUGH TIBET

Two Englishwomen Travel Over the Roof of the World.

Were Unmolested in the Solitudes of the Country.

One of the most extraordinary holiday trips ever undertaken by women travellers was described at the Lyceum Club recently. It was a ride across the roof of the world—the part of the Himalayas which separates India from Eastern Turkestan.

The two travellers were English ladies—Miss E. G. Kemp and Miss McDougall, well-known Chinese explorers. They set out in May of last year. Miss Kemp told the story of the adventure, in which they were unmolested.

"Was it worth while?" she was asked when she had thrilled the ladies with stories of nights spent under the stars thousands of feet up in the great solitudes.

Worth while. "Well," replied Miss Kemp, "I think it was. There comes a time in our lives when it is desirable to broaden our horizons. What struck me there in those solitudes was the wonderful solidarity of human nature. We felt that we were all essentially one. I think it quickened our perceptions; gave us a new perspective, and a greater capacity to take a broader view. I think it was worth while."

Miss Kemp described how they crossed the mountain passes which had never before been trodden by white women travellers—and owing to the proposed building of new roads would probably never be trodden by white women again. They met a saint of Tibet. They conversed with him, made a sketch of him, and told him the latest news of Tibet. They visited monasteries filled with figures of local saints and devils and scrolls of many colors. One of the most interesting of their sketches shows monks preparing themselves with masks to perform the devil dance.

Their caravan. These two ladies, with the smallest possible caravan, met the caravans of sportsmen—large and elaborate affairs, with long trains of ponies carrying the heads of animals. They discovered that the native sportsmen were as keen as the sportsmen themselves, and that the sole topic of native conversation was the largest game bag.

In Tibet they were received at the King's palace, and provisioned themselves for the most arduous part of their journey. They took with them a cook who, when at home in Leh, was also a pillar of the church, a doctor's assistant, sportsman, hymn writer, and general handy man. He spoke English, and Miss Kemp was loud in her praise of his service. Four men servants, interpreters, eight ponies, to carry the tents, and two yaks—the latter the stately chargers upon which the ladies rode—completed the caravan.

They started in the direction of the Pangong Lake, noted for its brilliant color, and ascended to a height of 18,000 feet. For one month they lived away from civilization. They passed large monasteries, and villages of poor but charming people. The women dressed in lamb-wool head-dressings, and wore silver ornaments of great value. They were received at the King's palace, and provisioned themselves for the most arduous part of their journey. They took with them a cook who, when at home in Leh, was also a pillar of the church, a doctor's assistant, sportsman, hymn writer, and general handy man. See if your child's tongue is coated

If Cross, Feverish, Bilious, Give Delicious "Syrup of Figs" to Cleanse Its Little Bowels.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's insides, the stomach, liver and bowels are clogged up with purifying waste matter and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When your child is listless, drooping, pale, doesn't sleep soundly or eat heartily or is cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, or is full of cold, give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you surely will have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children; being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful, besides they dearly love its delicious taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed. A little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Company. This is the delicious tasteful, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

Big Demand For All Sorts of Produce

Berries Were Very Plentiful at Ingersoll on Saturday.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, July 28.—Conditions which prevailed on Saturday were particularly gratifying to both country people and merchants. Beginning at an early hour the towns took on a very busy aspect, which continued throughout the day.

The services in the Methodist Church yesterday were conducted by Rev. E. A. Russ, of Woodstock, who was listened to by large congregations.

Dr. J. M. Rogers has donated a trophy for competition among members of the local lawn bowling club. It is expected this will have a tendency to increase the already enthusiastic interest in the game. All arrangements are now being made for commencing the competition at an early date.

"What do you call your dog?" "Stock Market." "What a peculiar name. Any particular reason?" "I should say so. Most unreliable dog, you ever saw. You can never tell what he's going to do next."—Life.
