In should be urged to post mail at frequent intervals during the day, according to a circular issued by Dr. P. Macnald, local postmaster. The following advantages to be gained by early posting are pointed out:

1. Early posting results in early dispatch. To many points there is only one train a day and this frequently in the forenoon or early afternoon. Malls posted at the close of the day are therefore delayed nearly 24 hours.

2. Mail posted early frequently reaches larger centres at a time when
