Canadians who wish to remain Canadians consist o, the fight who sconer than part with their nationality will fight to the death. It is all very well to talk about how like we are to our neighbors and how similar are our interests. We are at least just that much different that if you start in to convert Canadians into Yankees the ew building. The Executive Committee's report stated that former will fight sooner than submit to the operation. And it is just here where the former will fight sooner than submit to the operation. And it is just here where the whole Annexation movement has gone and will ever go to pieces: when it is attempted to be realized the fighting men will be against it. If you are an Annexationist don't pretend that there will not be strife before it is accomplished; there will be strife, bitter strife, and the Annexationist, who as a rule is not a fighting man, will find himself hopelessly struggling. The Buntings and the Cam-erons are not going to fight for their project of Annexation the moment they see all hoyal Canadians about to take the field against them. They will scamper off to the loyal Canadians about to take the field against them. They will scamper off to the States or they will become discreetly mum.

As we said above these Buntings and Camerons who are so glib to talk Annexatio do not know, or pretend not to know, that their project involves strife. The way to summarily suppress them is to let them understand that this proposal does entail strife, that sooner than be wheedled into another country our fighting men will appeal to the sword.

Never was nation yet wheedled into another nation without a struggle. It will be so if it is attempted here.

It is allowable to talk of your plot in veiled sentences, and to discuss fictions like C. U. and U. Canadians by the grace of God are still Canadians and wish to remain so ; those of Everything that is Wanted in the Far Line

Canadians by the grace of God are still Canadians and wish to remain so; those of them who wish to become citizens of the United States are at liberty to cross the line and realize their hopes; the moment they attempt to realize them here, that moment "they will raise a storm for their destruction. All of which brings us to our starting point : that we do not want strife; we want "sace, freedom from agitation. With peace will come progress, phenomenal development, a hoppy people and a better system of government than that of the United States. Everything is in our favor of arriving at a better system. Surely there is room on this great North American continent for two experiments in the way of government by the people, of pure democracy. We hold it as a cardinal principle, as the one at the bottom of all our opposition the in a position to sell goods retail at less than the wholesale bouses charge. The store is on the wholesale houses charge. The store the corner of King and Yonge-streets. Annexation, that two great experiments on this continent in the way of popular government will do more for ourselves first, for our neighbors second, and for the cause of Plenty of money to loan on first humanity generally, than one great crude and ultimately unwieldly conglomeration of manning generally, which obe great treason for the faith that is in us there you have it. and east.

And remember, you who are Annexationists, that the double experiment has been in existence now for over one hundred years and that the two ideas are more strongly set A ispecial meeting of the Separate School to day than ever before. Nay, further, we could give you a philosophic reason why there Board was called for last night, but there was must be two great human forces in more or less friction, contention and competition on this continent and that there should not be one. A century ago there were the English and the French ; now two branches of the former race, but of different governments, divide the continent ; and so there will continue to be two such national forces on the North American continent. As we have said it will be a bad thing for humanity if one idea and one system should obtain.

Go to, thou Bunting of The Mail and thou Cameron of The Globe, and conside these things :

(1) That there are 'to-day two systems on this North American continent; (2) that there always have been two systems; (3) that if you try to wipe out one you will bring about strife, that the fighting men of the nation proposed to be wiped out will fight sather than be so wiped out; (4) that you have undertaken a task the measure and the bounds of which have not entered as yet into your understanding; that history, time and human experience are against you; and, as a parting shot, that you are quacks, mountebanks, and mere thumpers on cracked pannikina.
