

This Book is dedicated to half a dozen groups of Little People—most of whom are White, but some are Black and some are Red—who live in the four States bordering on Lake Michigan. Their acquaintance has been, not alone one of my pleasantest recreations, but also one of my most profitable Nature Studies.