

And tell each polish'd land thy worth;
The ruder natives of the earth
Shall oft repeat thy honour'd name;
While infants catch the frequent sound,
And learn to lip the oral tale;
Whose fond remembrance shall prevail
Till Time has reach'd his destin'd bound.

F I N I S.