

Literary Notes

McCall's magazine for May opens with a beautiful colored plate, illustrating an exceedingly handsome walking costume. Opposite page 422 we find another beautiful colored plate, illustrating a lady's foulard silk costume.

Each month's issue is fairly dazzling with illustrations of patterns of the very latest and most exquisite fashion designs, and the May number is certainly in line with the high standard of excellence set by preceding excellence.

Each subscriber receives a free pattern of her own selection.

The magazine is published at 5c. a copy or 50c. a year—by The McCall Co., 138 to 146 W 14th St., New York.

An Immense Press Room.

Just 17,600 square feet of floor space are set apart for printing presses in the building just erected for the Ladies' Home Journal, it is in the rear of the present publication office, eight stories in height, and within a short time will be occupied by the mechanical departments of the magazine. The constant rapid growth of the Journal's circulation necessitated greatly extended facilities, for printing and mailing, and the new structure meets these demands, providing at the same time for future expansion in all departments. Specially designed presses, and all the most approved mechanical devices applied to printing are being added to the Journal's already extensive equipment. It is the aim to make this plant the finest in America.
