

A PAIR FOR EACH.

Jennie and Tom are two busy young people. They love to play and they love to work. They had just come in from a romp on the grass, when they found a nice ball of yarn, with two bright knitting-needles. Jennie said, "Now we will have a pair of mittens for each." "Just what we want," said Tom; "They will keep our hands warm on cool mornings." "And keep them from being sunburnt," said Jennie. "But first we must unroll the ball," Jennie added. Soon the yarn was spread all over the floor. "It is such nice fun to play with the yarn," Jennie said, "and we won't begin work just yet." "All right," said Tom, and they began galloping over the carpet, pulling the yarn this way and that way until it was in a mass of tangles. Just then grandina came in and the young rogues ran away as fast as they could.

Jesus is the best friend to have. He can always be with us; his eye ever sees us; his hand can protect, no matter where we may be.
