

THE CONNAUGHT RANGER'S CORNER.

DOINGS IN DIV. NO. 8.—The meeting of Division No. 8 on last Wednesday evening was very numerously attended, every seat was occupied and the greatest of enthusiasm prevailed. President Lavelle, presided and opened and closed the meeting in the Irish language. What a splendid example for the other presidents to follow. Fourteen new members were initiated and several applications received. The members contemplate purchasing a new piano for the use of the dramatic section, many of whom were present and rendered a choice selection of Irish National airs and recitations. Mr. J. J. Gething's interpretation of the "Switzerland's Dream," was excellent, as was also the "Scenes of Old Ireland," by Mr. W. J. McElroy. Several visiting brothers were present, and congratulated the members on the rapid strides they are making in coming to the front as the most progressive branch of the Order in the country.

The Hibernian band recently organized by the members, is already making good progress, and Prof. Broderick has been secured for weekly instructions. They expect to have their uniforms, and be ready to lead the annual church parade in November, which it is intended will be held at St. Mary's, as it is expected that the renovation of that beautiful edifice will be complete about that time.

Y. J. L. and B. A.—The monthly meeting of the Young Irishmen's Association was held on Wednesday evening in their hall on Dupre street, President Halley in the chair. The business before the meeting was in connection with the excursion on the steamer "Three Rivers," down the St. Lawrence, on Labor Day. As is usual on such occasions, a concert will be given by the dramatic section on the return. Every undertaking of this pioneer organization of young Irishmen is worthy of enthusiastic support. It has long been in the front rank battling for the rights of our nationality. The question of how the 25th anniversary is to be celebrated will be decided on at a special meeting called for that purpose sometime during the present month.

BRANCH NO. 10, C. M. B. A.—Grand Council of Quebec at its regular meeting held last Wednesday, transacted a large amount of important business. Secretary Mulvey states that this Branch is in a splendid working condition. "Jim" is good authority on such matters and his statement is beyond questioning.

LADIES' AUXILIARY, DIV. NO. 1, A. O. H.—Saturday, August 19th, is the day that Division No. 1, has decided to hold its first grand annual picnic to Bon de L'Isle Park, (weather permitting). The committee entrusted with the arrangements are working with a will, to make it the event of the season. A grand open air cake walk will be one of the many attractions. Casey's Orchestra and Mr. P. O'Brien, the Irish piper, have been secured for the occasion, and a good day's outing is promised the friends of the Auxiliary, that will be present. Only tickets with the Auxiliary stamp will admit to cake walk and can be had at the following places:

B. E. McGale, 2123 Notre Dame St.; T. White, 1917 Notre Dame St.; Mrs. Redmond, Notre Dame St.; Mrs. Martin, 2508 St. Catherine St.; Mr. Jas. King, St. Antoine St.; Mrs. Allen, 329 Laval Avenue; Miss Howland, 383 Wellington St.; Mrs. Ryan, 469 Magdalen St.; Mrs. Healey, 11 Chateaugay St.; Mrs. Mack, 62 Walker Avenue, St. Henri; Mrs. McMahon, Fulm. street; Mrs. O'Reilly, 214 Panet street; Mrs. McCullough, 48 Gain street; Miss Curran, 710 St. Dominique St.; B. Smith, St. Patrick's Hall; 92 St. Alexander street.

DIVISION NO. 5, A. O. H., held its regular meeting last week, a pretty fair attendance being present. Mr. M. Phelan presided. After initiating some new members, the committee's report on the advisability of holding a trolley drive was discussed and adopted. The date fixed is the 18th of the present month. It is the intention of the members to make it a splendid success, and there is no reason why it should not be, when bearing in mind that this branch covers a large area, having a great following in St. Anthony's, St. Gabriel's and St. Ann's parishes. A band will be in attendance.

A. O. H. CONSTITUTION.—Now that the "True Witness" has been made the organ of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of this county, it will not be out of place to discuss from week to week matters which deeply interest the members of that organization in general. As the members of the Order are working under the constitution which they are working under at the present time needs a thorough overhauling, it will therefore be my aim to point out, what, in my opinion, are its defects.

SPEAK A GOOD WORD FOR US.—The readers and admirers of the "True Witness," cannot aid that paper better than by patronizing the business men who advertise in its columns. When making a purchase don't forget to tell them you have seen their ad in its columns, don't be timid or ashamed to mention it.

It has stood the test of severest criticism, and except your are ashamed to acknowledge your religion or nationality, you should not be ashamed to discuss the worth of the good old Catholic journal.

NO. 3 TO HAVE A SAIL.—Division No. 3, A.O.H., held its regular meeting on Wednesday evening in their hall, 1863 Notre Dame street, President Gallagher presiding. The principal topic was the excursion down the St. Lawrence, on the 23rd of this month. Complete arrangements have been made for the affair, and the committee is very sanguine about the result. All indications point to its being the most successful function held under the auspices of this popular branch. Those wishing to secure stateroom tickets should do so at once. I have already signified my intention of being on "deck" and will carry a "Kodak." Other matters of interest to the members of the Division were discussed and a committee appointed to draft resolutions of condolence to be tendered Vice-President McGoldrick, on the death of his father.

PERSONAL NOTES.—Amongst the prominent Irishmen who attended the recent demonstration at St. Gabriel's Hall, to protest against the caricaturing of the Irish race, were two men actively connected with every Irish movement in this city for many years, and whose names were unfortunately omitted from last issue. They were Mr. Patrick Rafferty, that whole souled Irishman from Hochelaga, and Mr. W. H. Turner of St. Lawrence street, one of the most popular and respected members of the A. O. H. in this city.

THE BANNER DIVISION.—The regular meeting of Division No. 1, A.O.H., was held on Wednesday evening in their spacious quarters on Place d'Armes Square, President Hugh McMorrow presiding. Matters of general interest were discussed. A notable feature of the meeting was the many propositions received from intending Hibernians. The "True Witness" has a steadfast friend in this Division, in the person of Mr. B. Feeney, who always has a good word to say for the good Catholic organ. The delegates from the Division of the County Board, will ask permission from that body to hold their annual entertainment on the twenty-third of November, the anniversary of the execution of the Manchester Martyrs. The entertainments held yearly, on this said anniversary, by the members of the pioneer Division are of a high standard.

The celebration this year promises to surpass all previous occasions.

A GOOD MARSHAL.—Mr. John

Tivnan, Marshal of Division No. 9, A. O. H., on whom such favorable comment was made, during the parade two weeks ago, is, practically speaking, a "green horn," being only out from the old land a couple of years. He is a splendid horseman, and learned everything pertaining to the handling of a restless steed on the Plains of Boyle, in dear old Roscommon. There is every probability of his being elected Grand Marshal of the United Irish Societies for next St. Patrick's Day. He comes of a good old stock, and is highly connected in this city.

THE BARK IS HEALTHY.—The regular meeting of Division No. 9, A.O. H., was held on Wednesday evening, in the York Chambers, St. Catherine Street, President Hannan presiding. Ten new members were initiated and six applications received. The general routine of business was transacted and several interesting matters discussed. The following committees were elected:

Finance, P. J. Gordon, chairman, A. Hanley and J. B. Shahan.
Standing, M. Kinsella, M. Gahan, M. Egan and W. Skelly.
Sick, J. Tivnan, F. Larkin and M. Kinsella.
Messrs. Birmingham of No. 1, and O'Neill, of No. 6, paid a friendly visit to the Division and towards the close of the meeting the County President dropped in. A very pleasant hour was spent after the meeting, at which songs and stories of the old land were the order of the hour. The members are to be congratulated on the splendid quarters they have secured, and the baby shows signs already of donning the knicks.

GIVE US A DAILY PAPER.—This is the all absorbing topic of the hour, in Irish Catholic circles. It is discussed in the public thoroughfares, and in fact every place where any Irish cluster of our compatriots congregates. Why not make the "True Witness," a daily has been the question put to me several of times during the past two weeks. Well, I answer, such a thing is possible. But our people have too many irons in the fire at the present moment. I have done my utmost to inaugurate a movement having for its aim the creation of a National Daily, but I am of opinion now, that this, and many of the other projects under consideration at present, are not as important to our welfare, socially and commercially, as well as in regard to our interests in the public affairs of this country generally, as the subject first mentioned.

This question of a daily paper is a vital one, and until the Irishmen and Irishwomen too, young and old, realize this fact, they may expect nothing but ostracism and injustice at the hands of other sections of the community.

SIX IS DOING WELL.—The regular meeting of Division No. 6, on Wednesday evening, was the most important held since the Division was organized, some two years ago. President J. B. Lane presided. After initiating four new members, the principal discussion was on the excursion to Cornwall on Labor Day, a lacrosse match, the first of its kind between members of two divisions, the challenged branch being No. 7, of Point St. Charles. Other features of the excursion will be a grand tug of war, high jumping, racing and dancing. The mainly stand of Rev. Father Fallon, of Ottawa, was discussed and delegates instructed to bring the matter to the notice of the County Board. The Division is very prosperous and has now a qualified membership of two hundred and fifteen.

PILGRIMAGE TO OKA.—St. Ann's Catholic Young Men's Society has under contemplation the advisability of running a pilgrimage to Oka, on Labor Day, if so, there is no question but it will be a very successful affair, as the patrons of this popular society are legion.

CONNAUGHT RANGER

support of all the readers of the "True Witness."

ENERGY AND ENTHUSIASM.—Doubtless many readers of the "True Witness" are acquainted with one or more men, young or old, who belong to the never-do-well class, who are nearly all the time out of employment, and who complain that they cannot get any work to do. If these people would only sit down and think, or ask somebody else to sit down and think for them, the result would be the discovery of some practical means of earning a livelihood. Here is an illustration. The sponge cakes of Berwick, Maine, were once famous all over New England; and the history of the origin of the industry is a curious one.

About 1845 an employee of the Boston and Maine Railroad named William C. Briggs, had the misfortune to be caught in an accident, and lost one leg. The company were somehow to blame, and when he threatened a suit they were more than willing to settle the matter out of court. Various offers were made to him, but he would accept none of them. At last he made this proposal: "If the company would start a restaurant at Berwick, and place him in charge of it, agreeing to stop every train before his door for five minutes, he would not institute proceedings." This was agreed to, and the restaurant was started. Mrs. Briggs was one cook in a thousand, and her meals were already well known to the patrons of the road, when she set her brain at work and invented a new kind of sponge cake. She was famous before; she was immortal now. That sponge cake was lighter and sweeter and more delicate than any other known in history, and it sold. Every one passing through Berwick bought some, whether he wanted it or not. It came in enormous loaves enclosed in wooden boxes, and the wealthy bought these. For slimmer purses portions were sold of graduated sizes down to the single mouthful wrapped in tissue paper for ten cents. Restaurants in distant cities served it, and regular shipments were made to New York and Boston. Others tried to imitate it but failed. The secret of its making was kept religiously. Every batch that went into the oven was mixed by Mrs. Briggs's own hands, and behind closed doors. Even now nothing is known of the process, beyond the fact that a churn was used for beating the innumerable eggs which went into its composition.

Of course the restaurant prospered. It was before the days of dining-cars, and passengers from Eastport and Portland had good appetites when they reached North Berwick.

WINDOW DRESSING in large stores has come to be quite an art, as any reader of the "True Witness" may realize by looking at the windows of any of the large dry goods and other firms who advertise in our columns. Formerly the arrangement of the windows of a shop, as of the shelves, counters, and interior divisions, was a matter of no great concern. Goods intended to be sold were placed where they were most accessible for the salesman and the customer, and it was usual to display in the windows, without much regard for artistic symmetry of arrangement, such fabrics as were either very new in design very cheap, very much in demand, by the people, very rare, of which the establishment had on hand a very large or varied supply.

By degrees, however, as the standard of public taste in articles of apparel or furnishing has improved, in a steadily cheapening and broadening market, and as the ingenuity of manufacturers has been more generally recognized, professional "window dressers," exclusively employed on account of their proficiency in trimming shop windows, have found a place, and there is now some competition for their services.

An expert window dresser must have a keen eye for artistic effect, for the contrasting and blending of colors, for the effects of light and shade on furniture and fabrics, and for the carrying of taste in fashions or of fashions in taste. A successful window dresser says:

"He must be a carpenter, an upholsterer, an artist, and an electrician. Of the building of frames to hang goods on he must have practical knowledge. He must know what to drape on them when built, and how to arrange goods so that passersby will be attracted. He must know how to arrange the lights for night displays, and a window, as dressed, must be appropriate to the season of the year and the tastes of the customers, regular or transient, of the establishment."

ROGUE'S ADVERTISING.—The extent to which bogus advertising is carried on is almost incredible. A New York paper recently contained an advertisement calling for a hundred men to work on a railroad in some part of the State, giving as the address to which applicants were to apply, the upper portion of a saloon and requesting the men to bring their baggage with them. The result was that a crowd of men assembled in front of the place, unable to obtain any information from the proprietor inside. On the outside a blackboard bore an announcement similar to the one which appeared in the paper, adding the prices $1.25 to $1.75 per day for different grades of work. One man was given to understand that they were to go at eleven o'clock. But at three o'clock they were still there, uncertain and bewildered. Many of the men, tired of waiting outside went into the saloon and bought beer with the little money they still had; and those with no money were treated by their more fortunate comrades. It was simply a trick to bring custom.

SOME RECENT FATALITIES.

THE UNCERTAINTY OF HUMAN LIFE, and the necessity of constant spiritual preparedness, for the awful summons from time to eternity, are borne in upon us by the fatal accidents which are daily chronicled in the newspapers. The fatalities have been more than usually numerous during the past few days; and it is to be seriously hoped that the lesson they convey will not lose any of its force because of our familiarity with similar terrible occurrences through the medium of the press.

THE CAR ACCIDENT.—On Sunday afternoon last a crowded street car went over a trestle bridge near Bridgeport, Conn., falling into a pond forty feet below. Twenty-nine persons were instantly killed, and several more injured more or less severely, some of whom may die. What adds to the tragic nature of this terrible accident is that a large number of the ill-fated passengers were singing with rejoicing hearts, the weather being fine, the landscape pretty, and the ride enjoyable.

THE GANGWAY GAVE WAY.—On the same day a number of excursionists whose thoughts were, it is fair to assume, as far as possible from death, fell into the water at Mount Desert, Maine ferry, while boarding a steamer, the gang plank giving way owing to the nuts in the iron bars underneath it having gradually and finally fallen out. Those who fell into the water had all chance of escape cut off, being pinned in on three sides by the piling on the wharf and on the fourth side by the boat. At least 20 perished, the exact number being difficult to ascertain, as a number of bodies were carried away with the tide. The excursionists were on their way to Bar Harbor.

A RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—On the previous day seventeen people were instantly killed and nearly sixty injured in a railway accident in France, the cause being a collision.

A STEAMER BURNED.—From Manilla comes the intelligence that an American steamer there had been burned, with all on board.

JUMPED THE RAILS.—On Wednesday a terrible railroad accident occurred when the Canada Atlantic Express, which left Montreal in the morning for Ottawa, jumped the track at St. Polycarpe, which is near Coteau, and had wrecked the major portion of the train, which was composed of baggage car, a couple of parlor cars, an Intercolonial coach, and a sleeper. When the engine jumped the track it fell on its side and upset the tender, while all the cars but the last two left the rails and were piled up on the locomotive. The scene that ensued was painful and heartrending beyond description, and resulted in the loss of six lives and injury to a number of other passengers.

The list of dead and injured is as follows:

THE DEAD.—George McCuaig, fireman, Ottawa East.
Edward Starns, Bay Street, Ottawa.
Wilson O'Connor, in company with Starns.
Joseph Echeleau, Champlain St., Montreal.
Mrs. Rocheland, Champlain Street, Montreal.
Bridget Ryan, Maniwaki.
THE INJURED.—Ellen McElroy, Maniwaki, burned, will recover.
Ellen Ryan, Maniwaki, burned, hands and face.

INCREASE OF LUNACY.—Added to all these horrors comes the fifth report of the English Commissioners in Lunacy, which notes an appalling increase in that dread mental malady in which reason is destroyed and the victims are condemned to a life that is less tolerable than death itself. It is in England and Wales that the increase has occurred, over 3,000 cases having been notified into the asylums since last year, this being the largest number ever yet known in any year. The total number of lunatics in the country named being 105,988 at the beginning of the present year.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE.—At the last meeting of Division No. 1, A. O. H., the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, that the officers and members of Division No. 1, the Ancient Order of Hibernians, extend to Brother M. McGoldrick, our worthy Vice-President, their sincerest sympathy in the sad bereavement he has sustained by the death of his respected father, the late P. McGoldrick, and that this resolution be published in the "True Witness."

A DAY OF PILGRIMAGE.—The zealous director of the League of the Sacred Heart, in St. Patrick's Parish, Rev. Father Driscoll has fixed upon the 24th inst., for another pilgrimage to the famous shrine at Loretto. The reliable and commodious steamer "Three Rivers" has been secured for the trip, and the fare is placed at a figure within the reach of everyone.

That the parishioners should turn out in force and enthusiastically second the efforts of their director in his endeavor to carry on the good work of the League, is to our mind a matter of duty. Father Driscoll has been untiring in his endeavors to extend its membership, and it is greatly trying to know that he has been most successful. Every family, in the parish, should send, at least, one member.

SOME NOTES ON BUSINESS MATTERS.

BANK SUSPENSIONS.

We are not of those who sit down to write haphazard sensational articles concerning "runs" on the banks or any of the other numerous features that have marked the recent panics which have been caused by the unfortunate suspension of payment on the part of some of our local banks, which their directors deemed advisable in the interest of the creditors as a whole.

But we say that the time has arrived when something must be done to render impossible these disastrous bank suspensions, and also to give to the class of people most deeply interested in the banking business the representation, direct or indirect, to which they are entitled, or at least the protection that the country by which these banks are chartered, owes to them as a matter of plain duty. Glancing over the latest report issued by the Federal Government regarding the condition of the chartered banks of the Dominion—that of June—we observe that the total subscribed capital of the banks in the five leading provinces of Canada amounts in round numbers to $64,000,000, while the total deposits amount to $258,000,000. These figures prove that the shareholders, whose interest is only one quarter that of the depositors, have the supreme direction, or at least the appointment of the directors and managers, in their own hands, while those who have four times as much money at stake in the banks have no voice whatever in the administration of these financial institutions.

There can be no question about the proposition that no bank should be allowed to do business in Canada, no matter what its financial strength might be, unless on condition that its books should be at all times open to the examination of duly qualified government inspectors, with a thorough knowledge of finance and commerce in all their details and ramifications.

Look at our civil service. A glance at the Auditor-General's report appals one at the number of inspectors in the customs, inland revenue, Post Office, and other departments, many of whom, as in the case of the customs, are clothed with powers which gives them the right to enter commercial establishments for the purpose of making an investigation. This is a very grave question, and one that should immediately occupy the attention of the Government at Ottawa.

STRIKES OUT FOR HIMSELF.—Mr. J. H. Feeley, for nearly a quarter of a century foreman at Simpson, Hall, Miller & Co's, has decided to embark in business for himself. We are glad that such is the case, because Mr. Feeley is an Irish Catholic, and because it always gives us pleasure to see our people going into business for themselves. As may be inferred from his long service with this well-known establishment, Mr. Feeley is conversant with all branches of the manufacture of silver and jewellery in general, as well as with the art of electroplating. He deserves well of our people, for he has, ever since he took up his residence in Montreal, occupied prominent positions in our national and temperance societies. He also took a very great interest in the Catholic Sailors' Club, at the time of its foundation by the Catholic Truth Society. We bespeak for Mr. Feeley the
